OPENING ADDRESS.

The Character of the Late ex-President Loomis.

Dr. Harris fittingly remembers the Life of One of Bucknell's Most Devoted Servants.

President Harris delivered the opening address of the term on Monday morning. He spoke of some lessons from the life and character of a man to whom Bucknell owes more than to any other individual; for while it is named, and fittingly enough after the man who gave it the most money, it is also true that the men who give to it their lives, give still more precious gifts, and of all those who have labored in its behalf, and there have been many, there is no one to whom this institution owes more or who has more deeply impressed himself upon its character than President Justin Robt. Loomis, Ph. D., LL.D. For 25 years he was connected with the institution, two years as professor in Natural Science and twenty-three years as President. His presidential term being almost equal to that of all the other officers put together.

Just as the year closed, while we were having our Commencement Festivities, what might be called a happy coincidence, as if his work also were finished and he were called upon to graduate, to go up higher, he passed away. Judge McClure in submitting resolutions after his death said that he was not able to write what ought to be written of such a man. It is no easy matter to set forth properly the character of a man such as he was.

His education was obtained in the Hamilton Literary Institution since developed into Colgate University, and afterwards at Brown, where he graduated in the class of 1835. He then became professor in Waterville College and very soon impressed himself upon the young men there and the people of that State as a man of unusual strength and force of character, a certain balance strength and reserve force which is remembered until to-day. While at Waterville he had two pupils of very different mental and moral make up and in whom he was very much interested. The one Martin B. Anderson, for twenty-five years President of Rochester Seminary, and the other Gen. Benj. F. Butler. He held the respect and entire sympathy of both men so widely different, thus showing the breadth of his character. There are men of strength who are strong while moving along narrow lines but Dr. Loomis was not a narrow man but a broad man with very great force and energy. He came here in 1854 and retired from the University in January, 1879.

One thing that impressed a person upon meeting Dr. Loomis was his physical strength and force. He was impressive in bearing although not of unusual build. This force does not always depend upon the size where bulk is not impressive. There must be the feeling also of strength and mastery in the person or else mere bulk conveys rather a feeling of weakness.

He had a certain air of repose which is essential to this feeling of physical power and impressiveness. He was at ease, quiet and firm in his movements. His mind controlled his body.

Again he was careful of himself. This is a very important point and too much neglected. Careful of his health and personal appearance. Next always and giving the impression of being prepared, ready. This cannot be put on for the occasion, the repose of manner. It must be always ready.

Another thing that struck one was his strength of will. His very make up was an expression of force. With this will he had courage. A man cannot be a man of great will naturally unless he really has courage and this courage Dr. Loomis had both physically and mentally. He had a well grounded confidence in his own powers. This is one object of a liberal education, so that a man may know what he can do and also what he cannot do. That is to get a measure which is the basis of a real modesty.

Dr. Loomis had moral courage, that is courage, among other things, to take the responsibility and to bear the blame which is always connected with taking responsibility. He was altogether too large a man to shift the burden on other shoulders or lay the blame on somebody else.

Another characteristic was that of giving unstinted praise and credit to others. He had no desire for personal glory. This is a type which we can do well to set before us and to imitate.

Give credit and praise to others especially our associates if we have any.

Another characteristic was in respect to his work and plans. Everything was thought out and when his mind was made up the plan was carried out. He was a man who did not make a decision off hand if he could help it. Students were always asked to call again to impress them with the

THE FIRST GAME.

Bucknell Defeats Wyoming
Team, 6-0.

No Marvelous Playing but a Good Clean Game—Our Goal at no Time in Danger—Schedule of Games.

The College Eleven beat the Wyoming Seminary team Saturday afternoon by the score of 6-0. It was the second line up for our Eleven, Friday night being the first. Neither team did any brilliant playing, but the game was steady, the ball being in Wyoming's territory throughout both halves. Bucknell's goal at no time was in danger. The offensive work of our Eleven was very effective, good gains being made through Wyoming's line and around the ends. In the first half Bucknell was on the five yard line of Wyoming, the signal being changed from line tackling to end running, the ball was lost and removed from Wyoming's goal by a kick.

The team needs considerable coaching and hard training to defeat the opponents whom they will line up against, as every game will be worth winning and will take much to make a success of the season.

Riemer was appointed Captain by the Executive Committee for the game. Jenkinson, who was elected captain last year, will play on the Dickinson Eleven this year. A captain will be elected some time before the State game. The defensive work will receive good attention in this week's practice. Riemer scored the touch-down in the second half and Mathewson succeeded in kicking the goal. The line-up follows:

Wyoming.	Position.	Bucknell.
Billings	center	Ammerman
Potts	right guard	Thomas
Leader	left tackle	Weymouth
Anderson	right tackle	Thompson
Walters	right end	Ward
Gendall	quarter-back	Garner
Keller	left half-back	Stanton
William	right half-back	Herman
Blakeley	full-back	Mathewson

Officials, Cober, umpire; Jennings, referee; Rowe, timekeeper; line-men, Hollinshead and Johnstone. Touchdown, Riemer. Goal, Mathewson.

FOOT-BALL SCHEDULE.

Oct. 1st, Co. C. Team	Bradford
Oct. 8th, Naval Cadets	Annapolis
Oct. 15th, Univ. of Md.
Oct. 22nd, Swarthmore	Lewisburg
Oct. 29th, Lehigh	Bethlehem

Nov. 5th, State	Williamsport
Nov. 12th, F & M	Reading
Nov. 19th, Lafayette	Easton
Nov. 24th,	Villa Nova

A game will probably be scheduled with Columbian University at Lewisburg in Oct. The University of Md. will no doubt be played at Shamokin and a special cheap rate excursion run from Lewisburg on the P. & R. if a sufficient number can be gotten to warrant it.

FOOT-BALL NOTES.

Mathewson, the full-back, formerly played on the Keystone Academy team at Factoryville. He put up a very aggressive game and from present indications will do good work during this season.

Thomas, who played left guard in Saturday's game, showed up well at his position.

Stanton, at left half-back, made good advances and has speed.

Herman, at right half-back, circled the ends with splendid success.

From present indications the outlook is bright for a winning team, but it is yet too early in the season to make any prophecy. What is wanted is a good scrub team and financial support.

A new venture this year was tried in bringing back the candidates before College opened. It was for the best as the men individually were in good trim to play Wyoming, but team work was lacking. The material is here but it requires development.

Our College Glee.

The College Glee and Mandolin Clubs held their annual meeting for the election of officers last Saturday morning in Bucknell Hall. Never before has B. U. had as much material as now. Dr. Aviragnet, who has the success of the club at heart, met with them and tried the voices of new men. The result of the election was as follows: Leader of the Glee Club, Mr. John A. Hague; Leader of the Mandolin Club, Mr. George Shilling; Business Manager, Mr. George Shilling; Asst. Business Manager, Mr. William Purdy. There will be at least three voices on each part. The number of men has not yet been fully decided as there are some who failed to make application on Saturday. The prospects of the clubs are most encouraging. Let every student who can sing or play not hesitate to make it known to the leader or manager so that we can make use of you and make our Glee a roaring success.

Harris and Bower, '96, are in town awaiting the expiration of their furloughs and muster out of Uncle Sam's service.

Note to New Men, and to Older Men As Well.

Amid the usual bustle we notice that the new students are thinking of class organization and we understand that the Freshmen intend to hold an class meeting Saturday morning at 9.15, place to be announced later. We wish to call the attention of all the classes to the following extracts from the constitution governing the Executive Board which elects the Manager and Editors of this paper:

ARTICLE III. DIRECTORS.

Sec I. This paper shall be managed by a "Board of Directors," twelve in number.

Sec II. Every student of the College shall have a voice in choosing the "Directors."

Sec III. Representation in the "Board of Directors" shall be as follows: one "Director" shall be chosen from and by each General Greek Letter Fraternity having an active, chartered chapter at Bucknell; two "Directors" shall be chosen from and by the Senior Class of the College; two "Directors" shall be chosen from and by the Junior Class of the College; one "Director" shall be chosen from and by the Sophomore Class of the College; one "Director" shall be chosen from and by the Freshman Class of the College. No member of a General Greek Letter Fraternity having an active, chartered chapter at Bucknell shall represent his class in the "Board of Directors."

Also:

ARTICLE IV. TERM OF OFFICE. The term of office of a "Director" shall be one year.

ARTICLE V. TIME OF CHOOSING. Regular.

Sec I. "Directors" shall be chosen by the classes in the second week of the first term.

Sec II. "Directors" shall be chosen by the fraternities in the second week of the second term.

Special.

Sec III. Any vacancy in the "Board of Directors" shall be filled by the body losing representation, within one week after formal notification of the vacancy, from the "Board of Directors."

Sec IV. If any organization fails to select a representative within one week after notification of the vacancy, the "Board of Directors" shall choose a member from that organization to represent it for the unexpired term.

When we enter into a new life or a new relation it behooves us to hasten and become acquainted as far as it lies in our power with our new surroundings. Can you do this in a better way than by subscribing for The Orange and Blue the college weekly newspaper which will endeavor to serve up to all the best and most newsy items of daily college life? Students, do not fall into the error spoken of by Dr. Harris—don't allow yourself to become a slave to the world of the past. Be broader than that and keep yourselves always alive to the interests and doings of your fellow-students by subscribing immediately. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Institute Items.

Classes are all arranged and work moving on as smoothly as though vacation had not been.

About thirty college girls are in the building this year, of whom a goodly number are Freshmen.

Miss Wood, the former art teacher, has returned to her old position, much to the delight of her friends.

Miss Knox and Miss Hall are the two new music teachers who take the place of Miss Crawford and Miss Pretzman.

Mrs. Heims' friends miss her from her accustomed place in the Sem. and all unite in wishing her much joy in her new life.

The face of Amanda Miller is one of the missing ones in the dining room, she having taken unto herself a husband and home of her own.

The first "At Home" of the year will be held in the Institute parlors on Monday evening, October 3, from 4 to 6 P. M. All of the students are cordially invited.

The year at the Institute has opened very successfully and the increase in the number of boarders is very noticeable, there being scarcely a vacant room in the building.

The first of the weekly prayer meetings of the Y. W. C. A. will be held on Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock. Miss Wheeler will be the leader and arrangements for an especially interesting meeting have been made.

All the girls are much pleased with the change in the appearance of the rooms in the Main Building. New paper and paint make them much more cheerful and the folding beds have received a hearty welcome.

Sunday's Afternoon Meeting.

Mr. Bard addressed the young men of the University Sunday afternoon, taking as his theme "God's Love."

He said that Love was an attribute of all our lives and pointed to compare God's love and man's love. He said that life was the greatest gift of human love but that divine love gave an only son, a greater gift.

His address was divided into three heads: First, Why does God love us? Second, Why was God's love so great? and Third, What is the result of God's love? The meeting was very interesting and profitable to all present.

Registrar Wm. C. Gretzinger, Captain of the Roland Stoughton Camp, Sons of Veterans, delivered the address of welcome to Co. A, 12th Regt. on their return last week.

The foot ball game between State College and Gettysburg, on the grounds of the former, on Saturday resulted in a defeat for Gettysburg. Score 47-0.

OPENING ADDRESS.

He was a man of depth. He would grasp the central principle and then correlate everything about it. He was a thinker and not a gatherer of facts, illustrations and opinions. His knowledge was his own and of his own observations. His illustrations were the same. Every place had some interest to attract him and his aim was to study and understand anything new. His knowledge had a certain reality that came from his continual contact with things, and he kept this up after his retirement from presidency by becoming a reader.

Another characteristic was clearness. He understood the matter himself and made it clear to others. He followed everything through to the finish and understood its bearing and then he did not fall into the fault of nearly all teachers, he was not a talker in the class room. A student could. If he stumbled he could stumble and if he fell he could get up again. This developed the powers of the student.

He was a man of faith; that is entire confidence in the power of principle and truth. He felt it so completely that it did not seem necessary for him to say it but he went all the time acting upon the principle that right would come out right and that fraud and cheating would surely in the end come to confusion.

And he had faith in God. He was distinctively a religious man. He had faith in God as the righteous and that was the permanent thought in his mind, his preserving idea and his conception that the ruler of the universe is as righteous as God is holy and that to be honest and right and true is the end of life.

GREETING.

The Y. M. C. A. Reception.
One of the first things that a student must do upon entering a school is to make new acquaintances and learn new names. The Young Men's Christian Association has realized this fact and has endeavored to aid the new students in becoming acquainted with each other and with the old students by giving a reception at the beginning of the fall term of each year.

The reception given on last Saturday evening was a delightful affair and those who were present went away feeling that they had been both instructed and entertained.

The men began to assemble promptly at the appointed hour and soon many could be seen talking with those whom they had met for the first time. After about three quarters of an hour spent in this social way, Mr. Hazen, the President, called for order and then took up a regular program which was well rendered. The program consisted of music and speaking. The musicians of the evening were Messrs. Shilling, Sterling and Weymouth. The speakers were Dr. Harris and Sec. Bard.

Dr. Harris gave one of his characteristic addresses and delighted his appreciative audience. He spoke upon the subject of "Opportunity" and showed how that the young men of to-day were greatly blessed by being given such great opportunities. He said that our educational opportunities were far in advance of those presented to the student of thirty years ago, and that more would be expected from us. He told us not to take any notice of the "funny man's" remarks about the conceited college man as it was the non-college man who was the conceited man for he thought that he was able to do as good a work without a college training. He said that our government at the present time was offering great opportunities for the development of statesmanship, that we as young men should take an interest in the affairs of the nation.

Dr. Harris closed his address by saying that the advance made in religious interest was one of the greatest marks of improvement which we have to-day.

Mr. Bard said that he was not a college man and expressed his realization of his loss. The theme of Mr. Bard's address was, It is good always to be jealously affected in a good cause.

After providing this feast for the mind, a feast for the body was given in the provision made for refreshments which were then served. The college and class yells were given, bringing to a close the exercises of the evening.

Seminary Reception.

The usual reception of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Institute parlors on Saturday evening last. The evening was an unusually pleasant one and very much enjoyed by every one present. The girls were met at the door by members of the reception committee and each given a card, on which was written a list of questions entitled "Suggestions from a Watch." A merry time of guessing these followed and then the "Klondyke Gold Fields" were opened when each girl was given a shovel and bade to dig for but one nugget. After everyone had secured their nuggets, refreshments of cocoa and wafers were served. One of the most enjoyable features of the reception was a vocal solo by Miss Knox, the new teacher of vocal. A zither solo by Miss Gregory, one of the new girls, was much admired. The evening closed with the singing of College songs and music.

Academy Reception.
On Friday evening of last week occurred the regular Y. M. C. A. reception for new students, held in the Principal's office. The evening was spent in a pleasant and homelike manner. The main object was to get acquainted and learn the names of all the new fellows.

Prof. Kauffman, in his usual quiet manner gave a very interesting account of his trip in Europe this summer. His talk led the audience through some of the large cities which he visited, describing the novel fresh milk "wagons" of Paris, and thrilling account of the ascent and descent of a mountain.

Mr. Edwards favored the gathering with instrumental music in a pleasing manner, after which Prof. Fithian rendered several readings and Mr. Sterling gave the audience much delight by his skill on the banjo. Refreshments and the singing of songs closed the evening's festivities.

A TIE GAME.

Neither Side Scored in a Fast Contest.

Bradford's Strong Team Easily Broken Through by Our Boys—A Battle From Start to Finish.

Although wearied by the extremely tiresome trip to Bradford last Saturday Bucknell's eleven put up the greatest game of ball that was ever played at Bradford.

The townspeople expected a sure victory as they considered twenty-four pounds difference in average weight would insure a victory for their town. The local team is composed of college men with the exception of the centre and "Eddie" Hoffman who is well known in this place.

At 3:30 Stuart kicked off, Matthews getting the ball and returning the kick. The game was one continual battle from start to finish, marked by the line rushes of our boys; the heavy "Co. C" line men were not able to stop our backs, who went through for a five yard gain in nearly every onslaught.

In the second half Bucknell had the kick off. The ball was returned by Matthews, Co. C losing it on four downs. Reimer made a run around the end and got the ball into Bradford's territory where it stayed until time was called.

The Varsity boys made continual gains and it was not long before the ball was one-half yard from Bradford's goal. It looked very much as if at last, after two years of large zeros to the credit of their opponents, the favorite would receive a defeat, but fortune favored them and the ball was lost on a fumble, Stuart kicking the ball from the dangerous line.

The ball was quickly rushed back to the five yard line, but was again lost and time soon called. Taking the great difference of weight into account and considering the old college men on Co. C's team, our boys put up a game which the Bradford enthusiasts credited to us as a victory. The treatment received was the finest and had Bucknell's eleven remained over night at Bradford, they would have owned the town.

The line-up was as follows:

Cober Re-Elected Captain.

On Tuesday a meeting of the last year's foot-ball men eligible for the captaincy, was called by President ex-officio, manager Kress. Without much discussion, Cober was re-elected to the position unanimously. This settles all fears and places affairs on a more firm basis, as Captain Cober has had the experience of two years and is perfectly able to lead by the respect which he commands by his disposition and character and also his ability to play the game.

Class Meetings.

The election of officers for the Senior Class took place in Room 2, last Saturday morning and the following is the list of the successful candidates: Pres., Miss Sharpless; Vice Pres., Mr. Kentz; Secretary, Mr. Robbins; Treasurer, Miss Watkins. Messrs. Buckminster and Levan were re-appointed as Senior Class directors of THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

Freshman Class Meeting.

The first meeting of 1902 was called to order at 9:15 last Saturday morning, Mr. Simpson, temporary chairman. The following officers were elected: Pres., Elliott; Vice Pres., Gray; Sec., Miss Wylie, Pitts, Treas., and Simpson, ORANGE AND BLUE Director. The meeting adjourned until Saturday morning, Oct. 8.

Orange and Blue Directors.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors of The Orange and Blue on Thursday afternoon October 6, at 5 o'clock in Theta Alpha Hall. Election of officers and of editors and business manager will be held.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church, of Lewisburg, will give its annual reception to new students on next Saturday evening. From experience we can say that this is one of the most delightful of the year's social events which belong to the University, for the society is mainly a Bucknell one.

A Bucknell Graduate Appointed to a Responsible Position.

President McKinley on Monday appointed Dr. David J. Hill, of Rochester, N. Y., First Assistant Secretary of State, to succeed John B. Moore, who recently resigned the position. Dr. Hill is in Holland at present, but has accepted the appointment and is expected to return at once to assume his new duties. Dr. Hill was connected with Bucknell University from 1874 to 1888, when he resigned to accept the Presidency of Rochester University, which position he holds at the present time. He is a scholar of ability and is particularly talented in the matters relating to international law. For a number of years past Dr. Hill has taken an active part in politics. During the campaign of 1896 he delivered many addresses favoring the election of McKinley.

Jas. E. B. Parker, ex-1901, is assistant editor of the Mahanoy City Record.

Literary Societies.

On last Friday evening the two Literary Societies held their first meeting of the year. Quite a goodly number of new members were received.

Theta Alpha devoted its evening to reception of new members, reports of committees and election of officers. The following were elected: Pres. C. F. Shipman, Vice Pres., I. A. DeWitt, Sec. Ed. Reed, Treas., G. M. Robbins, Critic, Meserve, Censor Trax, Curator, Myers.

Epsilon having held their election last June were able to present the following program: Essay, "The Chinese Question," Reilly "Current Events," Ballentine Debate: Resolved, That the United States should claim and hold the Philippines. Affirmative: Pease, Robbins. Negative: Carringer, Knoble.

After a general debate and the appointing of a committee to see new students the meeting adjourned.

In both meetings the attendance was encouraging, but leaves much to be hoped for. Let all come out to the regular meetings of the Society expecting to be benefitted thereby.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.
The Bible Study Committee wishes to call attention again to the classes which have been formed for systematic study of the bible. All the classes will be conducted by competent teachers and no one should fail to attend some one of them. Mr. Fithian, '98, has been proposed to teach the Freshman Class.

Messrs. Hazen, Harvey, Purdy, Hague, Meisler and Meserve conducted a missionary service at the Baptist Church of Milton on last Sunday evening.

Thomas Morris will lead the meeting on Tuesday evening.

The subject is, "All-around men wanted." Remember that the Y. M. C. A. always extends you a welcome to its meetings and bible classes.

The Glee Club.

The College Glee Club which met with such success last year has again been organized, and under the leadership of Mr. Hague promises to eclipse all former attempts along this line. The trial of candidates was conducted by Dr. Aviragnet, in Bucknell Hall, on Sept. 24, and the following men were selected: First tenor, Messrs. Hague, R. G. Stanton and Johnson; second tenor, Schilling, Keen, Theis and Griffith; 1st bass Mulford, Davis and Sherwood; second base, Peacock, Purdy and Meshter.

This organization includes also a Mandolin and Guitar Club, under the leadership of Mr. Schilling, so that the programs shall consist of both instrumental and vocal music. All business communications should be addressed to Mr. Schilling.

No matter what the vocation in life we intend to follow, we all shall come in active contact with men, and the ability to put clearly, forcibly and logically what we have to say will be no small factor in determining our success. That a lamentably large portion cannot think clearly and put their thoughts in good forcible English when before an audience is a fact too evident to admit of denial. Now to give this very training is the chief purpose of a literary society and we think, at this beginning of a new school year, nothing of more importance could be brought to the attention of the old and especially the new students, than the university Literary Societies.

The advantage of a college education lies not so much in what may be remembered from books but rather in the acquisition of power to think clearly, to reason accurately. In bringing about this result, we believe the Literary Society, if rightly employed, will contribute as much as any other one line of college work.

In discussing the many questions which are presented, in the analysis and presentation of debates in the society, each one is urged to do his best for he knows that, according to what he does, will be the criticism and judgment of his worth on the part of the others. He is broadened through hearing the same question discussed from several standpoints and in being roused from ruts into which he may have fallen.

Again, the ability to feel at ease when before an audience, to think clearly without becoming "rattled" is not given most of us by nature but must be acquired by practice, and no better opportunity to attain this power is given than in the literary society.

That this work is of importance is shown by the recent action of the faculty in allowing the student credit for work in debate when an analysis is handed in to the proper instructor.

The objection is often raised that the student has not time to attend the society on account of the Saturday morning recitations, yet this work is surely of enough importance to be looked upon as part of the regular college work for which it pays him to take.

There are many who realize only when they have left college what opportunities they had and failed to use. Consider now whether you can afford to neglect this side of college life.

The best College is that one which turns out men who have gained symmetrical development.

But we will not go into a long discussion of the evils of too much growth in one direction due to the principles which some students allow to govern them. The subject has been talked over, discussed and relished ad nauseam, yet there is room for advice to all to think seriously before casting aside the Bible study course outlines which the Y. M. C. A. distributed during the past week. Surely in them are shown excellent studies for the student when it comes time for him to rest his mind by turning from the routine and grind of regular work to another, and we think, a more pleasant activity that of Bible study. Still do not patronize the Bible study to the exclusion of the other meetings of the Association, Literary Society, Y. M. C. A. Athletics and perhaps some little social life should find their place in the student's course at Bucknell and we see no reason why all these activities should not hold their place with us more than they do. It has been our experience that those who find time for these activities are the strongest and best College men.

Jess D. Evans was unable to return to school until Saturday night on account of injuries received in a bicycle accident recently.

Several of the girls with Miss Hanna as chaperone were very pleasantly entertained at the rooms of Messrs. Simons and Pitts on Friday evening.

Owing to the increased number of boarders at the Institute, it was necessary to purchase an additional table and an entire table-equipment for the dining room.

The great number of improvements being made around the College building this year are to be greeted with a great deal of satisfaction for they will at least make College life more pleasant.

Mr. George E. Jenkinson, former captain-elect of the Bucknell foot-ball team, spent Sunday here. "Jenk" is now playing "end" for Dickinson and was returning from the game at Bloomsburg when he dropped in to see us.

On Saturday last, a special meeting of the Athletic Association was held for the purpose of electing a Basket-ball manager, which office was held by Mr. W. R. Morris' who is now in the University of Iowa. B. W. Griffith was elected to fill the vacancy and requests that all communications concerning the Basket-ball team be addressed to him.

Rev. H. T. Colestock, '96, who has been supplying the Baptist pulpit the past two months so acceptably, left for his home in Pennsylvania, by the way of the lakes, where he will spend the remainder of his vacation, after which he will re-enter upon his studies at the Chicago University.

Mr. Colestock met with a cordial reception not only from members of the church, but people in general, and there is unanimous feeling of regret that he could not remain any longer. He undoubtedly has a promising future. - Ashland Daily Press.

Through Mr. A. Scott Sheller, the Presbyterian choir has secured the services of the famous Bass, Ernest Gamble for a Concert in the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, Oct. 12. Mr. Gamble has been the drawing card at Chautauqua for the past two seasons and music loving Bucknellites as well as other Lewisburgers will have a rare treat. Below is given the opinion of the Daily City Item of Allentown.

AN ARTISTIC SUCCESS.

Our music-loving people who attended the concert at the Academy of Music last evening were furnished with a rich and rare musical treat. Mr. Ernest Gamble was possibly the best basso singer ever heard here. His first number entitled, "The Bandoiero," was superbly rendered and the audience enthusiastically cheered him when he sang the "Armorer's Song" in a manner hard to excel.

The Institute girls are becoming quite enthusiastic over basket ball and are practicing hard, with Calvin Elliott as coach.

Do We Want a Team?

If so, we must have players to buck against the first eleven. Remember that there is an opportunity for every man in the College and Academy to make the team if they put up a better game than the man holding the position. Come out and play; that is foot-ball. Assistant-Manager Wassel is now arranging games for the "Reserve" team and there will be opportunity for all to make trips. In order that the "Varsity" can beat their opponents, we must have a reserve team which is second only to the first.

Game at Shamokin.

Bucknell will play the University of Maryland at Shamokin on Saturday, Oct 15th, and we will want a crowd of rooters to accompany the team. If a number sufficient to warrant an excursion can be gotten, a cheap excursion will be run on one of the railroads. This will be a great game, as U. of Md. is putting up stiff ball.

"Sam" Boyle Here.

The famous end of U. P. "Sam" Boyle, spent a few days in Lewisburg last week and while here gave the boys two hard practices from which much benefit was derived and several new and efficient plays learned. He put the boys through in great style and his ability as a coach is of the highest order.

G. Livingston Bayard, a member of Battery A, Pa. Vols., gave a Porto Rican party to his Phi Psi friends on Wednesday night. He entertained his guests by a description of his trip to Porto Rico and exhibited many valuable and beautiful souvenirs that he brought with him.

Prof. Fithian has charge of the English department of the Academy this year.

Garfield Williams returned to Carbondale this afternoon. John Thomas has also left to enter a Philadelphia preparatory school.

The Academy A. A. is to have a meeting to-night, election of officers will take place. The Academy will organize a foot ball team this year.

An evening study room in main hall has been fitted with all appliances conducive to cheerful study for the sake of those who find it particularly difficult to study elsewhere.

The Calceopian literary society will have the following officers this term: Pres. Merle Edwards; vice pres., Ammon; sec., D. W. Thomas; treas., McIlroy; 1st critic J. Thomas; 2nd critic, Heddens.

Prin. Edwards read the circular letter before the Northumberland Association last week and repeated it on Saturday evening in the Baptist Church. In the Association which has just adjourned Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Black also represented the Bucknell part of the country.

Foot Ball Notes.

Captain Cober played a very aggressive game.

Thompson was able to hold his man and succeeded very well in following the ball.

Matthewson put up a star game at full-back Saturday, making five yard gains at every mass play.

On Wednesday the first of the "At Homes" was held in the Institute parlors. The rooms were tastefully decorated and looked even more attractive than usual. Quite a large number of the College boys were present, among whom we were pleased to see many new faces.

THE NAVIES WIN.

Bucknell's Eleven Defeated. 11-0 At Annapolis.

Two Touch-Downs and a Goal in First Half. No Score in Second. An Interesting Game.

For the first time Bucknell and the Naval Cadets fought on the fine gridiron at Annapolis, Saturday afternoon. The team arrived at the very old fashioned town about 11 a. m., from Baltimore, in which city they spent the night at the Hotel Carrollton.

The boys took in the grounds and viewed the drill of the Cadets, which was very interesting, before dinner.

At 3 o'clock sharp both teams appeared on the grounds, the Cadets being greeted with three rousing cheers from a thousand throats, which of itself was sufficient to spur them on to victory.

Every man on the Navy team was in fine form, and though small in stature and weight, they showed the effects of incessant and vigorous training. The Navies kicked off, Bucknell returning the ball with gain until a fumble gave it to the Cadets who made a quarter-back kick. Stanton picking up the ball went around the right end for thirty yards.

The Navy were given the ball, and with the snap for which they are noted, quickly brought it to the five yard line, from where she went through for a touch-down. Goal was fouled. The ball was again brought near Bucknell's goal, when Matthewson punted the ball, being blocked by the Cadets. Jackson put it over the line three seconds before time was called. In the second half neither side scored, it being more of a full-back game, Matthewson gaining ground at each punt, but the Cadets were quick in getting after the ball and prevented our team from scoring. One touch-back was made by Bucknell. Stanton was retired in the second half by a blow on the head, Priehard taking his position and holding it well.

The Cadets were disappointed in the small score but highly pleased with Bucknell's playing and asked for the Athletic relations to be continued next year with another game.

The treatment received was excellent, everything being done to make the visit pleasant.

A meeting of the Sophomore class was held on last Tuesday afternoon, at which time the following officers were elected: Pres., Frank Anderson; V. Pres., H. A. Trax; Secy., Miss Jennie Wood; Treas., R. G. Pierson. Director for the ORANGE AND BLUE, G. W. Alexander. In the way of new business, a proposition was made, and unanimously and heartily carried, that the class tender a reception to the Freshmen class. A second meeting of the class was held on Friday afternoon to hear the report of the committee appointed to arrange for the reception.

The invitation has been sent to the Freshmen class, amiably been accepted by them. The affair will take place next Friday evening in the Gymnasium. The committee of arrangement is G. W. Alexander, chairman, O. N. Rambo, F. T. Walker, Misses Phillips and Wells. The outlook is favorable for an unusually pleasant event.

This is a new feature in Sophomore-Freshmen life and one to be commended. It is hoped that the antiquated practices due to class antagonism will be abolished and a more proper interpretation of class spirit inaugurated.

Freshman Class Meeting.

That racket you heard on Saturday morning was nothing but the Freshmen getting down to business. In a two hours' meeting to the accompaniment of various enthusiastic antics, they adopted Red and Blue for class colors; "Proces Fideles Cordis" for class motto and the following yell: "Who-ro who-ro who-ro, who, Boomerang, boomerang, boomerang, boo, Bucknell Bucknell, Nine-teen-Two." They also accepted the invitation of the Sophomores to a reception to be given at the Gymnasium on Friday evening.

Board Meeting.

On Thursday afternoon the new ORANGE AND BLUE Board met and organized. C. W. Harvey was elected President; G. W. Alexander, Vice President; Edgar Reed, Secretary and Miss Mary Stevens, Treasurer; E. L. Peck, Business Manager; I. H. Buckminster, Editor-in-Chief; B. W. Griffith, Editorials; O. H. Levan, Locals; R. H. Kress, Athletics; H. B. Wassell, Alumni and Exchange.

Eddie Shortell and E. J. Rittenhouse witnessed the game Saturday. Eddie looks very neat as a marine. G. Drayton Strayer, ex-'00, was accidentally met in Baltimore by several of the boys. He is assistant at his brother's Business College.

Friday's Reception.

And so the Sophomores have followed the precedent established by the class of '99, and offered their Freshmen friends a reception. We said followed the precedent, but there is a qualification to be made. '99's reception was given after February twenty-second, when all animosities are supposed to be forgotten, but our Sophomore brethren have brought out the olive branch a little soon, it seems to us.

Far be it from us to encourage anything that savors of horse-play or the objectional features of "class scraps," but it may not be entirely a bad thing to stir up a little rivalry among classes and especially between the two lower ones. To feel that one has opponents "worthy of his steel," to be constantly on the watch for suspicious moves of the opposing factions, and in turn to be planning surprises for them—these are some of the most potent factors in keeping alive college spirit.

Even when one has reached the upper classes the memory of the little excitements and differences arising from the rivalry of classes, and especially over class banquets, form very pleasant recollections.

It has hardly been decided to do away with class banquets and it is to be hoped never will be, but the coming reception under ordinary circumstances would tend to lessen interest in them. Still the Sophomores will doubtless be able to prevent such a result.

The Chemical and Physical Society.

The first meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society was held Thursday afternoon last. Prof. Owens spoke to the Society on the subject "Kelp." He reviewed the work of the Kelpers on the coasts of Scotland; how the sea-weeds are torn or cut loose; how they are brought to the shore and in what manner they are treated. He also explained what chemicals from time to time, have thus been secured.

Fifteen new members were elected. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Pres., Prof. Owens, Vice Pres., Prof. Kauffman, Sec., I. A. DeWitt, Treas., J. H. Deppen, Executive Committee, Messrs. Kauffman and Buckminster.

C. E. Reception.

On last Saturday evening, the Y. P. S. C. E. tendered their annual reception to the students of the University in the Sunday School room of the Baptist Church. A large number of students from the College, Academy and Seminary were present. The room was decorated with United States flags. An immense flag draped the gallery and the walls were ornamented with small silk flags, artistically arranged. The entertainment was also patriotic.

Each person, on entering the room, received a folded card, with the American flag and the title "War Times" on the front page. Within were blank spaces, numbered from one to twenty-five. Scattered about the room, were persons wearing cards, numbered and bearing strange inscriptions, such as "FEMIGNERTHELTW" or "YALMIDERWADE," from which the guests were expected to decipher the names of persons, places and things connected with the Spanish War. These names were to be written opposite the corresponding number on the card. About nine o'clock, the meeting was called to order by Mr. Alexander, and the names read. Nearly every person had all of the names right but, as was shown later, many had compared notes with their friends.

Refreshments closed the program, and all departed declaring that they had enjoyed the evening.

Foot Ball Notes.

Two weaknesses were evident in the team last Saturday, the tackling and loose handling of the ball. Heavy men must come out against the "Varsity" in order that they may get experience.

Every heavy man who can follow a ball should come out and get exercise. It will do you good physically and there is an opportunity to all of making the team. Knock out the man who holds the position.

Junior Class Election.

At a meeting of the Junior class on Wednesday afternoon, the following officers were elected: Pres., I. A. DeWitt; V. Pres., Peares; Sec., Miss Woodard; Treas., Switzer; Historian, Miss White; ORANGE AND BLUE Directors, Harvey and Edgar Reed. Bunnell was elected chairman of the L. Agenda literary committee with Miss Kline and Morris as associates.

Last Saturday's effort was not enough to satisfy the Freshman class of noise, and so they gave their yell after chapel yesterday morning. Of course the Sophomores had to help, so there was plenty of evidence of class spirit for the time.

Since the beginning of football practice, conjectures in regard to the strength of our team and the prospects of a successful season have been numerous, but the result of Saturday's game with the Navel Cadets has, or ought to have, cleared away most of our doubts and fears, and has given us pretty substantial ground upon which to base our hopes. The showing made against the Bradford team was certainly very creditable, but while we know now that Company C was represented by one of the strongest aggregations among the athletic clubs of the state, at that time the game was not conceded by all to be a reliable source from which to draw any definite conclusions.

However, a score of 11 to 0 against a team of such undisputed prominence as that of the Naval Academy, ought to be sufficient proof to the most doubtful that we possess a team which will establish a record fully capable of bearing comparison with those of former seasons.

If we were to compare scores, without taking into consideration other particulars bearing upon the development of a team, we would be apt to rate our team much below that of last year. It is true that the '97 team gained an enviable reputation during the first three or four weeks of play, but what they accomplished at the beginning of the season served no other purpose than to stand out as a contrast against the wretched work at the end and the miserable condition into which the team declined.

Although our present "eleven" is very far from the standard of excellence which we anticipate for it, the evidence of constant improvement is the best assurance of future strength.

Whatever may be the outcome of the present season, we have the satisfaction that our team is purely representative of the student body and carries out the real idea of college athletics, and as a matter of fact we find by reference to certain other teams which have been conducted on the mercenary plan, that to make and sustain a reputation even though it never aspires to the first rank in the foot-ball world, is far more satisfactory and commendable than to soar on the sky-rocket plan and render the succeeding failure ridiculous by revealing the means by which the former triumph was gained.

Foot Ball Coaches.

The coaches for a number of the leading college football teams are as follows: Cornell, Warner; University of Michigan, Fitzpatrick; Brown, Robinson; Bowden, Edwards; Princeton, Christel; Dartmouth, Wartenburg; Amherst, Weeks; University of Pennsylvania, Woodruff; Williams, Hine and Hazen; Tufts, Upton; Carlisle Indians, Hall; Franklin and Marshall, Ritchel. Yale will have no head coach this season. Butterworth's policy, which proved so effective last season, will be employed again.

The Volunteer Band is going to take up the study of missions in China.

Messrs. Rawlinson and Purdy spoke at a missionary meeting held in the First Baptist Church of Danville last Sunday morning and evening.

The Bible Study Committee announce that, owing to the inability of Mr. Pithian to take charge of the Freshman Bible Class, they have procured in his stead Prof. Riener. None of the young men of the Freshman class should fail to attend this class as it will be of great value. The general topic for study is "The Life of Christ."

It has been the privilege of the students of Bucknell for some years past to hear a report given upon what was said and done at the Northfield Student's Conference which is held at Northfield, Mass., soon after the close of the spring term of school. In order that we might not be deprived of the report this year, it has been arranged that the topic for the next Y. M. C. A. meeting shall be "Northfield Echoes." The leader of the meeting will be C. W. Harvey. Several others will also speak.

Capt. Cober has been laid off from foot ball practice during the past week with a lame shoulder. It was only a bruised muscle, but sufficient to rob the team of one of the strong men for Saturday's game. Had Cober been there, it is probable that the Cadets would have still less reason to congratulate themselves.

All arrangements have been completed for the U. of M.-Bucknell game at Shamokin, on Saturday. Special excursion rates have been secured on the P. & R. or a single fare for the round trip. We want to have a large crowd of rooters at the game, so come up, boys, and show your blood. The U. of M. has a strong team and we must play ball to win.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1898.

NO. 4.

BUCKNELL VICTORIOUS.

Defeats the University of Maryland Team 6 to 0.

Last Saturday being a cold windy day and the weather being threatening caused a small attendance at the game which was played at Indian Park.

The crowd was enthusiastic in cheering the advances and plainly showed their displeasure with the uncalled for acting of the Maryland players.

The game was called at 3.15 P. M.; Maryland winning the toss chose the west goal and Bucknell kicked off. With fast playing the ball was pushed to the opponents' twenty-five yard line where it was lost on four downs.

It was carried from side to side until brought within thirty yards of the Maryland goal when Matthewson tried a field goal missing by a few feet. Maryland's line, although much heavier than Bucknell's, could not withstand the repeated attacks and gains were continually made.

Considerable time was taken out by the southern boys in getting wind.

In the second half Sherwood was put at right end and Weymouth replaced Hermann at half back and did good work, attacking the line with good effect.

This half was characterized by the wrangling of the Maryland team, whose captain kicked at every opportunity and on the whole their conduct was not that of college players as a rule.

Bucknell made great gains but would lose the ball at critical points by fumbling. The boys seem to have the same difficulty as some of the larger teams, that of not being able to hold on to the pigskin.

The great disappointment was the attendance which caused a loss financially. This was entirely unexpected, as Shamokin is a great sporting city and many of the games bring three thousand people to the grounds.

The line up was as follows:

U. of Md.	BUCKNELL
Dew Center	Amerman
Kotchell R G	Thomas
Reese L G	Humeston
Lewis R T	Cober
Peiggett L T	Thompson
Walker R E	Ward Sherwood
Whittaker L E	Riemer
Barow Q	Prichard
Tengue R H	Hermon Weym'h
Emerick L H	Stanton
Grew F B	Matthewson

A Western Foot-Ball Game.

While at Omaha Registrar Gretzinger saw a game of foot-ball between teams from two western State Universities.

The style of play was such as has been outgrown in the east for several years. Main reliance was placed on trick plays such as the criss-cross, but for some reason or other they could only make one of them work, and that was the old one of snapping the ball before the opposing team was lined up. They didn't play such a gentle game either. In the third or fourth rush a man had his leg broken. A rush or so after another got an opponent's elbow in his eye. Quick as thought a sympathizer from the side lines rushed out, fished a piece of beefsteak out of his pocket and bound it over the injured eye, after which the player returned to the game. Other bruises, caused by their characteristic style of attack, resulted in a beefsteak for each of the wounded heroes.

One feature will appeal to lovers of the game in this vicinity. Although the game was rank, and the admission half a dollar, fully three thousand people saw it. Such support would nearly kill our management with joy.

After the game Mr. Gretzinger was asked his opinion of western foot-ball as exemplified in the game just witnessed. He said: "The only word I can find to fit it is 'picturesque.'"

Swarthmore Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon at 2.30 we will play Swarthmore on the college campus. That team is playing very fast ball and beating all opponents—hence a great game can be expected. It has been asked of the management why more college games are not played on the home grounds. The reason is, that it requires $175.00 to play Swarthmore here Saturday and like sums for other teams.

Last week at Shamokin a large amount was lost and a large crowd must attend Saturday and pay for tickets in order to make expenses.

Everybody come out. Your presence and money is needed.

The Sophomore-Freshman Banquet.

The reception given last Friday night by the Sophomores in honor of the Freshmen, was a decided success notwithstanding the opinions of some of the upper classmen. The evening was pleasantly spent by all. The Sophomores assembled in the Gymnasium previous to eight o'clock in order to receive the Freshmen who would arrive in a body. The Freshmen met at the Institute and after putting on their lately adopted colors, red and blue, proceeded to the gymnasium with Prof. and Mrs. Heim as chaperons for the young ladies.

They were received by the waiting committee with best wishes for an enjoyable evening. A period of social intercourse followed, in which many were made acquainted. After a short time Mr. Frank Anderson, in behalf of the Sophomore Class welcomed the guests, also setting forth the purpose of the event, namely—That as individuals and classes they might become better acquainted and be friends, that a strong sentiment might be raised against the old time "class scrap" and some class spirit aroused instead of animosity, and that in view of the fact that they were the first two classes to go forth in the new century, they should establish a precedent that would be a lasting memory. In response Mr. Calvin Elliott extended the sincere and hearty thanks of the class of 1902 and proposed three cheers for the class of 1901, which were given with a will and responded to by the Sophomores. Class yells were then given and afterward preparations made for a grand march when, lo, the electric lights went out and darkness reigned supreme. A few young men, however, sang the familiar tune "Let there be light, and light was over all" with good effect.

The grand march was then started which became somewhat entangled, but not to the detriment of the pleasure of the company. Games were then started but on account of the crowd could not be managed successfully. However time flew rapidly and about ten o'clock the committee started to serve ice cream and cakes. Soon light vanished again, that time for good, but after a large lamp had been secured and placed in the center of the floor the work of serving refreshments continued.

The crowd departed about 10.45. A pleasant feature of the program was a solo by Mr. Peacock. The decorations were in keeping with the occasion. In the front was the design 1901 to 1902, and in other parts were the college and class colors.

It is hoped the result will be the accomplishment of the purpose.

J. E. B. Parker visited the S. A. E. boys over Sunday.

Rev. W. G. Watkins is visiting his daughter Miss B. C. Watkins, '99.

Bevan and Alonzo Davis saw the football game at Shamokin on Saturday.

Rev. W. H. Courson, '90, and Mrs. Courson, (a former institute student) are now in town.

The University band furnished music for a political demonstration on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Morris C. VanGundy, of last year's graduating class, has been chosen assistant to Prof. Owens in the Laboratory.

Those students of the University who are enlisted in the U. S. Volunteer services, are getting ready to be mustered out.

An additional box for the reception of Sophomore and Freshman essays, will be put up in the Main College building this week.

President Harris is booked for an address on Education at the Baptist State anniversary at Harrisburg, next Thursday.

An interesting letter written by R. G. Siffer, '98, now on his way to Alaska, appeared in last week's issue of the Lewisburg Journal. It well repays reading.

Registrar Gretzinger has had handed to him by friends of the University, nearly a hundred dollars to be applied to the Athletic Association debt of last year.

The Glee Club are now making arrangement for a Christmas trip through the western part of the state. Prospects are bright for a good club. Catell has recently been added to the club.

Manager Kress has received a tempting offer for a game with the Ashland foot ball team to be played at that place and at any time that may suit the convenience of Bucknell.

Last week we made nonsense of the Freshman class motto. It should read, "Merces Fidei Certa." We beg the pardon of the class, expressing the hope that our expression of their motto will be no ill omen.

Last Monday evening a reception was given at the Institute to the football players. If no news is good news, they certainly enjoyed themselves, for all they would say was "Another jolly time at the Sem."

Howard Hammond Baldrige, Esq., '84, district attorney of Doughlass county Nebraska, was one of the speakers at the Pennsylvania picnic, held recently at Hanscom park, Omaha, Neb., in honor of the Pennsylvania commission to the Trans-Mississippi Exposition.

The recent petition from the students of Lehigh University, to the Faculty of that institution, asking for the restoration of compulsory chapel attendance, will establish a precedent for many college faculties, to whom this question has long been a thorn in the flesh. A decline of college spirit led to this action on the part of Lehigh's student body.

The daily assembling of the entire student body is a good custom, regardless of the moral side of the question. Inter-class friendship is developed by a daily assembling of the entire college, and a general interest in college matters is promoted. The system of optional attendance has been tried with varied results in several of our leading universities and colleges. The student body of our smaller colleges should be united and bound by a strong college spirit. With this view, the Lehigh students have taken their recent action, as commendable as it is unprecedented.—The Lafayette.

Here at Bucknell we will scarcely need such a petition, for nearly every student seems to feel that it is his own particular duty to attend Chapel. We can all echo the sentiments of The Lafayette in reference to the advantages of the custom.

One of our pessimistic upper class men, when asked his opinion of the reasons that brought students to Chapel, said: "Well, the Freshmen go to watch the Sophs, and vice versa; the Seniors go,—well—for obvious reasons, and the Juniors go because they'll be Seniors next year." But the real reason is deeper than that. Love for the school and its institutions, as well as a deep-seated conviction that it is well to begin the day with devotions, have and should have more influence than such passing whims as our pessimistic friend proposed.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Court House, at which Col. Stone, District Attorney Shaeffer, and Adj. Gen. Stewart spoke, a number of our students did not deport themselves as gentlemen should.

One would think that after several years spent in an institution of refinement and learning, men would know that a speaker has the right to be heard without being insulted. While those committing the fault were not a representative body of students, (though their number would seem to indicate the contrary,) still unless explanation is made, the blame will fall on the school as a whole.

The editor finds by a careful canvass of the school, that to a man the right thinking students severely condemn the act of their fellows.

It was doubtless the result of thoughtlessness, coupled with political excitement, yet we cannot but with shame offer an apology to the speakers and those who had assembled to hear them, on the part of those members of our own student body who have so far forgotten themselves.

Institute Items.

Col. McCain paid a short visit to his daughters on Saturday.

Miss Wood chaperoned a party of girls on a drive to Milton Saturday afternoon.

Basket ball is coming on splendidly and the Institute is looking towards having a fine team.

Mr. Robert Love, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Miss Lillal Love.

Misses Louise and Elsie Seiler are staying in the Institute while their mother is visiting out of town.

Dr. Hulley spoke at a special meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday evening. His talk was very practical and much appreciated by all hearing it.

The regular meeting of the Alumnae was held on Tuesday evening in the Institute parlors. The program was "Modern English Essayists." Mrs. Hamblin read a paper on Richard Le Gallienne and Mrs. Owens one on Henley. Various selections from other essayists were also read. The election of officers for the year resulted as follows: President, Miss Stanton; Vice President, Mrs. Miller; Secretary, Mrs. Diffenderfer; Treasurer, Josephine Lawshe. Miss Annie VanGundy was elected correspondent with the Philadelphia.

The PhiGammaDeltaFraternity which held its national convention at Pittsburgh this week, has elected the following officers: President, Bishop Joseph C. Hartwell, of Illinois; vice president, Edward P. Shurser, Cornell; Secretary, Paul Sturtevant, Allegheny College; assistant secretaries, H. B. Wassell, of Bucknell; Leroy Porter, of Allegheny; A. E. Conklin, of Yale, and G. T. Seeley, of Illinois; chaplain, Dr. H. G. Jackson, of Chicago.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Mr. Conover is going to lead the next meeting. His subject is "Christian Unity."

Remember that we extend to all the college students a hearty welcome to our meeting on Tuesday evenings.

The number of persons who attend the Bible classes might be increased, but if they are not the present number is sufficient to insure a very profitable time each evening.

Although the Bible classes are an important part of the Y. M. C. A., no one should fail to connect himself with the association and take an interest in its meetings. The classes are but divisions of the association's work.

Mrs. Charlotte C. Gray, now studying Arabic, Hebrew and Greek at the Chicago University, is said to be the only woman who has received the degrees of A. B. and D. B., which she is entitled to write after her signature.

The Literary societies are doing energetic work in the way of enlisting the interest of new students in society work. The school has been thoroughly canvassed, and in consequence many students have renewed their interests in the societies.

It is the duty of every student to pay the price of admission to the Swarthmore game next Saturday. Do not wait for the ticket seller to hunt you up or single you out, but go to him and pay for your ticket like a man. Bucknell cannot afford to play foot ball for the love of the game alone. It takes money to equip and coach a team.

NO. 5.

BUCKNELL 34, SWARTHMORE 18.

The Quakers' Swift Team no Match for Our Eleven.

Saturday morning awoke with the autumnal storm raging in its fury, and until ten o'clock the weather was such that it appeared as if the game could not possibly be played in the afternoon.

The sky cleared and a brisk wind blowing from the north-west did much in drying up the athletic field. The game was called at 2:30 with Swarthmore defending the west goal having a strong wind to assist them in their rushing the ball. Humeston kicked off, Swarthmore losing the ball on four downs. Farver getting the ball advanced it ten yards. Bucknell was granted ten yards on off-side play.

Thompson made a sensational advance, through right tackle with four or five of the Swarthmore eleven on his back. Matthewson carried the pigskin over the line for a touchdown. Humeston failing to kick the goal. Score Bucknell 17, Swarthmore 18.

Farquhar kicked off, Matthewson returned, gaining thirty-five yards. Quarter-back kick of Swarthmore rolled over line, where Thompson and Ward held a quarter down for a safety. Farquhar kicked from 25 yd line, which was returned, Matthewson gaining twenty yards. Thompson carried ball through right tackle for twenty yards. Riener, Ward and Cober advancing it 16 yards, Matthewson making the touch-down but failing at a goal. Score, S. 18, B. 17.

Farquhar kicked off, Herman made two runs for sixty-five yards, one of twenty-five and one of forty yards, around left end for a touch-down. Garner missed goal. Score, S. 18, B. 17.

Farquhar kicked off, Stanton catching, passed to full-back who kicked, Herman getting the ball on a fumble. Stanton made a twenty-five yard run, Thompson carrying the ball over the line. Cober failing at goal.

This ended the scoring as time was soon called. The game was a loss financially, as only a small part of the large crowd paid for tickets.

The line up was as follows:

Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting of the students was held last Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of taking some action concerning the disturance created by a number of students at a meeting at the Court House on the day before.

The meeting was called to or-witt was made chairman, and E.

L. Nesbit, secretary. After some little discussion the following resolutions were almost unanimously carried:

For more than a decade there has existed between the undergraduates of Bucknell University and the townspeople of Lewisburg, the most cordial relations.

It is, therefore, with sincere regret on the part of the student body that these cordial relations have been temporarily strained, and it is resolved by the students in mass meeting assembled, that the action of certain students in hissing and disturbing a political meeting, held in the Union county court house on Monday afternoon, Oct. 17th, 1898, is hereby disapproved and condemned, and also wish to declare their recognition and the right of free speech.

It is also further resolved that

It is exceedingly unfortunate that the receipts at the Swarthmore game fell short of the expenses. This deficiency was met for the time by the courtesy of an individual connected with the institution who loaned the Athletic Association the required amount, to make up the difference. This loss with that of the Shamokin game puts the total loss up to about $200 this season. This money must be made good, and sufficient money must be procured to pay current expenses besides clearing off last year's debt. From this time on the foot-ball manager should arrange to play games away from town only that will net money. If properly worked up the State College and F. & M. games should bring in some money for Bucknell.

The action taken by the student body in the Mass Meeting on Tuesday, in regard to the careless deportment of a number of students at the political meeting, has met with universal approbation, and has been the means of subduing much ill-feeling which was likely to arise between the town and school.

Party feeling in the present campaign tended to magnify the offence, and it was only the promptness on the part of the students that a great deal of unpleasantness was averted. The resolutions drawn up and passed should be construed as an apology of those in fault, and as a denunciation of the action of the former on the part of the college as a whole; and as these measures were taken purely as a matter of principle, nobody has any right to regard it as prompted by any political convictions whatever. The act was denounced and atoned for as ungentlemanly, not because it was the expression of political feeling. The purpose of the averting was not to show that the majority of the student body held any different views as to candidates, but for the sole purpose of righting a wrong committed against those who happen to be among the supporters of one of these candidates.

Dr. Groff writes as follows to the Lewisburg Saturday News from Porto Rico: "Harvey Marsh has recovered from his fever sufficient to be my clerk. I am trying to cover his bones so that if any one from Pennsylvania should drop in, they will not think I have been abusing him."

"Poor Amos Williams I found on a cot at Guyana with a bad attack of fever and worse starvation. Yesterday I saw him sail for home. I had the satisfaction of hearing him say, 'I had helped save his life. Poor boy, this war has been no frolic for him.'"

Harvey, '00, and Meserve, '99, as representatives of the Students Volunteer Band held a special missionary meeting at the First Baptist church of Danville on Sunday, in the absence of Rev. A. B. Bower. Harvey also spoke at a meeting of the Danville Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon. Hazen and Pitts also assisted Anderson with the Sunday services at his church in the same town.

We are pleased to note the return of Magee, 1901, to college last week.

W. M. Warren, '99, preached in the Christian Church on Sunday morning.

George Dana Boardman will lecture before the University, in Bucknell Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 1.

A large number of the Co. A boys saw the game on Saturday, and yelled very heartily for Bucknell.

Manager Kress went to Williamsport last Monday afternoon to complete arrangements for the State game.

Gilchrist, '96, Christy, ex-1900, and Anderson, ex-1901, are in town awaiting the muster out of Co. A, 12th Regt. Pa. Vois.

Several of the college men are contemplating attending the Peace Jubilee at Philadelphia this week. You will know them by their absence.

There is a marked improvement noted in literary societies this year. The prospects are good for a very successful year. Friday evening every chair in Theta Alpha Hall was occupied.

A society for home study is to be formed by several ladies of school and town. They were to have met last Friday evening for organization but the meeting was postponed on account of the weather until last evening.

The Imperial University of China, recently established by imperial decree, has a corps of twenty professors and fifty native teachers. Dr. Martin, formerly an American missionary, and President of Pekin University for thirty years, has been appointed as head through the efforts of Li Hung Chang.

Institute Items.

Miss Scott, 1902, has been ill with a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell paid a short visit to their daughter Katherine, on Saturday.

Mr. Woodward, 1902, took dinner at the Institute on Sunday with his sister, Grace.

Miss Harriet Emerick had a visit from her aunt during the past week.

The foot ball game on Saturday raised a great deal of interest at the Sem., as it was the last game of the year on the campus.

Friday Evening's Concert.

Notwithstanding the stormy evening the concert took place last Friday evening as arranged before an appreciative though small audience. The selections were all well chosen and well rendered. The program was as follows:

PART I.
Andante op. 31, Beethoven University's String Orchestra.
Sanist Fandango—Guitar Solo,
Miss E. Spielmeier.
On the Mill Dam—Banjo Solo, Bobb
Mr. E. Stirling.

Foot Ball Notes.

Cober did his usual good playing. "Cap" can always be depended upon.

Garner is putting up a good game at quarter. His ankle is in better shape.

Sweet, of Peddie, does fine tackling and will make the 'Varsity men hustle.

Stanton and Herman are both aggressive players, also making good gains around ends.

Ward carried the ball with greater confidence on Saturday. He and Reimer played like fiends.

Hunneston played better Saturday than he had before. He carried the ball for a good many yards.

Ammerman got right in the game, and showed of what metal he is made. He followed the ball well.

Among the "Reserves" Bunnell and Conover are showing up well. Watts is out again and is doing very well.

The team showed a marked improvement in Saturday's game in handling the ball. Only three fumbles were made.

Thompson's playing made a marked improvement in the second half. He carries the ball like a veteran, making the best line advances of any made on the team.

Academy Notes.

Elmer Watts was unanimously elected Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday night.

Professor Phillips filled the pulpit of the First Baptist Church at Lock Haven Sunday.

L. Sweet has gone home to Towanda, to join his regiment on their way to the Peace Jubilee at Phila., after which he will be mustered out of the service.

After an illness of several days, Elmer Watts has resumed his studies and practice on the football team. He is a possible candidate for 'Varsity honors.

The Academy boys turned out to a man at the foot ball game Saturday afternoon; and made themselves heard during the entire game.

The Y. M. C. A. is steadily improving under the guidance of Pres. Hall, and the services are much more interesting. The Professors give many able and practical talks. Professor Kaufman is the leader for next Tuesday night.

Lee Ranck, Academy '98, has returned to town, after being discharged from the Medical Chi. Hospital at Phila. Lee joined Co. A. at Mount Gretna with the second band of volunteers from here.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1898.

NO. 6.

A TIE GAME.

Neither Side Scored at Lehigh on Saturday.

It was straight foot ball on both sides between Bucknell and Lehigh, Saturday on the latter's grounds. It was interesting throughout but not exciting except in one instance, when our boys had the ball on Lehigh's yard line, where it was lost on a fumble and the best opportunity of the day let pass. During the first half the ball was entirely in Lehigh's territory except on a kick when it was quickly removed. Lehigh won the toss, choosing the west goal with the sun in their rear. Hunneston kicked off putting the ball on the ten-yard line. Herman got the ball on a Lehigh fumble, running twenty yards around right end. Reimer went through left tackle for five yards, and Matthews through center for ten yards, bringing the ball to the yard line, where Lehigh held for the third down; Bucknell lost the ball on a fumble on the fourth. Lehigh removed the ball from the danger line by a kick for twenty yards. Thompson advanced the ball three yards. Matthews six, where it was lost on downs. Lehigh advanced the ball fifteen yards, Ross losing the ball to Herman. Bucknell advanced the ball twenty-eight yards by line bucking, and then lost five yards on a quarter-back kick. Stanton made a ten-yard run for first down, Herman after making a ten yard run lost the ball by a fumble. Lehigh kicked, Garner getting the ball off side line by a pretty jump. Matthews kicked, Reimer getting the full-back where he caught the ball. Lehigh made fifteen yards through the line, but on an end rush was thrown back seven yards, when Thompson downed Chamberlain on the fifteen yard line. Bucknell getting the ball, Lehigh was given ball on account of Bucknell's man holding, and made twenty-three yards on line rushes, when our eleven took the ball and Thompson getting through felled the man with the ball for a three yard loss. With last playing our boys advanced the ball through the line for thirty yards when Lehigh got the ball. Time was called for first half with no score.

Lehigh kicked off, Matthews gained fifteen yards on return kick. Ross made a twenty yard run with good interference. Garner being the only man between him and a touch-down, but the "kid" was all there and felled Ross as if a thousand of bricks had struck him. Reimer tackled the Lehigh men, behind the line for a two yard loss, Lehigh kicking. Garner got the ball but fumbled, Herman getting it crawled for three yards with several men

THE MILTON-BUCKNELL RESERVE GAME.

The game at Milton was a very interesting and at times exciting one. In the first half the play was entirely in Milton's territory and plainly showed that the collegians were the better players. Bucknell kicked off and soon had the ball from Milton forcing them to kick. By steady plunges through the line and good runs around the ends the ball was forced to Milton's three yard line where Bell was sent through the line to the first touch-down for Bucknell after fifteen minutes of play. Goal was missed. Milton then kicked off and Bucknell was making rapid advances toward another touch-down when time was called. The "guards back" formation had no trouble in going through Milton's line for from three to fifteen yards. First half ended with score 5 to 0 in favor of Bucknell Reserves.

Milton kicked off in the second half and Bucknell fumbled after making two good gains. This stirred up Milton and they forced the Reserves to their three yard line. Bucknell then secured the ball on downs and kicked. One of Milton's men got the ball out of bounds and kicked without waiting for his team to get on side. In the scrimmage after the ball Milton secured it behind Bucknell's line and the referee awarded them a touch-down. No goal.

Bucknell again kicked off and Milton returned the kick. After several rushes by the collegians Bell secured the ball on a fumble and made a nice run of twenty or twenty-five yards for touch-down. Goal kicked by Bell.

Another kick off by Milton and the ball was rapidly pushed towards their goal. On a fumble by Bucknell, Case secured the ball and made a long run, being brought down by Conover about ten yards from Bucknell's goal. Milton made five yards by line and end plays and the next five were hotly contested. The referees awarded a touch-down to Milton on the third down. No goal. Time was called soon after.

The line up was as follows: Milton. Bucknell. Hanson C Stirling Linebaugh R G Hoffa Wetzel L G Watts Roat R T Switzer Louth I T Bechtel Kniffman R E Smith Switzer L E Conover Geiger R H Watson Teufel L H Magee Hill Full Bell Case Q Brown

Officials: Referee, Cleaver; Umpire, W. A. Kauffman; Bucknell's Linesman, J. L. Cattell; Bucknell. Touch-downs for Bucknell: Bell, 2; Goal, Bell.

Touch-downs for Milton: Hill, Teufel; Goal, Hill.

State Wants Postponement.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 29. R. H. KRESS, B. U. Could you play our game Nov. 12th? It is necessary for State to play in Phila. on fifth. Answer at once.—South Ave. Hotel.

L. A. HARDING. The above is a copy of a telegram received by Manager Kress on Saturday evening. Answer was sent that to play on Nov. 12th would interfere with our game with Franklin and Marshall, so we could not make the change. Therefore the game will be played next Saturday, as scheduled. It seems a little strange for State to arrange a game for that date in Philadelphia at this late day, when our game was scheduled so long ago.

G. L. Bayard, '09, was in Philadelphia jubilee week and paraded with Battery A, Pa. Vols., of which command he is a member.

Mass Meeting.

Wednesday evening at nine o'clock let every loyal student of Bucknell meet in the College lobby for a mass meeting. We must get up interest this year in order to defeat our old opponents. Each and every student should go to Williamsport; the more the merrier, and the better our chances of winning.

A table showing the attendance in the collegiate department the past decade has been prepared and is being sent out by the University. The following is a recapitulation by years: 1888, 74; 1889, 74; 1890, 71; 1891, 103; 1892, 128; 1893, 144; 1894, 143; 1895, 171; 1896, 202; 1897, 223; 1898, 249.

The attendance this year in this department is thus far 263, and the total enrolled in the University will foot up towards 450.

Bucknell University,

John Howard Harris, President.

THE COLLEGE.

Four courses leading to degrees in Arts, Philosophy and Science; over one hundred subjects of study; separate Laboratory, Gymnasium and Observatory buildings; large library; ample endowment; modern facilities.

THE ACADEMY.

A preparatory school for young men and boys. Fits for college and the best technical schools.

THE INSTITUTE.

A boarding school for young women; three courses of study leading to diplomas. Art studio.

THE SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

For both sexes. Offers graduating courses in music; courses in piano, pipe-organ, violin, harmony, etc., leading to diploma. The school is under the direction of a French artist, assisted by a corps of excellent teachers.

A day or two ago one of the students in talking over the game with State on next Saturday said that we were not in State's class, anyhow, and too much fuss was made over such a game. With that man we beg most emphatically to differ. True, in the past in foot-ball we have been the vanquished a little oftener than the victors, but when the hard luck we have endured is considered, there has never been such a large margin for State. State has considered the game with Bucknell as one of her hardest games.

This year's game will be such without any doubt. In order to have our team win, it is necessary for every student who possibly can to go and cheer for our boys. A large attendance of "rooters" by their songs and yells are worth a good deal to a team in case of an emergency. We had a brilliant example two years ago. State had pushed the ball down to our five-yard line. There our team held them for four downs, and so prevented State from scoring. It is very probable that without encouragement from the side lines it could never have been done.

On Wednesday evening we will have a mass meeting, and make arrangements for the game. Concert of action is necessary if the best results are to be secured. In the meantime, let those who can do so arrange songs and yells for the occasion. We already have several songs which have done good service in the past but fresh ones would be better.

Last year the game was played later, and many who would otherwise have gone were kept away by the raw, blustery weather. This year we have the likelihood of a better day. Come along and enjoy yourself, see a good game, and help Bucknell win a victory.

The Sophomore class at Princeton has adopted the following resolutions:

"The Sophomore Class agree that hazing should be abolished, and to that end pass the following resolutions: The members of the Sophomore class will do no more hazing this year, and will use their influence throughout their college course to prevent any. The word hazing, as we understand it, means any act of intimidation toward freshmen, unless freshmen are guilty of the following offences against college custom."

The resolutions then go on to outline the privileges of the upper classes, such as wearing the college colors, golf, duck or crash trousers, sitting in the Varsity grand stand, snowballing and other campus customs and privileges which have come down from former years and have been denied the freshmen.

These resolutions are not binding unless the Faculty return to all their rights and privileges those members of the class who have been suspended for hazing and closes all action of such kind against any men still in college. If all the suspended and expelled men have not been returned to college by November 11, these resolutions will not be valid.

"For they come out at night."

Amos Williams, '96, is now at his home.

Manager Kress spent Sunday at Allentown.

Artie Smith, '98, was in town last week.

O. R. Levan is improving quite rapidly at the Sunbury hospital.

Harvey F. Smith, M. D., '94, will be here to-day to help coach the foot ball team.

Co. A, 12th Regt., Pa. Vols., after waiting over a week, was mustered out yesterday afternoon.

Special reduced rates via the Reading have been secured for the State game. The fare will be 98 cents for the round trip.

H. F. Harris, '96, as soon as he is mustered out, is to go to Washington to attend the lectures of the Columbia Law School.

Dr. George Dana Boardman will arrive in Lewisburg this afternoon. To-morrow forenoon he will deliver a lecture before the school in Bucknell Hall.

Miss Maud Ryland Keller, a former Bucknell student, has been made dean of the Woman's department of the Michigan Agricultural College, Lansing, Mich.

The State game has been advertised very carefully within a radius of fifty miles of Williamsport. It is expected there will be a much larger attendance than usual.

That was a pretty good joke on the Press correspondent who reflected in his Sunday account of the Lehigh game on "Jack" Lesh's knowledge of the game. A more ludicrous mistake could hardly be imagined.

M. A. C., Baltimore, wants a game on Nov. 8, election day. P. A. C. wants to play us Nov. 12. This date is taken, but another one may be arranged. Nov. 12, we play P. & M. at Reading, and Lafayette at Easton on Nov. 19.

Stanton, '97, one of the linesmen at the Bucknell-Lehigh game, received rather painful injuries during the game. During one of the rushes he was run into, and received sprains and bruises to such an extent that he had to be carried from the field.

At the time of going to press the hinges had come and the paint was dry. There was every indication of a student demonstration last evening. There is no "Doc" Levan here to lead this year, but still some others might get started. Of course there is no need of expressing the hope that the students will not go too far.

She sat on the steps at the evening tide

Topic, "Educated but Ignorant," Leader, Frank Anderson.

"All true instruction is given for the purpose of making men better able to live a pure, upright life and do better the work which God has entrusted to their hands. God has given His instructions to us in the Bible, and we should look upon them as being given for our good. Let us receive God's instruction at the same time we receive human instruction and not be the learned-ignorant man."

The Registrar of the University will be grateful for any information concerning the service of graduates, under-graduates, former students, in the army during the late war with Spain. The facts especially desired are:

1. Name in full of each man.

2. Name of organization.

3. Dates of mustering in and mustering out.

4. Record.

The list will be eventually printed in the college papers.

Part of the Geology class, under the chaperonage of the professor, spent Saturday afternoon at Dale's Hill, examining the formations. The party penetrated to the bottom of the cave, but they paid the penalty. They were unable to return till after dark. To those who have been there the explanation is easy, the others will have to guess as the students took good care to meet no one on their return trip.

Among others Prof. Phillips saw the game at Milton on Saturday.

Several of the girls spent Saturday evening with Miss Ruth Bower.

Miss Bertha Watkins spent Saturday evening with Miss Martha Wolfe.

Severe colds are epidemic and several of the girls have fallen victims to them.

The next "At Home" will be held Monday, November 7th, from four until six o'clock.

Miss Emma Probasco spent last week at her home in Philadelphia, attending the Peace Jubilee.

The birthday of Miss Lucy Grier was celebrated on Saturday evening by the girls at her table.

An innovation at the Institute is the Saturday morning study hour, which lasts from chapel time until 9:30. It is hoped the new arrangement will largely do away with "blue Monday."

Academy Notes.

Friday afternoon John Bassler went to Sunbury to spend several days with his parents.

Daniel Stuart preached and baptized in the First Baptist Church, at Danville, on Sunday.

The members of Calliopean Literary Society will hold an "Open Meeting" in the near future.

There will be a special music at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night. All the members of the Academy are especially invited. Leader, Daniel Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Gretzinger attended the wedding of Mr. W. Bruce Stoner and Miss Edith Cate, which took place at Sunbury last Tuesday evening. Mr. Stoner is well known to Bucknellians as a former Academy student.

Foot Ball Notes.

Garner spent Sunday with a Lafayette friend in Easton.

The "Reserves" will play Williamsport Y. M. C. A. on the latter's grounds, election day.

W. J. Gold, '97, came over from Nazareth where he is teaching school. "Billy" is the same old boy.

Mr. and Mrs. James, (see Miss Anna Rodgers, '98,) attended the game with Orange and Blue flying to the wind.

Sinette, '97, gave the boys a welcome surprise at Lehigh by bringing twenty-five Kutztown Normal rooters to the game. They gave the Bucknell yell willingly, giving encouragement to the team.

Megargoe, ex-'96, now of U. P., arrived Tuesday and has been putting the boys through in good shape. Leshier, with the former's aid, will bring the team around in excellent condition for Saturday if nothing unfortunate occurs.

In practice Thursday the wet ground was the cause of weakening the team. Cober sprained his ankle and was unable to go to Bethlehem. Humeston had the cartilage of his nose broken, while Matthews aggravated his sore knee.

Arrangements have been made for the Varsity to begin practice at three o'clock, so that a line up can be had as soon after four as possible. Let everybody make a supreme effort to get out on time as we must have some hard practice this week. Let heavy men come out.

Quite a few members of the Bucknell Reserves called on friends in Milton after the game Saturday.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1898.

NO. 7.

STATE VICTORIOUS.

Bucknell Defeated 16 to 0 in Williamsport Saturday.

In spite of early predictions in the morning, Saturday afternoon was such as to warrant a good stiff game on the gridiron. Over two thousand people witnessed the game which was said by all to be the best that was ever played in Williamsport. In the first half Bucknell kept the ball in State's territory most of the time and it was only the poor work of our backs which left Scholl around right end for a touchdown. We had several opportunities of scoring but at the vital moments heads seemed to be lost and had plays or fumbles were in evidence. Matthews' punting was one of the features of the game. In the second half the team showed the lack of good hard training, and had coaches been brought here earlier in the season, another half such as the first would have defeated our old opponents. Many familiar faces were noticed among the alumni, for all who possibly can return to see the game. The officials did good work even if State positively refused to play with Dickson as referee. The boys from Centre County played the baby act in this line, offering no good objections to an official they had decided upon, but at last they came to their senses and apologized after the game to Mr. Dickson. An account of the game in full follows:

The game began at 2:40. State won the toss and defended the south goal. Matthews took the kick-off and made 18 yards before he was downed. Line plunges by State gained the required distance, but the ball was lost on a fumble. Bucknell soon lost the ball in the same way. Curtin took it through left tackle for 15 yards, and Hayes made 40 yards around right end. Cure went through the center for five. State fumbled again, but recovered the ball. State lost the ball on downs. Matthews punted 35 yards and Ammerman fell on it for Bucknell. Matthews again punted, and it was Bucknell's ball on the 25-yard line, where Matthews tried for a goal from the field, but missed it. State kicked off from the 35-yard line, and the team lined up for the scrimmage in the center of the field. Matthews punted 40 yards to Cure, who made five. Hayes skirted right end for 25 yards, and Curtin went around the left for 15 yards. On the next play State was penalized and Bucknell got the ball and 10 yards. Garner was downed for a loss. Matthews punted 40 yards to the 10-yard line. Cure kicked back 40 yards to Garner, who made 15 yards. Matthews kicked out of bounds, and the ball was brought back. Cure did likewise, and when the ball was put in play it was Bucknell's ball on State's 25-yard line. State was penalized 10 yards for off-side play. Bucknell fumbled but recovered the ball. Cober was sent through State's line. Matthews tried for a field goal, but again failed. Cure kicked off from the 25-yard line and Matthews returned the ball to the 20-yard line. Cure punted back and Matthews returned to Cure on the 25-yard line. Bucknell got the ball on a fumble, and it was soon State's as a penalty on Bucknell. Cure punned to Garner on the 30-yard line and Matthews punned back 35 yards.

It was at this point that the sensational play of the half was made. The ball was given to Scholl, the big South Williamsporter, and going through right tackle he sprinted 60 yards across the line for a touchdown, from which Cure failed to kick a goal. Half the distance was made by Scholl behind interference. For the balance he had a clear field. Time was called in two minutes with the ball on Bucknell's 15-yard line.

Score—State 5, Bucknell 0. In the second half Cure kicked 35 yards and Matthews punned back the same distance. Two end runs gained 30 yards for State, and several plunges through the line materially advanced the ball, when State was twice downed for a loss and the ball went to Bucknell. Matthews' punt was blocked; he recovered the ball, but was downed for a loss. He kicked 50 yards, and then occurred the star play of the game.

Hayes was given the ball, and, behind superb interference, sailed down the gridiron into a clear field of 35 yards, making 70 yards and a touchdown, from which Cure kicked the goal.

Score—State 11, Bucknell 0. Humeston kicked off to the 10-yard line, and Hayes made 15 before he was downed. The guards-back play was twice used to push Randolph through for a gain of five yards. Scholl made two and was then sent through left tackle for eight. Hayes made 20 around right end. State was downed for a loss. Cure kicked 40 yards, and Murray got the ball on a fumble. State fumbled, and the ball returned to Bucknell. Ammerman snapped the ball too high and it was down dangerously near Bucknell's goal. Bucknell plunged through State's line for a gain of four yards, and Matthews punned 30 yards. Scholl made eight yards through center on the guardsback play. Cure made five by an awful plunge over the line. State fumbled and Reimer fell on the ball for Buck-

DR. BOARDMAN SPEAKS.

A Series of Three Lectures Delivered Before the Students.

Last Tuesday evening Dr. Boardman delivered a lecture in Chapel, on the subject: "Man's Fall and Redemption in the Light of Evolution."

He said that there are two Bibles, that of God, and of Nature. As an explanation of the former the speaker read the first part of the 19th Psalm, and of the latter the last part.

The student of nature should regard himself as engaged in religious work. The two Bibles are to be interpreted in the light of each other. The Bible of Scripture is complimentary to the Bible of Nature.

The Bible of Nature teaches Evolution, that is unfolding in accordance with a preconceived plan.

The Bible of Scripture teaches of man's fall. The story is not to be taken literally but as a grand allegory.

A distinction must be made between truth and fact. Facts are of nature and need have no moral force. Truths are spiritual and do have moral force.

"Man's fall is no surprise, his redemption no after thought, but all is in accordance with a divine plan eternally present."

SECOND LECTURE.

The second lecture by Dr. Boardman was delivered at 8:15 Wednesday morning in Chapel. The seating capacity of the building was taxed to its utmost. The subject was "Graphic Art."

In presenting the subject Dr. Boardman said, "The art of writing, I am inclined to think, has been by far the most powerful human instrument of civilization." The mythology regarding the inventor of letters was told in an interesting manner, followed by a description of the various methods of writing and their originations. The method of Egyptian Hieroglyphics was illustrated by drawings of the various symbols, works of the speaker's own hand.

"The invention of letters is the most splendid achievement of mankind. The alphabet is the very basis and means of civilization itself. The letters are literally the rudiments or elementary components of all knowledge taught from Kindergarten to University. Words are things and a small drop of ink produces that which makes thousands, perhaps millions think. While speech joins together a nation, writing joins together nations." Christianity was then proved to be most influential in advancing the art of writing. Statistics show that through missionaries eighty-nine alphabets have been made up, thus laying the foundation for all the

A SAD ACCIDENT.

M. R. Collins Fatally Injured by a Train on Saturday Night.

One of the saddest accidents that has ever happened in connection with the University occurred on Saturday evening, when M. R. Collins, '97, was thrown and had his limbs badly mangled under the train which was about to leave Williamsport for Lewisburg. Mr. Collins had boarded the train for the purpose of saying good-bye to some of his old college friends and had left them but a few seconds when the report of an accident was circulated among the passengers. The train stopped and crowds thronged to the scene of the accident and to their horror found the victim was he who had been in their midst such a short time before. Just how the accident happened will probably never be known as nobody was at hand at the time it occurred, and Mr. Collins was not in condition to be interviewed in regard to the matter.

It would be impossible to describe the gloom which the sad event has cast over the town and school where Mr. Collins has been such a well known figure during the last five years. His ability as a football player is too well known to need mention here, and his high standing at graduation, in spite of almost insurmountable obstacles during the first two years, gives better evidence of his mental capacity than any words we might express. During '98 Mr. Collins was principal of the public schools of Huntingdon Mills, Pa., where he gained a high reputation as a scholar and teacher. For the last few months he has been a student in the law offices of Hon. H. C. and S. F. McCormick, and held a very high place in the esteem of his preceptors both on account of his ability as a student and his excellent character.

Mr. Collins was a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity and was connected with many other organizations of the college. At the time of his death he was about twenty-four years old, and had begun the preparation for his life work with the brightest prospects for a successful career. The funeral will take place from his home, at Roaring Branch, on Wednesday morning, and an invitation to attend is extended to his many friends both of the school and town.

"Artie" Smith, '98, is soon to enter a law office in Williamsport.

"Darkest America" attracted many Bucknellians and their friends Saturday night. There are still many Bucknell girls in Williamsport.

Last week a number of mass meetings were held, and at them much enthusiasm appeared. But when it came to the game there seemed to be lack of unity, of organization. We have no fault to find with the chief marshals—he worked well as his voice will testify, but the fact remains that concert of action was painfully lacking at the game. A spirit closely allied to that manifest at the game appeared at the Hill after the defeat was made known. Instead of expressions of disappointment there seemed to be a general apathy. It really seemed as though the students had so become used to being beaten by State that they did not care. It may be that this state has not been analyzed closely enough, and that what seemed to be discouragement was disappointment too deep for expression.

It is to be hoped that this is true. Whatever we do, we must not lose heart. Indeed, we have much room for encouragement. By Williamsport people who saw the game our team was very highly praised. Another thing to be noted is that in the second half the game had descended from one of skill to one of endurance. Taking everything in consideration we have no reason to be ashamed of our team. They played a noble game and made State work exceedingly hard for her points.

In Memoriam.

HALL OF ALPHA PHI CHAPTER OF KAPPA SIGMA FRATERNITY, Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 7, '98. WHEREAS, Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, has removed from this life Merton Roscoe Collins, our most loyal friend and brother; be it

Resolved, That we hereby manifest our sorrow and grief at the loss which we as brothers have sustained.

Resolved, That this Chapter has lost a most faithful and honored member, and the world one who has been an example of Christian manhood.

Resolved, That we extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved, That as a token of respect to the memory of our departed brother the badge of the order be worn inverted for thirty days. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be entered on the records of Alpha Phi, one sent to his family, and also be published in the Caducatus and the college papers.

LOCALS.

Dave Elliott, '98, visited Lewisburg Thursday last.

Miss Jean Eberts, '02, has returned to her work in the College.

State College came en masse to the game. All the students were there.

Ballentine, '99, spent Sunday in Muncy, the guest of Shumaker, ex-'00.

The team left yesterday noon for the M. A. C. game at Baltimore to-day.

Sam Wittenmeyer came down from Cornell to take in the State-Bucknell game.

The Mandolin and Guitar Club will give a concert in Bucknell Hall on Nov. 18th.

Some of the Senior Sem. girls obtained permission to attend the State-Bucknell game.

Mr. Booth was a visitor in town last week. He accompanied his daughter to the game on Saturday.

L. J. Shumaker, ex-1900, witnessed the game at Williamsport Saturday. He expects to return to school next term.

It has been boasted by State men that they will have the second best team in Pennsylvania next year. The quarter-back is the only man they will lose.

Rev. Russell H. Conwell will deliver his famous lecture, "Acres of Diamonds," at the Opera House, Milton, on Nov. 10. It will be well worth hearing.

The F. & M. game at Reading on next Saturday has been carefully arranged for, and there are bright prospects for a good attendance. It goes without saying that it will be a good game.

Academy Notes.
John M. Evans preached in the Baptist Church, at Danville, Sunday.

Gearhart spent Sunday with his parents at Lock Haven.

Professor Stewart gave expert testimony in the court house last week.

The Academy foot ball team expects to play Shamokin High School team some time this season.

Mrs. Edwards chaperoned the college girls at the game in Williamsport last Saturday. Mrs. Graetzinger also attended the game.

Mandolin and Guitar Club.
At a Y. M. C. A. reception at Milton on Saturday the Mandolin and Guitar Club rendered the program. Four selections were rendered by the club as a whole; Hague sang a solo; Schilling played a mandolin solo; Weymouth, fute; Sterling, banjo; and Fithian gave two recitations. Other members of the club who took part were Rantz, Pearse, Meschter, Griffith and Purdy. The efforts of the musicians were very well appreciated, and a pleasant trip was enjoyed.

STATE VICTORIOUS.

nell. Matthewson punted and sent the ball to State's 25-yard line and Cure punted back 30 yards. The ball was given to Bucknell on a foul. Garner tried the quarter-back kick, but put the ball out of bounds. It was State's ball, and Cure punted 40 yards. Matthewson returned it 30 yards, and State gained 10. Scholl and Randolph made big gains ahead of the guardsback play. Maxwell made 10 yards around the end, and Scholl twice made 10 through center. Bucknell got the ball on a foul. Matthewson punted 45 yards, and Randolph made 35 yards behind Platt's interference and ten through center. Cure went through center for five. Randolph and Scholl each made five, and Maxwell took the ball for a good, big gain, being downed within a foot of the line. Cure was shoved over for a touchdown but failed to kick a goal.

Score—State 16, Bucknell 0. Matthewson kicked 35 yards and Scholl carried the ball back 15. Maxwell made 25 yards and Platt 30. State was penalized the ball going to Bucknell. Matthewson kicked 40 yards, and Cure returned it. Garner gained five yards before he was downed. Matthewson kicked 35 yards, and time was up with the ball in State's territory. Line-up and summary:

literature which the millions of these nations will ever possess. Dr. Boardman expressed his approval of the attempt to invent a phonetic alphabet and pointed out the defects of the English alphabet. It contains only twenty-six letters while there are nearly fifty distinct sounds in good English pronunciation. Accordingly some of these twenty-six letters have to do all sorts of extra duty. The phonetic alphabet contains as many characters as there are distinct sounds. This alphabet, however, being a general reform will take reform slowly. Regarding printing he said "Were I asked what I thought was the greatest of human inventions, I should answer: first, the invention of the art of writing; second, the invention of the art of printing." It has hastened the enlightenment of the world.

The question of a universal alphabet the speaker thought impossible for the present. A written language is from a spoken language. It must be rather the invention of a universal speech. Those who accept the Bible as God's own scripture believe that the tongues of men were confounded at the Tower of Babel. Pentecost reverses Babel and while Babel means "City of Confusion" Jerusalem means "City of Peace" and Jesus Christ it is who is the bond of the coming unity and eternal language and is every world. Jesus Christ is the Alpha and Omega and every intermediate letter in God's infinite alphabet.

DR. BOARDMAN'S THIRD LECTURE.

The third and last lecture was delivered at 2:30 P. M. Wednesday in Chapel upon the "Disarmament of Nations or Mankind One Body." In view of the Russian Czar's recent disarmament proposition this subject was particularly interesting. The substance of the lecture was originally given in a public address in Washington City, March 14th 1890, before a very distinguished audience of American and foreign dignitaries. It was repeated later in London and also appeared in pamphlet form. Recent events have brought out a third edition October 7th, 1898, revised and enlarged. A copy of this edition has been placed in the University Library by the author and is well worth studying. An outline of the lecture in a limited space is almost impossible and as much more can be gotten out of it by a careful reading we would recommend those interested to the Library.

Institute Items.

Mr. Booth spent Saturday and Sunday with his daughter, Evelyn.

Dr. Harris and Dr. Boardman took tea at the Institute on Tuesday evening.

Miss Wells, 1901, spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister in Williamsport.

Miss Bunker has returned to her work after being absent at the marriage of her sister.

Mrs. Hulley and her mother, Mrs. Mayham, were the guests of Miss Stanton on Wednesday evening.

The At Home on Monday proved fully as pleasant as former affairs of the same kind. These monthly receptions are always much enjoyed by the students.

The basket ball team has been chosen and comprises the following girls: Miss Booth, Captain, Miss Devitt, Miss Werner, Miss Higgins and Miss Milo McCane. The team has become the proud possessor of a new ball.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1898.

NO. 8.

ANOTHER TIE GAME.

The Most Exciting of the Season
With Score 11 to 11.

With F. and M. team in the pink of condition, having prepared the entire season for this game, and our boys a trifle over-trained, with a muddy and rocky field, the most exciting and interesting game of this year's schedule was played at Reading. The unexpected was continually occurring and none should judge or criticize the score. The spectator could hardly anticipate the next move, but the plucky finish of Bucknell in the last five minutes of play brought deserved applause. F. & M. put up a fast and snappy game, in which numerous tricks were tried; Bucknell showed the effects of but one practice in the week, caused by the game Tuesday and the rainy days, but they were right in the game at the finish. The Y. M. C. A. and High School boys rooted profusely for the Orange and Blue, almost surpassing the great number of F. & M. supporters who were composed of one hundred students and many alumni. The crowd was thoroughly satisfied with the exhibition, and the game if played next year will be a financial success.

The following is an account in full of the play.
The game began at 3 o'clock with Franklin and Marshall kicking off and Bucknell defending the south goal with no advantage of the wind for either. Stoneroads sent the oval well into Bucknell's territory, where Garner caught and passed it back to F. and M.'s 50 yard line. On the first line-up Metzenthien, the blue and white's speedy right half-back, circled the Lewisburg team's right end for a dash of 45 yards. This gave F. and M. life and Peters hit the centre for 4 yards, followed by Zimmerman with 5 more in the same place. Zimmerman again plunged through the centre for 7 yards and a touch-down, which took exactly 2 minutes. Stoneroads then kicked the goal.

Humeston now kicked off for Bucknell and McLaughlin ran the ball back 7 yards before being downed. F. & M. was shortly forced to kick, but soon regained the leather on Bucknell's quarter-back kick. After a few steady gains the Lancaster team lost the ball on a fumble. Bucknell slowly forced it to F. & M.'s 5-yard line, where the latter made a stubborn defense. Schmaeder, the "blue and white's" plucky captain and left end, who was doing great work in smashing up Bucknell's interference, was injured here and was replaced by Kinsey. Matthews now electrified the crowd by kicking a difficult field goal from the 15 yard line at a sharp angle. F. & M. then kicked out to Matthews, who returned the kick, Brubaker making a fair catch. The "blue and white" punted again and Bucknell did likewise. At this point Metzenthien made another great sprint of 40 yards, but F. & M. soon lost the ball on a quarter-back kick. Bucknell now kicked the ball out of danger and the first half closed with the oval in the Lancaster team's possession, and the score 6 to 5 in its favor. Between the halves a large crowd of F. & M. supporters, with their colors flying to the breeze, marched around the gridiron singing college songs and giving their yells.

On the first kick-off in the second half Metzenthien brought the spectators to their feet by catching the ball on F. & M.'s 5-yard line, and by beautiful dodging made a half raising run of 105 yards through the entire Bucknell team for a touch-down. Bucknell then kicked off to F. and M., who lost the oval on downs. Bucknell now tried a place kick but was blocked, and their opponents did the same on a punt for them a few seconds later. Here Peters had his jacket torn completely off. On resuming play, Brubaker made a fair catch on F. and M.'s 47-yard line, from where Stoneroads tried a place field goal, but made a dismal failure. Matthews now had another kick blocked, but Bucknell by steady gains began carrying the ball up the field and had it on F. and M.'s 25-yard line. From here on a fake pass, Stanton planted the ball behind the goal. Bucknell caught the punt out, and amid great excitement, Prichard kicked a pretty goal that tied the score. Bucknell kicked off and Treichler ran the leather back 15 yards before downed. Metzenthien made another pretty run of 20 yards, and the game ended with F. & M. in possession of the ball, and the score 11 to 11. The long runs of Metzenthien and the work of the ends were Franklin & Marshall's features, while Cober did the best all around work for Bucknell. Both full backs were much in evidence with their punting. The line up:

Maryland Athletic Club was defeated on the Maryland Goal at Baltimore Tuesday, by the score of 6 to 5 in our favor. Our boys showed the effect of the reaction after the state game, but kept up their record of the year in crawling out of a tight hole, not losing confidence when victory seemed out of the question. No star playing was done on either side, but yet the game was interesting to the numerous spectators.

Bucknellites in the Election.

The following is a clipping from The Lewisburg Journal: William A. Marr, a former Lewisburg citizen and one of the original stockholders of the Buffalo Milling Co., was elected Judge in Schuylkill county; D. W. Shipman, District Attorney in Northumberland county; F. B. Hargrave to the legislature from Westmoreland, and Ward R. Bliss '74, to the legislature from Delaware. T. F. Strieby for Congress from the Williamsport District and Sam J. Iredell from the 1st Congressional District in New Jersey, we regret to say, did not fare so well. Ex-U. S. Senator John Mitchell, has been chosen judge in Tioga Co. He received his education at Bucknell.

B. K. Focht, who at one time attended the Academy and caused its Principal considerable trouble in "locating" him, was defeated in his fight for re-election to the State Legislature.

Dr. Wayland Dead.

Dr. Herman Lincoln Wayland died at Wernersville, Pa., on Nov. 7, after an illness of several months.

He was born at Providence, R. I., in 1830, the son of Francis Wayland, President of Brown University. He was graduated from Brown in 1849, and was ordained pastor of a Baptist Church at Worcester, Mass., soon after. In 1861 he was made chaplain of the Seventh Regiment of Connecticut Volunteers. He was present at several battles and after that of James Island received honorable mention in the official report of the brigade commander.

After the war he served as Professor of Rhetoric and Logic at Kalamazoo College, Mich., and as President of Franklin College, Ind., until 1872 when he became editor of the National Baptist, which place he held until 1894. Since then he has been the Philadelphia editor of the Baptist Examiner.

Dr. Wayland took a deep and serious interest in the social problems of the day. He wrote numerous articles and delivered many lectures on these subjects. For several years he had been a lecturer on Sociology at Bucknell. He was also considered one of the brightest and wittiest popular lecturers of the day.

His funeral took place on Wednesday, Nov. 9, from the First Baptist Church, Phila.

Chemical and Physical Society.

The meeting of last Thursday was very well attended. Robbins, '00, gave an account of the theory of rain, and illustrated it with experiments. He also described attempts made to cause rain, and the time and money so wasted.

Simons, '00, then explained several of the processes connected with the manufacture of cards. Taken all together, it was an interesting and profitable meeting.

A New Post Office.

The settlement west of Lewisburg, which has been known for many years as "Linaville," now puts on city airs and has been presented with a post office by "Uncle Sam." It will be known as "Bucknell." The office was secured through the efforts of Mr. D. H. Getz and Mr. Allen Catherman is the postmaster.

Call in at Evans' Book Store and see a copy of the Souvenir Program of Yale-Harvard Ball Game of '97. The book sold when first published at $1.00. It has been reduced to 25 cents. It is full of illustrations, very neatly bound in colors and will be interesting to lovers of foot-ball.

The College girls have been diligently practicing basket ball all the term with Richard Bell as coach and have chosen the following team: Miss White, Captain, Miss Scott, Miss Shires, Miss Shepherd, and Miss Zierden. This team expects to play a match game with the Institute team in the near future.

The Rev. Dr. Wayland.

At a meeting of the faculty the following minutes were prepared by Prof. Perrine was ordered engraved on the records:
The faculty learn with sorrow of the death of the Rev. Heman Lincoln Wayland, D. D., on Monday, Nov. 7th, 1898, and they record their appreciation of his intelligent and successful labors in the cause of higher Christian education, especially as he came in contact with it in this University. From earliest days he enjoyed superior educational advantages by using which he laid the foundation of a distinguished life as teacher, preacher, college president, author and editor, and in these various callings he toiled as an educator to persuade men by instructing them to all best things. His interest in our welfare was shown in numerous visits to the University both as stated lecturer and as a friend on Commencement occasions, when his genial nature and sprightly wit assisted greatly in the good fellowship and brilliancy of the day. While editor of "The National Baptist" and later as Philadelphia editor of "The Examiner" he wrote many lines appreciative of this University and its professors, and in common with the friends of education everywhere, especially with those who labor in the great cause under Baptist auspices, we feel that while Dr. Wayland has gone to the reward of a well spent life, we have sustained a loss that will be repaired only when another as well furnished as he appears to take his place.

Preliminary Debate.

The following men have been chosen for the prelim. of the Junior Debate: Bunnell, DeWitt, Grimm, Harvey, E. Reed, S. Reed, Stabler, Morris, Schaeffer, Schilling, Kress. The prelim. will take place next Friday evening in Bucknell Hall.
Already several basket ball players are practicing at goals in the gymnasium at odd times. The prospect is good for a live team. To be sure several of the last team have left, but there is experienced material among the new men. A game has been arranged for some time the latter part of December. This is earlier than usual, and will necessitate sharp practice after the football season ends.
Emmons L. Peck spent Saturday among the soldiers at Camp Meade. His description of their life and food is not calculated to inspire one with a desire to win military honors.
Dr. Hulley is to speak before the Baptist Congress at Buffalo, on Nov. 18. His subject is: "On what grounds should we accept the biblical books as our Bible?"
Miss Goddard's father, who is a missionary to Ning Foo, China, has just finished the translation of the Bible in one of the Chinese dialects.
Mr. H. R. Maxwell, '97, Hampden-Sidney, was the guest of the local chapter of Phi Gamma Delta Saturday and Sunday.

Grant spent last Tuesday at his home.

Dr. Harris will lead the Y. M. C. A. meeting this evening.

DeWitt, 1900, was home Tuesday casting his vote for honest government.

The remaining undergraduate Bucknell soldiers were mustered out last week.

Improvements are still the order of the day. The Registrar's office has been repaired.

"Doc" Mount, a former Bucknellian, has entered Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia.

Co. I, 4th Regt. P. V., Col. H. Calder commanding, which was in Porto Rico, was mustered out last week.

The members of Phi Kappa Psi attended in a body the funeral of Mr. Elisha Shorkley last Wednesday afternoon.

Ex-U. S. Senator John I. Mitchell, who received his education at Bucknell has been re-elected to the Common Pleas Bench in Tioga County.

"Doc" Levan has been discharged from the Sunbury Hospital and is now in Lewisburg. After spending a few weeks in getting stronger he will return to school.

Lieut. Frank B. Hargrave, '89, Co. I, Tenth Regt. P. V., now at Manila, has been elected assemblyman from West Moreland Co. He is quoted as being an anti-Quay man.

It is reported that Dr. Geo. Dana Boardman is taking a prominent part in the movement to bring some ten thousand members of a persecuted Russian religious sect to this country.

Hon. Ward R. Bliss, '74, has again been returned to the legislature from Delaware County. His name is being mentioned very prominently for the speakership of the House.

Last week a mistake was made in saying that some of the Senior Seminary girls obtained permission to go to the State game. It should have been the Senior College girls. They have established a precedent. Every year in the future the Senior College girls are to go to the State game.

The Y. M. C. A. boys of Reading, gave our team this yell after he game on Saturday:

"Was is letz mit die Booknell team?"

Sie is all recht!
Was is all recht?

Die ganz Booknell team!"

The funeral of Mr. R. Collins was held from his former home at Roaring Branch, in the Methodist church, of which he had been a member. The sermon was preached by Rev. R. L. Armstrong, assisted by Dr. Harris and Clarence L. Peaslee, Esq., of Williamsport. A number of students were present. The pallbearers were members of Kappa

Death of Mr. Elisha Shorkley.

Mr. Elisha Shorkley died suddenly last Monday at his home at Lewisburg of heart failure. He was seventy-one years old. He was born in Providence, R. I., and came to Lewisburg at the age of twenty, and became a member of the Marsh Foundry Co. His wife (nee Miss Sarah K. Meixell) and four children, three sons, George, Thornton M. and Charles C., and one daughter, Ruth A., survive him.

RESOLUTIONS.

Bucknell University,
Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 9, '98.
Whereas, It has seemed fitting in the infinite wisdom of God to remove from this life the father of our friend and class brother, Thornton Moore Shorkley; be it

Resolved, That we the Class of 1900 extend to him and his family our sincere sympathy in this hour of their bereavement. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and also be published in the college papers. Chas. W. Harvey, A. J. Sherwood, Eliza J. Martin, Committee.

Phi Kappa Psi Hall, November 8, 1898.
Whereas, It has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to bring to a close the useful and faithful career of our brother, Elisha Shorkley, as a tribute to his memory. Be it

Resolved, That we, the Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity express our feeling for the loss that we have sustained and that we extend to his family and our brothers, George and Thornton Moore, our sincerest sympathy in their time of bereavement. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be recorded upon the chapter minutes and be published in the college papers. MORRIS V. GUNDBY, ELWIN L. NESBITT, Committee.

Hazen accompanied the team to Baltimore on Tuesday and to Reading on Saturday. At the former no money was made and only about twenty dollars on the F. & M. game.

John Davis spent last Tuesday in Nanticoke.

Mr. Vinton, Secretary of the Volunteer Band, and Mrs. Parry took tea at the Seminary on Friday evening. Mr. Vinton afterwards led chapel and made a short address to the girls.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Alumnae on Tuesday evening the program was on "Recent English Novelties" and was as follows: Piano Duet, Misses Burke and Hall; Current Events, Miss Iza Martin; Report on Conan Doyle and Anthony Hope, Miss Bates; Report on Mrs. Humphrey Ward and Edna Lyall, Mrs. Gretzinger; Report on Hall Caine and Israel Zangwill, Mrs. Martin; music: Miss Iza Martin, Reading from Israel Zangwill, Joseph the Dreamer, Mrs. Martin.

A game of foot ball was played on the college campus on Saturday afternoon between the Lewisburg High School and Central Pennsylvania College, better known as New Berlin. The score was 5-0 in favor of the High School. The feature of the game was a ludicrous trick by which New Berlin was prevented from scoring. New Berlin was on the High School's 5-yard line, and advancing the ball, when five high school sympathizers from the sidelines stepped in and helped hold them till time was called. The increased number of opponents was not noticed by the officials or the men from New Berlin.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1898.

NO. 9.

LAFAYETTE WINS

By Having an Unfair Umpire to Help Them Out.

Bucknell received the worst treatment of the year at Easton, Saturday; in fact such as could hardly be expected from college men. Had the boys given in and allowed the two Rutgers men to officiate the score would have been much greater in the home team's favor. The grounds were in fairly good condition, though it had rained up to two o'clock. The game was called at 2 o'clock with Bucknell defending the west goal. Lafayette kicked off; the ball being returned by Pritchard. Lafayette lost the ball on downs, Bucknell pushing the pigskin down the ten yard line with furious onslaughts, when the umpire gave it to Lafayette. Bray kicked out of danger. Garner advancing the ball fifteen yards. It surged to and fro during the remainder of the half being in Eastonian's territory most of the time. There was continual slugging by the Lafayette men, which remained unnoticed by the umpire, even when Thompson and Rowe called Mr. McMahon's attention to it, he said that he was not looking that way. The first half ended with neither side having scored. In the second half Lafayette opened with the wind to their back, expecting to take advantage of Bray's phenomenal kicking, which was of the inferior kind as compared with that of others we have seen this year. Hunston kicked off, Bray getting the ball returned to it. Hunston had run down the field, being tackled was thrown on the ground. While lying there on his stomach, Bray deliberately jumped on his back with both heels and it was through no fault of his that Hunston was not kicked out, but the Umpire did not see the performance.

The ball was rushed forward by Bucknell and lost on Lafayette thirty yard line. Bray soon kicked, the oval whirling through the air bounded from Garner's hand, Rutter jumping at it, missed the ball while Garner was on the pigskin in a second, having it under him with Rutter on his back. The Referee gave the ball to Bucknell, to which Captain Best objected, and thirteen minutes was lost in discussion. The Lafayette authorities claimed the ball for Lafayette as they said Rutter's hands were on it first, disregarding the fact that it was in Garner's possession. The Umpire to whom referred to, claimed it was Lafayette's ball, and to him it was given. Bucknell's ire was up, the finest performance of the game was in holding the ball back, not allowing it to be advanced two feet in four downs. Pritchard kicked, the ball was blocked, Lafayette getting the ball on the fifteen-yard line, Lafayette pushed Chalmers over for the only touchdown of the day.

After the kick off with three minutes and thirty seconds to play, Bucknell played the game furiously, advancing the ball swiftly and surely down the field. On the three-yard line with twenty-five seconds to play, the crowd swayed on the field, one man even getting among the players. Garner gave the signal for play, but Rosenberger held the ball with his foot, Ammerman not being able to put it in play; before Garner could call time the second half was up. Had our team received proper and square treatment, we would have won as our playing was superior to Lafayette's, even though Cober and Matthews were absent. Thompson played a fierce game all through, and the players kept their tempers although the action of Lafayette's men was sufficient to raise the wrath of a saint.

Referee—Byron Dickson. U. of P. Umpire—Mr. McMahon. Rutgers. Linesmen—Speed and Weymouth. Bucknell. Timekeepers—Kress, Hubley. Time of halves—25 minutes. Touchdown—Chalmers. Goal—Chalmers.

Junior Debate.

The first Preliminary Debate of the Junior Class was held on Friday, Nov. 18 at 4 o'clock. Nearly every chair in Theta Alpha Hall was filled by students who were interested in the debate, the question and the speakers. The question was, "Resolved, That the United States should adopt a colonial policy." Dr. Hyatt, ex-Consul to Cuba and Prof. Dwyer, acted as judges. After the debate Dr. Hyatt said: "I have given much time to the study of this question, but I have not found arguments better in quality and arrangement than those presented by the young men." Bunnell, Carringer, DeWitt, Grim, Harvey, Morris, Pearce and Stubler were chosen for the second debate which will be held in Bucknell Hall.

Registrar Gretzinger was in South Eastern Pennsylvania on University business the latter part of last week.

Dr. Wayland's Memory.

Memorial services were held yesterday at the Baltimore Avenue Baptist Church, Fifty-second street and Baltimore avenue, Philadelphia, for the late Rev. Dr. H. L. Wayland. In the morning an appropriate sermon was preached by the pastor of the church, Rev. Joseph A. Bennett, on the life of Dr. Wayland. In the evening a general memorial service was held, when a number of addresses were made. Rev. Lemuel Moss, president of the Baptist Historical Society, said: "The late Dr. Wayland was my instructor in college. Although we were widely separated afterward yet we always remained friends. He was active in the founding of this church society."

His chivalry was suggestive of that of the middle ages. In him was exhibited that manliness of character which goes to make true men. He was always regarded as one who was devoted to his work and liked to help others. He always gave his services where there was distress or difficulty and was in my estimation a true knight of God."

Rev. Dr. J. Wheaton Smith, who was to speak, was too ill to be present but sent a short sketch. Professor Vetter spoke of Dr. Wayland's culture, paying a marked tribute to his scholarly treatment of all subjects he discussed or wrote about. Addresses were also made by B. F. Dennison on Dr. Wayland's interest in missions, and Rev. Dr. A. J. Rowland on his piety.

Bucknell vs. University of Buffalo.

The foot ball team will play the University of Buffalo at that place on Thanksgiving Day. The men will leave here on Wednesday and will go on the Lehigh Valley's famous "Black Diamond Express." During their stay in Buffalo they will be quartered at the Mansion House. After the game, between 8 and 10 o'clock in the evening, they will be tendered a reception by Dr. George Whitman, an honored alumnus of the University, at his home, 334 South Division St. A number of the boys contemplate taking in Niagara Falls on Friday.

Yale annually buys $7,000 worth of books for her library. Harvard spends $18,000 for the same purpose and Columbia $43,000.—Ex.

The subject of the Yale-Princeton debate which is to be held in New Haven, Dec. 16, is "Resolved, That the United States should annex Cuba."

The trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have lately taken steps looking toward the admission of women to under-graduate courses in the college.

Friday Evening's Concert.

It was a well filled house that greeted the Mandolin and Guitar Club, at Bucknell Hall, Friday evening.

The entertainment was a rare musical feast and highly appreciated by the many music loving friends of the school.

The first number was a waltz by Bellanghi rendered by the entire Club, and was played with a unity and snap that showed careful practice.

The sweet tones of the zither were well brought out by Miss Gregory.

Mr. Schilling delighted the audience with a mandolin solo, and Mr. Sterling picked the banjo in a lively manner.

Miss White sang "Were I a Bird of the Air" with guitar accompaniment. Other solos were rendered by Mr. G. Blood, violin, and Miss Chillon.

The violin and piano sounded well together at the hands of W. A. Bartol and Miss B. Bartol. Miss Conright at the piano and R. Wendel with violinello made a very pleasing combination.

The Zenda Waltzes were well given on mandolins, guitars and lute by Messrs. Schilling, Hottenstein, Griffith, Pearce, Meschter, Rentz and Purdy.

The Club was organized at the beginning of the term by Dr. Avignuet and has since been under the careful and masterful direction of Geo. F. Schilling. It now numbers forty, being the largest ever organized at Bucknell.

The Committee on Intercollegiate Debating is busy perfecting arrangements for our contests this year. On December 2, each society will have a debate and five men will be selected from each to enter the final preliminary contest two weeks later. In this final contest of ten men two men will be chosen to meet the debaters from either F. & M. or some other college with which arrangements are now being made by the committee. In case we have two inter-collegiate debates, the remaining eight men will enter a second contest for the purpose of selecting two more men. Let it be noted that to enter either of the final preliminary contests it is necessary to enter the contest in the literary societies on December 2.

Inter-collegiate debating has aroused much interest in the colleges of the country from the smallest to the largest. Within a very few years the debate has become one of the events of the year. Great care is exercised by the committees to get the best men in the institutions. After they are chosen they are trained almost as carefully as the 'varsity' football team for its big game. "Scrub teams" are fitted against the regular debaters and the question is discussed from every point of view. Certain members of the faculty attend these practice debates and criticize freely. The utmost secrecy is observed by all the men taking part in the training contests. Every man is in honor bound to do his utmost toward having his college win. This, in brief, is the plan passed at Princeton, Yale and Harvard.

Let the men come out to the preliminary contests. Let every debater prepare. We must have the best men if we wish to win.

From Bucknellites at Michigan. We can only with difficulty believe the news which makes us acquainted with the sad termination of a life so active and so energetic as that of Merton Roscoe Collins. It is almost impossible, at times, for us to believe the story of his death. Were we justified we might ask why the Divine Power has called so strong a mind and personality from earth. We looked to him as one of the men whom our Alma Mater would in years to come be proud.

It is not necessary for us to read the college papers to know that every student and professor of Bucknell mourns his death; for whatever criticism may be made on isolated acts of his life, he had a strong mind and a kind heart and won the friendship of every one with whom he came in contact. Making friends, with the ability to retain them, was a happy faculty which he possessed to an eminent degree. We are among those who mourn his death and it will belong ere we lose from memory our college acquaintance and friend, Merton Roscoe Collins.

A remarkable feature of the Lafayette-Bucknell game was the absence of ladies. Not one was present.

A very interesting letter from Slifer, '98, appeared in the Lewisburg Journal last week. It describes a portion of his journey to Alaska.

Many are the expressions of regret that the basket ball game this afternoon between the College and Seminary girls is for ladies only.

Jenkinson, ex-'99, now at Dickinson, paid a visit to Bucknell friends Friday and Saturday. Injuries have prevented his playing football the last part of the season.

Basket-ball practice will begin immediately after the close of the foot ball season, and all candidates for the team should report at the gymnasium as soon as possible.

The National Relief Association has decided to suspend operations in Puerto Rico on Dec. 1. Major Groff is expected to return before the beginning of next month.

Those who have subscribed toward the support of the foot ball team, will kindly pay their subscriptions at once to the manager so that as many bills as possible may be paid by the close of the season.

J. K. Weaver, M. D., a member of the board of trustees and a graduate of the college, has been honorably discharged from the volunteer service in which he very creditably served as a brigade surgeon.

Bruce Hurst Trimmer, a member of Co. A., 12th regiment, Pa. Vols., who on account of his enlistment in the service last spring, was therefore unable to complete his work at that time in order to graduate, has completed the same and has been awarded a diploma by the faculty and trustees.

Rawlinson, Purdy, Wolfe, Pitts and Meserve, as representatives of the Student Volunteer Band, held meetings in the different churches at New Berlin on Sunday. The meeting in the afternoon was particularly for the men of Central Pennsylvania College, and was very well attended.

An Innovation in Class.

It is not often that the practical part of a study can be demonstrated in the college class room, but the Juniors in Parliamentary Law had last Friday afternoon the privilege of listening to the Hon. Wm. Nesbit, member of the last house of Representatives at Harrisburg, at Dr. Hulley's request. Mr. Nesbit explained and gave the class a good insight of the workings of the House and Senate; showed how a Justice of the Peace by a multiplicity of Indictments was able to make as much as the salary of a Judge; he explained the working of machine politics, action of a caucus, lobbying, etc. He advised the boys to vote for good men regardless of party as the best way to have righteous legislation.

Having been there at the time, his description of the Capitol fire was very realistic. It could not have been incendiary because too much was being made in repairing the old building.

The Grace Church steal was made very clear, as was other recent legislation.

The whole hour was occupied in answering questions very concisely and clearly. Mr. Nesbit is a very pleasant speaker and his talk was thoroughly appreciated. The only regret is that the whole school could not have heard him.

Walter L. Hill, ex-'98, was recently admitted to the bar at Charlotte, N. C.

G. Livingston Bayard, '99, has returned from Philadelphia where he was mustered out with Battery A. Pa. Vols.

Mr. W. R. Morris, ex-'99, is playing half-back on the University of Iowa, and according to all reports is making quite a record as a foot-ball player.

A. W. Stephens, '96, recently married Miss Overholt at her home in a western town. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens are to live at Ithaca, where Mr. Stephens is conducting a book store and attending Cornell.

Mrs. Gretzinger was on the fast express between Reading and Philadelphia, which crashed into a freight wreck near Bridgeport. She escaped uninjured save a severe nervous shock. The engine was wrecked and many of the passengers were considerably bruised.

A. M. Forrester, '98, now studying law at Ann Arbor, has been selected as one of the debaters between University of Michigan and University of Pennsylvania, on the subject "Disarmament of Nations." U. of M. has not been slow to recognize Mr. Forrester's ability in this line.

Dr. Aviragnet has composed and arranged a very classical piece of music for the University Band, and has named it "Orange and Blue." With the Doctor's ability and the name it should be a very taking march.

Zeta Literary Society will give an open meeting on Friday evening, Nov. 25, at half past seven o'clock, to which she extends a cordial invitation to all her college friends. The program for the evening will consist of scenes from "The Princess."

Ira Taitworth spent Sunday with Sunbury friends.

Miss Phillips dined at the Academy Sunday evening.

A large number of the boys will spend the Thanksgiving vacation at their homes.

Daniel Stuart, preached to a large and appreciative congregation at Montandon church Sunday morning.

It is with regret that we note the absence of most of the Academy students from the "At Home" given by Miss Stanton on the first Monday in each month. It should be understood that Academy students are as warmly welcomed as College students. The "At Home" is a social function independent of classes, departments or social standing. No one can offer the "need of time" as an excuse; for the "At Home" occurs at an hour when very few students want to study, and an hour or two in social intercourse will give as much, and to most of us, more recreation than a walk or any other form of physical exercise will give. Come boys, let us comply with our Principal's wishes and accept Miss Stanton's kind invitation; for it is our interests that she has at heart.

Miss Hanna has almost entirely recovered from her recent attack of the grip.

The Misses Pennebacher, former pupils of the Institute, spent two days with Miss Stanton during the past week.

Miss Hayes, the State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spent Sunday at the Institute and while there led several meetings.

All of the girls are looking forward to the approaching holidays and many of them are going home or have accepted invitations to spend the time with friends.

The College and Institute girls have been busily canvassing for tickets to a proposed course of lectures on music by Father Gantz, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. They have already been promised over a hundred tickets and are working for a larger list in the near future.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. III.

LEWISTOWN, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1898.

NO. 10.

BUFFALO, 36; BUCKNELL, 5.

A Hard Game on Thanksgiving Day With the Univ. of Buffalo.

U. of Pa. was not the only team that had a mean field to play on last Thursday. At the grounds of the University of Buffalo the snow lay four or five inches deep, a raw wind was blowing, and everything was muddy, slushy, disheartening. Still the boys did their best, and succeeded very well, as the following account clipped from the Buffalo Express, will show.

For the visitors Reimer, Thompson, Humeston, Garner, Matthews and Pritchard played finely. Reimer made the only touchdown scored by Bucknell. Thompson and Matthews were compelled to retire by reason of injuries. Humeston's fierce and fearless tackling resulted in his temporary disablement several times during the game, but he managed to toe the mark every time. His game-ness excited the admiration of everybody. The Bucknell men claimed that they played four substitutes, the regulars being disabled by injuries received in the fierce game with Lafayette last Saturday. Several of them said but for that they would have given Buffalo a harder game. At that they declared that the local team was stronger than Lafayette. They employed several neat tricks, but none of them with much effectiveness except the tandem formation.

In the toss-up for positions, Buffalo won the north goal. Bucknell kicked off to Buffalo's 30-yard line, Pikey bringing the ball back 10 yards before he was downed. Kruse, assisted by magnificent interference, made a run of 30 yards about Bucknell's left end. White broke through right for 15 yards and Gordon hit the line for 7 yards. With the ball on Bucknell's 25-yard line it was passed to Cursons, who carried it over for a touch down after two minutes' play. Gordon kicked goal.

Score: Buffalo 6, Bucknell 0. Bucknell kicked off to Buffalo's 20-yard line. Cursons returned it for 12 yards. DeCue fumbled and the ball went to Thompson. Magee made two gains of 4 and 5 yards respectively about right end. Buffalo's ball on a fumble. Short gains by Cursons, Pikey and White, when the ball was Bucknell's on a fumble. It was 10 yards from the Buffalo line and Bucknell holding well, when Gordon attempted to punt. He kicked too low. The ball struck one of his own men and bounded to Reimer, who carried it over for a touchdown. The attempt to kick goal failed as the ball slipped from the holder just as Matthews connected with it, sliding on the ground.

Score: Buffalo 6, Bucknell 5. Gordon kicked off. Ball went out of bounds. When returned Kruse made three yards. Gordon punted to Matthews, who punted 40 yards. Cursons caught ball and made a run of 40 yards about Bucknell's right end when he was downed on a beautiful tackle by Reimer. Kruse hit center for 3 yards and McPherson for 5. Bucknell got ball on a fumble, but lost it an instant later in precisely the same way. Thomas made a small gain of 5 yards when the ball was passed to McPherson, who circled Bucknell's left end for 50 yards. Cursons made 30 yards, being assisted by the beautiful interference of Pikey, McPherson and Gordon. McPherson advanced the ball 10 yards and was given 5 yards for off-side play. The ball was on Bucknell's 5-yard line. Gordon was pushed over for a touchdown. Gordon kicked goal.

Score: Buffalo 12, Bucknell 5. Bucknell kicked off. Kruse fumbled and DeCue got the ball and carried it 15 yards. McPherson made 8 yards and Cursons 15. McPherson went about the end for 5 yards more and Cursons added 10 yards by a similar gain when the half ended with the ball on Bucknell's 30-yard line. In the second half the Bucknell boys were so numb and stiff from cold that they could not offer successful resistance to the heavier Buffalo team, and 24 points were made, not without effort though. Once Bucknell held on her 5-yard line for three downs, but succumbed finally.

The line up was

COLLEGE 9, SEM. 2.

The Girls Play Basket Ball in the Gynasium.

On last Tuesday afternoon, in the presence of an enthusiastic crowd of girls, the game between the basket ball teams of the College girls and the Institute was played in the College gymnasium. The girls had practised hard during the whole term, Richard Bell being the College coach while Calvin Elliot performed that duty for the Seminary. During the first half the College team had the goal at the west end of the gymnasium, and their sympathizers occupied the portion of the gallery nearest their team while the Seminary girls were lined up above the goal of their team. Miss Pooley was marshal for the College and performed her duty nobly, not allowing her side to lack the enthusiasm which comes from earnest cheering. The College girls had several new yells which ably reinforced the familiar "Rubies, gems and pearls," which, with the horns on both sides made the walls fairly ring. Neither team had practiced in the Gym. with the exception of a few minutes just before the game which were spent in tossing goals. About 5 o'clock the electric lights were turned on and were enthusiastically greeted.

The game was called at 4:30 with the College girls playing for the west goal. The ball was thrown up by the referee and the game commenced with the College team playing well but reserving their strongest playing. The Sem. team played up hard, and, within a few minutes, made a goal. The ball was thrown up again and this time the College team began to show their mettle and succeeded in keeping the ball near their goal for the greatest part of the time. Before the end of the first half the College had thrown two goals and one from a toss, making the score 5 to 2, in favor of the College team.

After ten minutes rest the ball was again thrown up, the College team this time throwing for the east goal. Shortly after the beginning of this half a goal was thrown by the College. The ball was thrown up again and, after a few minutes, a second goal was thrown by the College team. Shortly after time was called the score being 9 to 2 in favor of the College.

During the second half the Sem. team weakened perceptibly while the College team put in some splendid playing. Miss Dick took the place of Miss Werner, and Miss Milo McCane at Miss Vaughn in the second half.

The line-up was as follows:

Miss White Centre. Miss Booth Miss Zierden 1 2 3; Miss Higgins Miss Scott 1 2 3; Miss Vaughn Miss Shepherd 1 2 3; Miss Werner Miss Shires 1 2 3; Miss Devitt

Referee, Prof. Kauffman; Umpires, Messrs. Bell and Elliot; Score-keeper, Miss Watkins; Time-keeper, Miss Woodard; College goals, Miss Zierden, 3, Miss White, 1, free toss, Miss Shepherd, 1; Sem. goals, Miss Time, first half, 20 minutes, second half, 15 minutes.

Concert by Bucknell Musicians.

Thanksgiving evening the Mandolin and Guitar and Glee Clubs gave a concert under the auspices of the Milton Baptist Church. This is the first concert given outside of Lewistown the present term and the prospects are very bright for a successful season. Both selections by the clubs and solos were of a superior order and were well received and appreciated. After the musical program an informal reception was held and refreshments served. Quite a number of boys accompanied the clubs to Milton and all report a good time. The program follows:

Selection by Mandolin and Guitar Club.

Mandolin Solo, G. E. Schilling.

Selection by Glee Club.

Banjo Solo with Guitar Accompaniment, Messrs. Sterling and Schilling.

Vocal Solo, Mr. Hague.

Mandolin solo, Schilling.

Selection by Mandolin and Guitar Club.

By special request during the reception the Glee Club rendered quite a few selections being encouraged several times.

Zeta Literary Society Entertains.

On Friday evening last the college girls in an open meeting of their literary society presented scenes from Tennyson's "Princess." The Institute chapel was well filled by visitors from town and quite a few students. The programme opened with a piano solo by Miss Ebert which was followed by others between each of the scenes. Readers told the story of the Princess while the different characters were impersonated by young ladies acting their several parts. Time alone will reveal the dramatic talent of Bucknell. The cast was as follows:

The Princess Ida, Miss Gertrude Stephens.

Lady Psyche, Miss Woodard.

Melissa, Miss Black.

The Prince, Miss Zierden.

Cyril, Miss Shepard.

Maid, Misses Wheeler and Phillips.

Messenger, Miss Grier.

BASKET BALL.

The basket ball men will start in this week to practice in Tus-tin Gymnasium under the direction of Captain C. A. Weymouth. Manager E. W. Griffith has arranged a very good schedule, which if approved and meets with fair success should return upwards of one hundred dollars as the net earnings of the season. The first game will be played with the Y. M. C. A. at Danville, on December 16th. A game between class teams will also be arranged for the purpose of raising money to equip the team. By using the jerseys and stockings of the foot ball team, the expense of fitting out the basket ball men will be greatly reduced. As soon as the schedule is complete and approved it will be printed in full in the ORANGE AND BLUE.

Deibler, '99, and Carringer, '00, made a very successful and pleasant hunting trip to Deiblers, Pa., during vacation.

O. R. Levan, '99, has returned to College and will resume his work. "Doc" was confined for a number of weeks in the Sunbury hospital with a tropical fever contracted in Porto Rico. Although the Governor's Troop has been mustered out, he has not yet been discharged, but hopes to be shortly. We are glad to welcome him back, and extend to him our congratulations upon his complete victory.

A Jolly Thanksgiving.

Principal and Mrs. Edwards, of the Academy were the means of a party of college and Seminary folks enjoying a royal good time on Thanksgiving Day.

While it is claimed that "Anticipation is better than realization" it did not seem to hold good in this instance for this festive occasion far surpassed the anticipation of any one present.

The guests arrived in time for dinner and discussed it as only students can. Then all started for a four mile jaunt in the beautiful country regions surrounding our town. Everyone was in high spirits hence the walk was traversed with great benefit. Except a broken hat for one of the members of the party.

Returning from the four mile circuit to the academy they felt that they were now really ready to do justice to the repast which they soon were seated around.

Supper ended, the company adjourned to the parlors, where for the rest of the evening nothing but Mirth and Glee reigned supreme.

At ten o'clock, promptly, the party broke up. Each one went away feeling that this Thanksgiving '98 is as a bright spot in his school life and also voted Mrs. Edwards a natural entertainer.

Those present were a number of the Senior Sen. girls and Messrs. Hall and Hazen.

Hazen, '99, preached in the Reformed church at Bloomsburg on Sunday. Harvey preached in the Baptist church there also.

Nearly all the members of the team went to see Niagara Falls on Friday, and separated there going to their various homes for the balance of the Thanksgiving vacation.

Prof. Heim was prevented by illness from taking charge of his classes yesterday. The class in Ostrology also did without their instructor, Dr. Gundy who is threatened with serious illness.

Dr. H. T. Fernald, professor of Biology at State College, called on Prof. Davis on his way home Tuesday from Pomona Grange, Pottsgrove, where he delivered an address on an Entomological subject.

Dr. Perrine did not return for classes yesterday. He left last Thursday for New Brunswick, N. J., to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law, and it is supposed that the great snow storm has prevented his return. Almost all railroad traffic in New Jersey was blocked Sunday and yesterday.

Pursuant to the plan he has followed so many years at the Institute, Dr. Aviragnet has offered a prize consisting of a Spanish book for the student passing the best examination in that branch.

Corporal Harvey Marsh, 15 Regt., P. V. I., who has been permanently detailed as orderly to Major G. G. Groll, has returned from Ponce. He brought the records of the National Relief Association to Philadelphia.

LOCALS.

Foster, '99, was in town during Thanksgiving vacation.

Prof. N. F. Davis spent Thanksgiving at Tunkhannock.

Bucknell has been beaten but once this year, by Cornell.

Riomer, Rowe and Pritchard spent Saturday in Williamsport.

"Vistay" Bower, '97, ate his Thanksgiving turkey in Lewisburg.

W. H. Parker, '97 and R. V. Rex, ex-'98, were in town on Wednesday.

Miss Lovell, 1902, visited relatives in Williamsport during the vacation.

Voris Austen, Esq., of Mt. Carmel, called on Deppen '00, on Monday afternoon.

Miss Kelly, of the Institute, spent her vacation with relatives in the country.

Remember the preliminary debates on Friday evening in the society halls. Notice subjects on the society bulletin boards.

Miss Mary Dunleavy, Institute '98, was the guest of Miss Mary Higgins Thanksgiving Day. She is at present teaching in the public schools of Mt. Carmel.

"Artie" Smith, '98, spent Thanksgiving in Lewisburg. He expects to play basket ball with the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. this season while reading law at that place.

Orders have been received in Lewisburg for the reorganization of Co. A, 12th regiment, N. G. P.

Those who wish to join should hand in their application to Captain Wm. R. Follmer.

McQuiston, '99, spent Thanksgiving hunting with Mr. Sober in Brush Valley. "Mac" being a good marksman had three pheasants and a couple of rabbits to show for his day's sport.

Reception at Buffalo.

Dr. George Whitman, '72, pastor of a Baptist church of Buffalo gave our team a reception at his home after the game on Thursday. The house and guests were adorned with Bucknell colors, and Bucknell songs were sung, including foot ball songs and "gags" like "Nobody Knows."

Miss Baum, a charming Buffalo lady rendered a solo to everybody's satisfaction. Refreshments were served and all had a good time. Dr. Whitman deserves the special thanks of Bucknell for his earnest efforts to get rooters for us to come to the game.

Phi Gamma Delta Dinner.

On Thanksgiving Day, Kurtz, '85, Editor of the Lewisburg Journal, entertained the members of his fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta.

At 3.00 P. M. they sat down to a dinner which only hungry college boys could conquer, but it took even them two hours to prove themselves victorious. These events, which Mr. Kurtz is in the habit of presenting to the different college organizations, can only be appreciated by those who have the pleasure of participating.

Father Ganss.

All the students will be glad to know that the first of the promised series of lectures by Father Ganss will be given in Bucknell Hall, at 8 o'clock. This course of lectures is given under the auspice of the Y. W. C. A. for the benefit of the Northfield fund and comprises four lectures treating of four great epochs in the history of music. 1. The Formative Period. 2. The Renaissance. 3. The Classic Period. 4. The Music of the Future. The lectures are illustrated by charts, piano and vocal selections. In chronological order the illustrations embrace fragments of Greek music, Ambrosian and Gregorian chants and contemporaneous folksong; selections from Wauley, Arcadelt, Palestrina, Muffat; from Hadyn, Mozart and Beethoven; from Wagner's opera.

Misses Brown and Wilson, Institute '99, spent a part of the vacation at McEwensville.

They say that the Buffalo has been playing in a quagmire all season, and so was inconvenienced but little by Thursday's slush. Our boys suffered from the effects of practice on a golf field.

A Piano At A Nominal Price.

Chicago's largest music house, Lyon & Healy, have bought for a fraction of its cost, the entire stock of Lyon, Potter & Co. These splendid pianos are offered without reserve until all are sold. In this stock are a number new Steinway pianos, and hundreds of new and second-hand pianos including instruments of the following well-known makes: Sterling, Huntington, A. B. Chase, Vose, Fischer, Weber, Chickering, G. W. Lyon, etc., etc. In square pianos there are fine-tuned instruments at $25, $40, $60 and upwards. In Upright Pianos new instruments at $100, $125, $140, $150, $165, $190, $200 and upwards. In Baby Grands some nice specimens at $250 and upwards. Nearly all these pianos were intended to sell for at least double these clearing sale prices. A good plan would be to order a piano, leaving the selection of it to Lyon & Healy. However they will send a list and full particulars upon application. Any piano not proving entirely satisfactory may be returned at their expense. Address simply, Lyon & Healy, Chicago. Distance is no obstacle in taking advantage of this remarkable chance to obtain a piano, for in proportion to the saving to be made the freight charges are insignificant. Write today so as to avoid disappointment.

Mr. Stanton took dinner with his sister on Thanksgiving Day.

Miss Watkins spent Friday and Saturday with friends at Shamokin.

Miss Edith McCane spent the vacation with Miss Wells at Williamsport.

Miss Myra Sprague attended the wedding of her brother during the past week.

Many of the girls have been out of town during the holiday and life at the Institute has been quiet.

Boxes have been the order of the day and have brought much pleasure to the fortunate recipients and their friends.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

C. W. Harvey addressed the Bloomsburg convention upon the topic, "How can we secure real personal work in College?"

The youngmen were not met at Watsonville, consequently there was no missionary meeting held at Turbotville on Sunday evening.

Several of the young men attended the district convention of the Y. M. C. A. which was held at Bloomsburg, Nov. 25-27. They all report a good time.

State Secretary Soper will be here during the first part of the week and will address the meeting on Tuesday evening. Every one come out to hear him.

Academy Notes.

Miss Stoner was a visitor at the Academy during the week.

Very few of the boys stayed in the Academy during the vacation.

Merle Edwards has been seriously ill for the past two weeks.

Most all of the boys received boxes from home during the holidays.

Professor Phillips spent Thanksgiving vacation with friends in Jersey.

BUCKNELL'S ELEVEN '98.

Review of the Foot Ball Season and Names of Players.

The foot ball season ended with the playing of the last game scheduled, U. of B. at Buffalo, N. Y., Thanksgiving Day. Some of the candidates reported for work Sept. 14th and ten days of hard preliminary training was done under the direction of J. V. Leshar, '96, an old Bucknell player of five years' Varsity.

With but one line-up previously, we defeated the Wyoming team by a score of 6 to 0. The next week Co. C, Bradford, was met on their own grounds, in which game no score was made. The addition of Colver and Rowe to the team strengthened it considerably. During the following Thursday's practice Captain Colver was injured to such an extent that he was unable to go to Annapolis, the lively navy team defeating us 11 to 0, with no score in the second half. On the 15th the U. of Md. team was snowed under 6 to 0, much fumbling marking the game on Bucknell's side, several scores not being made because of this weakness. On the 22d Swarthmore met the first defeat of the season by a score of 18 to 34. At the end of the first half the Quaker boys were ahead 18 to 12, but new life in the second game Bucknell 22 points, Swarthmore not being able to get into our territory. But the worst of all during the season was at Lehigh where the ball was lost on the three yard line and the best opportunity of the day lost for scoring. The ball was in the brown and white's territory three-fourths of the time. This was the second game with no score. The defeat by State College on the 5th can be attributed to the blue and white's strong team composed of a number of Bucknells and wheelwrights. State was very much much disappointed in the score, not considering it a victory. Though tired out from the effects of the hard season thus far, Bucknell defeated the M. A. C. team at Baltimore on election day 6 to 3. On the following Saturday a brilliant finish was made at the end of the second half in tying the F. & M. team 11 to 11 when victory seemed out of question. Lafayette won the game on the 19th by one touchdown with the aid of a friendly umpire from Rutgers. Time was called with the ball three yards from the goal. But the Waterloo was met at Buffalo in the shape of four inches of mud. The Buffalo men, that team averaging over twenty-four years of age with experienced players from the Big Four, being accustomed to their gridiron easily went round the ends for twenty to fifty yards. On the whole the season was not a failure, four victories, four defeats and three tie games.

There was a lack of enthusiasm on the part of most students, the town and alumni not showing up as well as in previous years.

The official record and weight of every man who has played on the Varsity during '98 is given. These are compiled from the ORANGE AND BLUE records:

Riemer Elected Captain.

The first and second teams had their pictures taken at Hunter, the photographer's, on Saturday, after which the first team, presided over by Manager Kress, proceeded to the election of captain. On first ballot Thompson, Riemer, Rowan and Mathewson were nominated. The latter withdrew. On the third ballot Riemer received 9 votes, Thompson 7, and Rowe 1. Afterward the vote in favor of Riemer was made unanimous.

Intercollegiate Debates.

The two societies held debates on Friday night for the purpose of selecting five men from each as candidates for the intercollegiate debates. From Enepi, Deibler, Bidelsbacher, Timblin, Umer and Reilly were chosen, these being the only contestants. From Theta Alpha, Lehman, Miller, Shipman, J. Snyder and Sherman were chosen out of ten contestants. Two men for the first college debate will be selected two weeks hence.

Meserve speaks at a Missionary Rally at Williamsport Wednesday evening.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Barely Saved Himself from an Infuriated Mob.

On Thanksgiving Day the usual game of foot-ball was played between Watsonville and Turbotville. Since there is always more or less confusion at this game, and it was important that the referee be one who could be heard, they chose W. H. Renn, '90.

But it seems they had not the ability to recognize and appreciate worth, for after the game the Watsonville people very inconsiderately ran our schoolmate off the field. To insure himself he jumped a fence only to land in a creek, where he lost that gray flannel you have not seen him wear for a couple of weeks.

Hastily crawling from the creek, he took refuge in a farmhouse nearby, but was followed, and the house surrounded. It took several members of the Watsonville police to rescue him from the mob that every minute threatened to seize him. He borrowed a hat, and escorted by two stalwart guardians of the peace, returned to B. U., a sadder man.

Chemical and Physical Society.

At the last meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society it was decided to give $5.50 for the purpose of furnishing the library of the Laboratory with needed periodicals. The Society has been doing this for two or three years past.

Mr. Hutchinson, '99, discussed "Nature's Food Cycle," He read a carefully prepared paper and illustrated his subject by means of a diagram on the blackboard. He showed that beginning at the bottom of the circle we have carbon dioxide and water in the air and the mineral ingredients of the soil. The energy from the sun enables plants to build these simple ingredients into nine complex ones. Now we have plant life. Animals feed solely upon these complex compounds. However, not all of plant life is turned into animal life but some return directly to the starting point in the cycle. Plants furnish animals with nitrogen, they cannot give it back to plants. Then follow the work of decomposition agencies, moulds and bacteria. In this process sometimes free nitrogen is produced, but is regained and built into higher compounds by nitrogen bacteria. These bacteria thus complete the circle. The food cycle may thus continue as long as the sun furnishes energy.

A quartette composed of Keen, Schilling, Purdy and Mescher, sang at the Baptist Church Sunday evening.

Who May Wear a "B."

Any student playing in three inter-collegiate games of basket ball, base ball, or foot ball, the winner of the Tennis Tournament, one student chosen by the Executive Board, as excelling in Gymnastics at the annual exhibition, and students qualifying in Field and Track athletics may wear a "B" on sweater and a "B" and orange button on blue cap.

Art. VI. By-Laws of the Athletic Association of B. U.

At many institutions at the close of a season's work in athletics, the names of the persons winning a place on the team are announced in their college paper and in the city or town papers. This is a very good way to show the student body, who have won distinction in that line of athletics.

Football probably has received more encouragement at B. U. than any other sport. At least that has been the only team that has worn uniform sweaters with a "B" on. Above is given the article of the constitution which relates to this particular thing.

The following men have qualified in foot ball and therefore are allowed to wear a "B." Some of these have qualified before the season of '98. It must be remembered that possibly one or two have qualified in other lines of athletics and are wearing "B" at the present time. Ammerman, Colver, Garner, Herman, Humeson, Mathewson, Pritchard, Riemer, Rowe, Sherman, Stanton, Thomas, Thompson, Ward, Weymouth.

As soon as investigation can be made, THE ORANGE AND BLUE will publish the names of those entitled to the "B" in other departments.

Friday Evening Conflicts.

The regular meetings of the College Literary Societies have frequently been prevented by other meetings and entertainments held on Friday evening. A strong effort is being made to increase interest in literary society work and these interruptions of the regular meetings have been a great obstacle to this movement. The Literary Society is too important a factor in college work to be pushed aside for trifling reasons. Everybody in the institution knows that the two college societies meet on Friday evening and other college organizations could easily hold their entertainments on other evenings. It is to be hoped that those who arrange other entertainments in the future, will bear in mind the fact that, by old established custom, Friday evening belongs to the Literary Societies.

The foot ball report for the season of 1898 has been received by the finance committee of the athletic association, and it shows a deficit. This deficit amounts to about $400, which added to the association's indebtedness for the college year '97-98, makes the total obligations of that organization nearly $700. To partly offset the foot ball debt, there is outstanding on foot ball subscriptions the sum of $100. It is hoped that all who subscribed will have the kindness to pay at once,

so that the indebtedness may be reduced.

If these subscriptions are all paid, the total indebtedness for this season, will be reduced to $300.

There have been net proceeds, this season, ranging from $5.00 on the Wyoming game to about $300 from the State game.

Every game with the exception of two, brought in something on the right side. These two games were the one with Swarthmore played at Lewisburg, on which there was a loss of $70, and the other with the University of Maryland played at Shamokin, on which the loss was $110. These losses, in addition to the coaching which cost about $275 in cash and the cost of maintaining the training tale, together with the outlay for equipment and supplies rolled up big bills.

It is a source of regret that the season did not "pan out" a greater financial success. If it had paid for itself there was a fair prospect of the association getting out of debt entirely before spring.

It will take all sorts of heroic measures to keep things moving in athletics the balance of the year.

Every possible item of expense should be cut down to a minimum; sacrifices should be made in every direction, and the largest effort put forth by everybody who has the interests of the institution at heart to help pull the association out of the quagmire of debt.

From C. C. Law.

The following letter, though a little late in publication, contains things too good to suppress. It explains itself.

Nov. 21, '98.

Mr. W. C. Gretzinger,

Lewisburg.

Enclose herewith check for $11.00 one of which you will kindly hand to manager of the Siferos and the other $10.00 is for the Athletic Debt.

Why don't you get a game in the western part of the state? It would be an advertisement for Bucknell which could not be had in any other way, and besides I think they would pay you the price to justify a trip.

We have two former members of the Bucknell team now doing credit to the University here in Pittsburg at least as an advertisement, for they are both playing in very fast company one on D. C. and A. C. and one on P. A. C. They are Gilchrist and Jennings. State College will tell you how much good it does to have games in this section and there is no reason why Bucknell should not receive some of the same advantages. I have followed the fortunes of the teams thus far and am very well satisfied with their work. I am sorry that I have been unable to see them play.

"Eddie" Hoffman, who was a member of last year's foot-ball team, spent Saturday with friends in town.

The date of Father Ganss' next lecture has been changed to Thursday, Dec. 14th, instead of Friday, as printed on the course tickets.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Philadelphia Club of Bucknell University, was held last evening at the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Katherine B. Larison, A. M., former principal of the Institute, has established a scholarship for use of the Loan Fund, to take effect after her death.

Last week a mistake was made when we said "Bucknell has been beaten only once this year, and that by Cornell." It should have been "Buffalo has been beaten, etc." To those who have followed the season this explanation is hardly necessary.

The suit of Rev. James Putnam against the World for damages came to trial in the Supreme Court a week ago. The ground for the suit was some libelous matter published about Mr. Putnam at the time of his charges against Dr. D. C. Potter. The jury awarded Mr. Putnam damages amounting to $10,000.

Seven college men, Hague, Sayman, Levan, DeWitt, Miller, Wassell and Jesse Evans enjoyed the hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Hulley at a dinner given at the Hulley residence, Saturday evening. A Charming Book About Old Violins.

Violinists everywhere will hail with delight the beautifully printed and authoritatively written book about Old Violins, published by Lyon & Healy, Chicago.

Good old Violins may now be obtained from $25, and a violinist is foolish indeed to remain handicapped with a poor instrument.

"Order Work on Fools."

An Arizona rancher has posted the following notice on a cottonwood tree near his place: "My wife Sarah has left my ranch when I didn't Doo a Thing Too her and I want it distinctly understood that any Man as takes her in and Keers for her on my account will get himself Pumped so Full of Led that some tender-foot will locate him for a mineral claim. A word to the wise is sufficient and order work on fools."

Father Ganss' Lecture.

Rev. Henry Ganss delivered his lecture on the Formative Period in the History of the Evolution of Music on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Although the few who had the pleasure of listening to Father Ganss before were fully prepared for the treat, to the many to whom he was unknown save by reputation the lecture proved a most delightful surprise, and this first lecture afforded the best opportunity for the exhibition of his mastery of the piano.

There are many musicians who give us pleasurable sensations by the timbre alone; they simple tickle the ear and arouse our wonder by the perfection of their technique but the true musician puts soul into his execution, expresses in his music the deepest truths and feelings of human experience, and awakens in the heart yearnings for the unattainable. It was remarked by many in the audience on Friday evening that the lecturer was able to bring out the hidden feelings and make them a vital experience in the soul of the listener.

Basket Ball.

During the past year the interest in basket ball among the Y. M. C. Association Athletic Clubs and colleges has noticeably increased. In the large cities the season is now on and will continue until base ball calls the interest of the sporting fans. Yale and Cornell sent out teams last year and the smaller colleges are now following their example. Lafayette and Lehigh are considering the advisability of organizing teams and before long all the leading colleges will look to basket ball games for diversion during the winter term. The rules have been so modified that the game is becoming more and more a contest of skill and ability rather than of animal strength. The team is not necessarily made up from the heaviest and strongest candidates, but from those most skilled at throwing goals and passing the ball. The matter of endurance is, of course, important but this can be acquired by most persons after hard practice, while the skill seems to be a natural gift to some.

Bucknell has had several years experience at basket ball and should therefore be able to send out a good team. This year, as has not yet brought out many candidates although we have lost four of last year's team players and every candidate has a chance to make the team by proving his ability. There are many students in college who have the ability to become good basket ball players and we urge that they come out. We must have a good team to hold our reputation and this can only be done by getting out the best men.

John T. Hyatt, '91, late U. S. Vice Consul at Santiago De Cuba, in connection with his father, Hon. P. F. Hyatt, U. S. Consul at the same place, is the author of a very interesting work on "Cuba: its resources and opportunities."

Academy Notes.

Mrs. Browning visited her son during the week.

Allan Craig Cunningham, Academy '98, is teaching school at Philadelphia. He will return to school next term.

Wm. Geen left for Parson Monday afternoon to participate in the convention of the P. O. S. of A., that is being held there.

Ira Tietzworth represented the Y. M. C. A. at the Bloomsburg Convention, and while there was entertained by some of his old school friends.

It is to be regretted that some of the Academy boys do not appreciate the improvements that Principal Edwards provided during the past vacation, but such, we are sorry to say, is the case. We hope that in the future more care will be exercised, for we all know that it is not done intentionally but from the lack of forethought.

Institute Items.

The Rev. Henry G. Gauss was entertained at the Institute on Friday evening.

Miss White and Miss Vaughan, under the chaperonage of Miss Hanna, assisted Mr. Peacock in a sacred concert at Winfield on Sunday evening.

An innovation at the Seminary is that of closing the library except at fixed hours. So many books have been lost and mislaid that it seemed best to only allow access to the library at hours at which the librarians could be present.

On Monday was the last "At Home," of the term. The evening proved fully as popular and was as much enjoyed as any of the previous social affairs of the same kind. Miss Stanton is to be much congratulated on the success and well deserved popularity of these monthly receptions.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. III.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1898.

NO. 12.

The Foot-Ball Season of 1898.

Realizing the value of our foot-ball managers experience to his successors, the ORANGE AND BLUE has requested Manager Kress to relate his experiences, some of which are as follows:

September came around this year with an exceedingly strong schedule to play but with poor prospects for a team. With only five possible men of last year's experience, without a captain and with only a few days preparation, we defeated Wyoming.

Nothing could be done to lighten the strain as the heavy debt of the previous years always made it necessary to cut down expense. The first thing to be done after affairs were straightened out was to elect a captain. This election was unanimous and Captain Cober was put in for his third year at the position. All went smoothly until the U. of M. game when we were miserably disappointed: instead of making money, the blustery weather caused a small crowd and a large loss. The next week the same experience was had, the weather again caused a loss. In all other games of the year money was realized. In spite of the predictions of many every game was played as scheduled, in all there being eleven, which is remarkable for a short season.

September 24th, being the opening date and November 24th, the close. "Jack" Leshler did good work in keeping the team together and in coaching the line, while Megargee made up the deficiency in the backs, a few weeks showing a marked improvement under his directions. It is to be hoped that a man of ability in this line who is able to command and instruct the team will be procured for next year. A great effort was made during the winter and spring to get a coach who might help in financial difficulties but this it was impossible to do, the better men having already been obtained and the ones from the larger colleges who were possible candidates not having the requirements for this work. The three coaches cost two hundred seventy-five dollars and for a few dollars more, a good man could be had. In previous years financial aid was given by the town and alumni, last year the townsmen paying entirely for the services of a coach, for the season. It is suggested that an assistant manager be elected by the Association and the entire burden would then not fall on the manager; many little things could be looked after by an assistant and experience gained for the next year. A schedule should be arranged for the Reserves as there are a number of teams in the vicinity which could be played, and it is a spur to get good men out to play against the 'Varsity. With care a schedule can be arranged next year which will net money. New territory was entered this year, where larger guarantees will no doubt be procured hereafter.

Keep away from neutral towns except Williamsport, Reading and Harrisburg. The F. & M. game at Reading will pay if fifty cents admission is charged. In scheduling games here, the nearby colleges should be brought in if possible. But it must be remembered that we are but one of the colleges and must cater to others as well as be catered to. If we are to have a winning team, let everybody begin to work with will and vim; if such should be the case now, we can and will win next year.

Philadelphia Alumni Club Banquet.

The annual meeting of the Bucknell University Club of Philadelphia was held on Monday evening of last week at the Colonnade Hotel. The business session was presided over by the Vice President, P. N. K. Schwenk, M. D. The following were elected to membership: Rev. J. M. Lyons, '51, Rev. J. E. Sagehen, Ph. D., '85, and Frank Katherman, '98. The following officers were elected:

President, Rev. A. J. Rowland, D. D., '52.

Vice President, Rev. M. G. Evans, D. D., '82.

Secretary, Rev. R. B. McDanel, '88.

Treasurer, C. E. Lowe, M. D., '55.

Chairman Ex. Com., Rev. B. MacMackin, '74.

At the banquet which followed there were fifty covers laid. Dr. Rowland presided. Dr. Hasin was the first post prandial speaker and he dwelt on the great advance made in the University curriculum in reference to various elective and honor studies, calling especial attention to the fact that one hundred students are taking honor work. He announced Rev. D. Lemuel Moss and Rev. Dr. B. L. Whitman as lecturers this present year on Sociology; and certain lecture courses in law by the Hon. H. M. McClure.

Other speakers were Rev. J. M. Lyons, '51, one of the first graduates; J. K. Weaver, M. D., '61, who had just been mustered out as a Major in the U. S. Volunteer Army; Hon. Ward R. Bliss, '74, candidate for the speaker of the next State Assembly; P. N. K. Schwenk, M. D., '76, M. G. Evans, D. D., '82, and Rev. J. H. Chambers, '72. A standing vote was taken, whereby the club placed on record their grateful remembrance of the work and worth of the late President Justin R. Loomis, LL. D.

Freshmen—Prof. Perrine, Rhetoric.

Basket Ball—Varsity 41, Reserves 3.

An exhibition game of basket ball was played in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon before a "Select" audience of those interested in the sport. The proceeds of the game were for the purpose of equipping the team prior to their game at Danville next Friday and should have been much larger. By encouraging the management in turning out to see the games the student body can help send out a good team.

At 2:30 Referee Garner called the game and at first the teams seemed pretty evenly matched. However before long the 'Varsity's experience began to show and the goals dropped in the basket at an average of more than one every two minutes. Individual playing seemed to be the order of the day with 'Varsity players and had more team work been used a still larger score would have resulted. Too little passing was done.

Much praise is due to the game put up by the Reserves who contested every goal to the best of their ability. A detailed account of the game would occupy too much space.

The line up was as follows:

Varsity. Reserves.

Wassell. 1st Forward. Davis. J. S.

Bell. 2d " Goodall.

Weymouth. Center. Stanton.

(Capt.)

Conover. 2d Guard. Rawlinson.

Goodall. 1st " Pierson.

Davis.

Officials—Referee, Garner; Umpire, Sherwood. 'Varsity, goals from field, 20, from foul 1; Reserves, goals from field 1, from foul 1.

A Big Book About Band Instruments.

If you are interested in a band instrument of any kind, or would like to join a band or drum corps you can obtain full information upon the subject from the big book of 144 pages that Lyon & Healy, Chicago, send free upon application. It contains upward to 1000 illustrations, and gives the lowest prices ever quoted upon band instruments.

A lecture was given in Bucknell Hall last night by Dr. Hastings, of Boston. Dr. Hastings has been lecturing for several years, and is a pleasant, entertaining speaker—a man with a purpose. Some years ago he began a series of Sunday sermons on Boston Common against the vices of the city. Through the efforts of those against whom he was speaking, the Mayor of the city among others, he was arrested and imprisoned. The treatment Dr. Hastings then received aroused considerable public interest.

The Athletic Association will hold its annual election on next Saturday. Usually there is considerable rivalry for the various offices within the gift of the Association. The ORANGE AND BLUE advises every student to attend the meeting and exercise his right to vote. Care should be taken to select only the best of men. This is particularly true with reference to the managers of the respective athletic teams, and the student members of the Finance Committee. With an indebtedness of about $700, of which amount $400 was contributed by the foot-ball season just closed, the most efficient men only should be put in the positions of trust held by the Association.

There is no student in the University who can afford, for his own sake, to miss Major Groff's lecture on "Porto Rico." These lectures are introduced not so much for the purpose of raising funds as for their educational value. The only reason any charge is made whatever is to reduce the heavy indebtedness that at present embarrasses the Athletic Department. The price is made so low that it is within the reach of everybody, and the entire receipts, after paying for advertising, will be applied to the athletic debt.

It is highly important that all foot-ball subscriptions be paid this week. Some of the parties to whom the Athletic Association is indebted have indicated their willingness to grant liberal inducements, as contributions, for cash, within the next week. The work of collecting the unpaid subscriptions has been divided among the members of the Finance Committee. If you have forgotten who has your name, please make payment to J. C. Hazen, Treasurer.

All students should bear in mind the regulation whereby no excuses are granted the first week of a term. Provisional detention, therefore, won't go. The winter term opens Tuesday, January 3, 1899. Remember the date.

NOTICE.

Major Geo. G. Groff has consented to lecture in Bucknell Hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 13th, at half past seven o'clock on his experiences in Porto Rico. The lecture will be under the auspices of the Athletic Association. The admission price has been made low in order that every one might be given an opportunity to hear Dr. Groff and also at the same time to give financial relief to the Athletic Association. A crowded house should greet Major Groff and every student in the University should turn out. Dr. Groff is an entertaining speaker and has had a wide experience both as agent for the National Relief Commission and as surgeon in the United States Army. Admission 15c. Tickets can be had from any member of the Finance Committee.

Invitations have been received in Lewisburg announcing the coming marriage of Prof. Justin Loomis Van Gundy, '87, son of Prof. Christian Van Gundy, of this place, and Miss Rebecca, of Norristown. The happy event is to take place at the home of the bride Dec. 21st.

Goodman, '01, while skating on Saturday afternoon met with an accident. He, in company with one of the Sem. girls was crossing the thin ice near the edge on a board laid for the purpose, when he stepped off, and went in. His companion was too much frightened to let go of him, and she was drawn in too. "Bill" Thompson came promptly to the rescue, so there were no injuries except an "unpleasantly wet wetness."

The Society Cup.

In 1889 Euepia and Theta Alpha established a joint debate to take place annually during Commencement week, at which two disputants from each society should contend. The Societies jointly bought a silver cup, which the Society winning at each Commencement was to hold during the succeeding year, or until defeated. If either Society should gain three successive debates, the cup was to become its permanent property.

In 1889 and 1890 the cup was won by Theta Alpha. On March 13, 1891 Euepia challenged Theta Alpha to a debate under the terms of the "cup contract" for the following Commencement. Some difference arose over the debate, resulting in resolutions and counter-resolutions, each without effect, and Theta Alpha finally refused to debate. Euepia claimed the cup by default, and finally, by just what means is not clear, obtained it from its Theta Alpha custodian, F. O. Schub, '94. Since then it is supposed to have remained in the hands of Euepians, but diligent investigation has failed to discover it. It is possible that it is at present in the hands of some of the Alumni.

If any one can furnish information concerning this cup it will be gratefully received. Communications may be addressed to the ORANGE AND BLUE.

The present excellent condition of the literary societies must be a source of great satisfaction to all interested in Bucknell. It is with the view of giving an added stimulus to the work of the societies that the ORANGE AND BLUE has tried to discover the whereabouts of the cup. The question of its control can doubtless be very easily settled as it is the joint property of the two societies. With this cup to compete for, a very beneficial rivalry might spring up between the two societies—a relation which at present is rather lacking.

Miss Stanton took dinner with Mrs. Heim on Sunday.

Miss Wheeler took dinner with Mrs. Hulley on Sunday.

Several of the girls attended the exhibition game of basket ball on Saturday afternoon.

Examinations and the approaching holidays form the most absorbing topics of conversation at present.

A large number of the girls took advantage of the ice on Saturday and skating bids fair to be very popular this winter, if the weather will only permit.

Prof. Phillips led the Y. W. C. A. meeting last Tuesday evening and gave the girls a most helpful talk. We all join in the hope that he may speak to us again soon.

Dr. Hulley preached in the Baptist Church, Lewisburg, on Sunday morning.

VOL. III.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1898.

NO. 13

Danville 19—Bucknell 8.

The game of basket ball at Danville Friday evening last resulted in the above score not so much on account of the superior skill of the winning team but rather because of their unrestrained manner of play and the limited extent and shape of waxed floor space. The game was hotly contested throughout, notwithstanding the fact that the light in second half consisted of two large oil lamps substituted for the current electric lights. Towards the end of the first half, Weymouth sprained his ankle and at the beginning of the second half Davis took his place.

Bucknell's team played hard but was handicapped by the slippery floor and the unaccustomed rough playing and holding.

Danville's team work was good and several difficult goals were thrown by their men after skillful passes.

The line up:

Danville 19. Bucknell 8.

Marks (Capt.) Forward Wassell

Bedece " " Bell

Klose C. Capt. Weymouth (Conover)

Gaskins " " Elliott

Seidel " " Conover Davis

Goals from field: Marks, 3; Bedece, 4; Klose, 2; Weymouth, 1; Wassell, 1; Conover, 1.

Goals from fouls: Bedece, 1; Weymouth, 1; Conover, 1.

Fouls: Danville, 2; Bucknell, 3.

Officials: Referee, Griffith; Umpire, Overman.

Athletic Association.

The annual meeting took place last Saturday morning, with Vice-President Sherman in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting could not be found.

Nesbit, Wassell, and Moyer were appointed a committee to have the new constitution printed. An amendment to the constitution was proposed, by the terms of which everyone playing on a regular athletic team must be a member of the association. It was referred to the appropriate committee. The Treasurer's report was presented and accepted. It will be found elsewhere.

The election of officers followed, at which the following were chosen: President, DeWitt; Vice-President, Thompson; Secretary, Hackenburgh; Treasurer, Kinkle; Finance Committee, A. M. Smith, and Carringer; Foot Ball Manager, Wassell.

The Executive committees at present serving were reelected.

Father Gauss gave the second of his popular lectures on "The Evolution of Music" in the Chapel on Thursday evening. His subject was "The Renaissance Period" which was treated in his usual masterful way and accompanied by illustrations on the piano.

J. A. Guie visited the College boys last week.

Lecture on Porto Rico.

Dr. Groff spoke in Bucknell Hall last Tuesday evening on the subject "Porto Rico," the proceeds of the lecture being for the benefit of the Athletic Association.

After touching on the history of the island and its geological formation, Dr. Groff said that the mineral resources of the island are not promising; there are no forests, few plants belonging to animal life, no flies, few birds, and the climate is regular, not deleterious, and there is little excessive rainfall. The principal products are sugar, coffee, cotton, corn, tobacco, cocon and anatto, in the order of importance. Agriculture is very primitive. Implements are crude, few weeds, but much grass. The people are small, light, docile, and reliable, of very much mixed blood. They are moral, except in their disregard of marriage.

The climate is better than that of Florida. Yellow fever is not native; there is some leprosy, much malaria but it is mild. Nearly all die of consumption, due to impure air in sleeping rooms.

The rich live in good houses and eat no vegetables, while the poor do the opposite. No stoves are used; garlic is the national condiment.

The rule of the Spanish has been very oppressive. The money raised has been used for salaries and internal improvements.

The schools are good, and there is a great desire to learn English. The cities are well built.

The island offers good prospects. The soil is fertile and not all cultivated; fever will yield to cleansing; there is a great future for the fruit trade.

Regulations.

Attention is called to the following regulations which went into effect September, 1897:

Unexcused absences from recitation are counted as zeroes in making the weekly averages of scholarship. Excused absences are counted as unexcused absences, but a student may, at the option of the professor, do supplementary work to obviate the effect upon his standing of excused absences.

A student who has not completed his rhetorical work in any term, will not be permitted to enter upon any of the work of the succeeding term until such deficiency is made up. [The instructor in elocution will be present on the three days preceding the opening of the next school term to enable students to make up deficiencies.]

If a student has failed in the studies of a term, he will not be permitted to enter upon the studies of a subsequent term, until he has passed in the subjects in which he failed, unless a postponement of examination to a definite time is granted by the Faculty.

No student who is deficient in rhetorical or class-room work in any term shall be eligible to the office of manager or director in any student organization, or to be a member of any exhibiting organization, or of any contesting athletic team, or of any publishing or editing board during any subsequent term until such deficiency is made up.

Intercollegiate Debaters.

The final preliminary debate to choose men for the contest with Franklin & Marshall was held last Friday evening. The question, "Resolved: That the nations should disarm" was ably discussed. Speakers on the affirmative were J. F. Snyder, Shipman, Umer, Miller, and Timlin. They were opposed by Riley, Beidles, Deibler, Lehman, Sherman, and Deibler. The literary societies met jointly to listen to the arguments. Professors Hamblin, Perrine, and Rockwood as judges choose Deibler, '99, and Lehman, '99, to represent Bucknell.

Shipman was selected for the alternate, Prof. Phillips was chairman of the meeting and was elected to the United States Senate, and after the expiration of his term, after having been at home but little more than a year, took his seat upon the Bench. This fall he was the nominee of both the Republican and Democratic parties for Judge and polled 357 more votes than both the Republican and Democratic candidates for Governor combined.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Judge John I. Mitchell.

Wellsboro, Dec. 16th.—John Inscho Mitchell, President Judge of the Fourth Judicial District since January, 1889, and reelected last November to succeed himself, has a record for public service as a soldier and jurist. During the Civil War he served as Second Lieutenant of Company A, 130th Pennsylvania Volunteers.

Judge Mitchell was born in Tioga township, this county, and on July 28 completed his 60th year. He attended Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., and after completing his law studies, was, in 1864, admitted to practice at the Bar. He was elected District Attorney, and served five years in the Legislature, being nominated each time without opposition. He was the Representative of the Sixteenth District in the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses. March 4, 1881, he was elected to the United States Senate, and at the expiration of his term, after having been at home but little more than a year, took his seat upon the Bench. This fall he was the nominee of both the Republican and Democratic parties for Judge and polled 357 more votes than both the Republican and Democratic candidates for Governor combined.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Miss Ruth Sprague, '98, is in town for the holidays.

Some subscriptions have been paid to Registrar Gretzinger for the indebtedness of last year: they will be duly acknowledged next term when a complete statement will be made of the old debt.

The following foot-ball subscriptions were paid to Manager Kress, for the season of 1898, as per his report to the Finance Committee:—

A Lost Art.

Any one who observes the conversation and daily life of the student of to-day cannot fail to notice the absence of reference to the classics. This is due to the loss of the art of committing passages from the masterpieces in our own and other languages. The causes of this are various. First, there is an aversion to doing the work and as a consequence a partial incapacity. Second, there is a wrong idea about the purpose; we think that the only use we can make of a passage committed to memory is to quote it for flourish and effect; we forget that as long as the priceless treasure is in our mind, although we do not quote it, nevertheless it colors our speech, thought and action, and becomes a fountain of culture. Third, the modern ephemeral story, the magazine and the prolix newspaper consume the time and energy that in other days were spent in thoroughly digesting the literature that has been the life of the English-speaking people.

The effect is a demand for the light and humorous in thought, the colloquial in speech, a slang that is not always expressive, a style that is smart, but not artistic. Riley and Field are more acceptable than Lowell and Tennyson, and the more humorous and colloquial parts of the interpreter's of a certain phase of American life are the most acceptable. He who would think well, speak well, write well, should fill his mind with passages from the masters in thought and language.

There have been some unfavorable comments among the Seniors in regard to the new faculty regulation requiring that the subjects for the final orations be handed in by the first week in next term, and that the orations be completed by the end of the term. If those who object will stop to think, they will see that the Faculty have the best interests of the school in mind. Before the final orations have been allowed to drag along to the last minute, and as a consequence the standard of excellence has not been very high. The new method, the same as is pursued in all leading colleges, will give ample time for correction and revision, and so will help to make the last effort of the student prior to his departure from college more presentable, and a better indication of the work done at Bucknell.

Again, every one has felt how good it is not to be obliged to make extra efforts during the spring term. One is worn and tired then, and it will certainly be a great relief to know that at least one serious and perhaps painful duty is out of the way.

Woodyear kindly donated the use of his team in carrying the players to Danville on last Saturday, thus saving the Athletic Association several dollars.

The first athletic event of the new year will occur on Saturday, Jan. 7, when the Danville Basket Ball Team will play the Bucknell Team in Tustin Gymnasium.

The Academy will be closed during the vacation.

Prof. Riemer spent Sunday at Northumberland with Lesher, '96.

Woodyear, '02, accompanied the basket ball team to Danville, Friday.

Classes on the opening day of the winter term, will begin with the 11:15 recitation.

About thirty dollars were realized for the Athletic Association from Dr. Groff's lecture.

The regiment of which Corporal Harvey Marsh is a member will be mustered out on Dec. 29.

Mr. Haltpenny has just presented a fourteen pound turkey to the Kauffman club. Talk about Christmas!

Powell and Grant, ex-'01, were in town Sunday on their way home from Poughkeepsie Business College.

Something over eighty dollars were received on annual dues by the Athletic Association on Saturday evening.

E. J. Wager and G. M. Robbins are two more students who will join Co. A, 12th Regt. N. G. P., on its reorganization.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Samuel Joseph Cleland, ex-'99, and Miss May Edna Cawley, at Shamokin, on Dec. 28th.

Manager Kress and Editor Carlinger, of the 1900 L'Agenda, will take a trip to Allentown and Philadelphia in the interests of their work.

Dr. Groff left yesterday morning for San Juan, P. R., via New York. He expects to return to Bucknell during the first week of next term.

Albert Edward Finn, '94, and Miss Cora Reiff Perry, '95, were married at the home of the bride's parents at Eagleville, Pa., on Dec. 14. Mr. and Mrs. Finn will be at home after Dec. 26, at Cherryville, N. J.

O. R. Levan, '99, who was in Porto Rico with the Governor's Troop, will lecture at the beginning of next term for the benefit of the Athletic Association. On Thursday evening, Jan. 5th, he will speak on his personal experiences in army life, with special reference to Porto Rico.

At the meeting of the chemical and physical society last Thursday afternoon, Mr. DeWitt discussed the various processes in the manufacture of fountain pens in a very lucid and interesting manner, his information being derived from a recent inspection of the works of the makers of the Wirt Fountain Pen.

Rev. H. L. Hastings delivered a lecture on "The Mistakes of Moses," in Bucknell Hall on last Monday evening. He showed many cases where Moses did not make mistakes, Ingorsol and others to the contrary notwithstanding, but when he came to the mosaic account of the creation, his arguments were largely of the type reserved for rural consumption. However, the lecture generally was bright and interesting, and well worth hearing.

Skating has been a popular sport during the past week and many hopes are expressed for the continuance of the ice.

An informal dance was given at the home of Miss Cornelius on Saturday evening. Among others Burrows and Trax from the hill were present.

Our advertisers have special bargains to show this week. They support the college and they deserve the patronage of every student.

Dr. and Mrs. Harris and Dr. and Mrs. Groff took dinner at the Institute on Thursday evening and held a short reception in the parlor afterwards.

Goodall sang a solo at the Methodist church on Sunday evening. At the Baptist church on Sunday morning, Miss Knox sang a solo, with violin obligato by Miss McCain. This was an innovation which was very highly appreciated.

Before you buy photographs, groceries, jewelry, books, furnishing goods, meat, shoes, clothing, furniture, horses or candy, look over the ads. in the ORANGE AND BLUE and see who can give you the best inducements. Then put the principle of reciprocity into practice.

A new regulation has just been promulgated by the Faculty, requiring the Seniors to present the subjects of the final orations to the Professor of Rhetoric not later than the second week of next term, and the orations to be completed by the end of the term.

As will be noticed by reference to the regulations on rhetorical work printed elsewhere in this issue, the rhetorical work must be completed each term; and not allowed to go to the end of the of the year, as was possible under the rule before it was changed.

The Fight at Santiago.

Both townspeople and students will appreciate beyond measure the fact that they are to have the privilege of hearing Chaplain Jones, now of the U. S. S. S. Chicago, tell his thrilling experience while he was with the Battleship Texas, at Santiago when Cervera's fleet was destroyed. He will lecture in Bucknell Hall, Tuesday evening, Jan. 10th, at 8 p. m. In view of the fact that the proceeds will be used for athletics, the Chaplain kindly consented to come at a reduced price. Reserved seats will be sold at 35 cents, and the general admission will be 25 cents.

Chaplain Jones is the only officer of his rank who was in both the land and sea fights at Santiago, and it was he that stood amidst a hail of Spanish bullets and administered the last sad rites over the dead bodies of some of America's brave boys who fell in battle.

The battleship Texas was right in the thick of the fight and she did tremendous work against the Infanta Maria Teresa, the Almirante Oquendo, and especially against the Vizcaya, commanded by Captain Eulate. The Texas is the battleship whose captain exclaimed to his men after the battle: "Don't cheer, the poor fellows are dying." It was the same commander who said: "I want to make public acknowledgment here that I believe in God, the Almighty. I want all you officers and men to lift your hats and from your hearts to give silent thanks." America's veteran war correspondent, in commenting on this incident said, "It is of such men that our navy is made."

The Troy (N. Y.) Record of Sept. 2, has the following to say about Chaplain Jones' lecture in the Y. M. C. A. building, which was crowded on the occasion:

"Chaplain Jones took as his subject 'A Description of the Navy's Participation in the Spanish-American War.' And the eloquent manner in which he portrayed it held his audience deeply interested. The Chaplain may rightly be called 'The Fighting Parson,' but in his lecture his own experiences were kept in the background excepting when it was absolutely necessary to relate certain incidents that went to make up the story. He graphically described the battle which resulted in the demolition of Cervera's fleet and capture of the Spanish Admiral. His lecture proved highly entertaining and the Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated upon having induced him to come to Troy."

Miss Jessie E. Lovell gave a very select "At Home" on Friday evening from four to six in honor of Mrs. William Gretzinger and daughter. Elegant refreshments were served. The guests were Mrs. Gretzinger, Miss Margaret Gretzinger, Miss Elizabeth Montgomery, Miss Louise Warriner and others. Every one had a most delightful time.

Bucknell 17, Danville 9.

On Saturday afternoon the first Basket-ball game of the season was played in which Bucknell defeated the strong Danville team by a score of 17 to 9. The game was exciting from start to finish although the superiority of our team became evident after the first five minutes of play. Danville scored first, when Marks threw a difficult goal, which was soon equalled on the Bucknell side by goals by Weymouth and Davis. From that time Bucknell took the lead and held it throughout the game, concluding with the score of 17 to 9.

To commend the playing of any particular member to the exclusion of the others would be partial, as each played his position in the best possible form. The improvement in the team during the last week has been remarkable, and the article of Basket-ball on Saturday deserved a much larger attendance. The line up:

DANVILLE 9.	BUCKNELL 17.
Marks (Capt.) Forward	Bell
Bedoe	" Davis (Wassell)
Klase (Sechler) Cen.	Weymouth
Gaskins (Klase) Guard	Elliott
Seidel	" Conover
Hoffman and Warren, umpires;
Garner, referee. Goals from field:
Danville, Marks, Bedoe, Klase; Bucknell, Weymouth, Davis, Conover, Wassell 3, Elliott. Goals from fouls: Danville, Marks; Bucknell, Weymouth 2, Davis.

Rev. Dr. C. C. Bitting.

Rev. Dr. Charles C. Bitting, a well-known Baptist clergyman died Saturday, after a long illness, at his residence, in Philadelphia, at the age of 69 years. He was a native of Philadelphia, had been pastor of various Southern Baptist churches, and from 1883 to 1895 he was Bible secretary and missionary of the American Baptist Publication Society, with which institution he has been connected in other capacities since 1895. Among Dr. Bitting's most prominent pastorates were those in connection with the Baptist Church at Lynchburg, Va., beginning in 1885; the Second Baptist Church, at Richmond, Va., in 1873, and the Franklin Square Baptist Church, at Baltimore, Md., beginning in 1876. He has for long years been a trustee of Bucknell.

Bucknell seems to be popular in Masonic circles at Selinsgrove. Prof. J. L. Woodruff has recently been elected Worshipful Master; Prof. Geo. E. Fisher, Senior Warden, and Mr. Geo. W. Wagon-seller, Junior Warden. They are all graduates of Bucknell.

Mr. and Mrs. Gretzinger Entertain.

On the afternoon and evening of Friday, Dec. 30, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Gretzinger entertained their many friends at the Academy. In the afternoon from four to six, Mrs. Gretzinger was "At Home" to the ladies of her acquaintance. Her sister, Miss Sarah Stoner, of Sunbury, assisted her in receiving. In the evening from eight to ten, Mr. and Mrs. Gretzinger, assisted by Mr. E. E. Gillespie of the Adjutant General's Office, Washington, D. C., received both ladies and gentlemen. About one hundred and twenty were invited, and nearly all were present.

The only guests from out of town were Prof. J. L. Van Gundy and bride, of Norristown, Pa., and Mr. E. E. Gillespie, of Washington, as the reception was intended for Lewisburg acquaintances only.

The first floor of East Hall was completely transformed. Not only were Mrs. Gretzinger's own rooms most tastefully and prettily decorated, but the hall and recitation room were decorated very appropriately. The hall was draped with American flags, lace curtains, and handsome silk banners. But the greatest transformation was in the recitation room. Divested of benches and tastefully decorated with curtains, screens, evergreens and portraits, this was very pretty indeed, and was admired by all. It is needless to say that Mrs. Gretzinger's "At Home" was a grand success.

Another Bucknell Benedict.

From the Selinsgrove Times.
"Geo. E. Fisher, Prof. of organic science in Susquehanna University, was married to Lily I. Yale, of Slattington, Pa., on Thursday the 29th ult. Prof. Fisher is recognized as one of the ablest instructors in Central Pa., is a christian young man of many excellent qualities, a gentleman of high repute, rich in all manly graces, whose brilliant achievements have won for him a place in the history of his people long to be remembered as a leader among men. His many friends wish him and his chosen bride a pleasant time in their journey through life."

Prof. Fisher is a graduate of Bucknell and for a number of years teacher in the Academy.

The regular meeting of the board of directors of THE ORANGE AND BLUE occurs next Saturday morning in Theta Alpha hall. The constitution calls for one representative from each fraternity, to be elected the first of the winter term. Let each newly elected fraternity representative and the members of the board from the different classes be on hand, as a new publishing staff is to be elected.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Kerstetter—Woods.

Saturday morning, Dec. 31st Mr. Eugene Kerstetter and Miss Francis Woods were married at Williamsport by Rev. M. Miller, of St. Marks Lutheran church. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woods and is one of Lewisburg's accomplished young ladies, having graduated from Bucknell School of Music. The groom is a young man of sterling qualities and is a teacher in the public school.

It would be well for the Freshmen and Sophomores to note that the regulations require them to attend gymnasium drill three times a week during the winter term. Absence means a Def. on the report, and two terms count as one honor study.

Carringer and Kress made a successful trip in the interest of L'Agenda during vacation. Contracts have been made with printers and engravers to put out a book which will do credit to Bucknell. The board held a meeting Friday afternoon, in which work was assigned to all. Regular meetings will be held and an effort made by all to do their best work.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley was one of the instructors at the Carbondale Teachers' Institute last week.

The Carbondale papers spoke very highly of Dr. Hulley's work. His lectures on Eugene Field, Robert Burns, and John Whitcomb Riley were given in the evenings and he was greeted with a crowded house each night, many standing on the steps only able to catch an occasional word. The doctor made many friends and is sure of a warm reception should he return.

Do we as students of Bucknell in making purchases think of the merchants who advertise in our college journals?

In looking over the publications we find that the Mirror, Commencement News, L'Agenda, and ORANGE AND BLUE are issued by us. The cost of printing these amounts to over twenty-five hundred dollars a year, and a large share is paid for by the advertiser. Without his aid it would be impossible to publish any of them, as the subscription list will not nearly cover the cost, a large deficiency remaining to be paid by money received from other sources.

Every good merchant lays aside a certain amount annually for the purpose of bringing his wares to the attention of the buyer; this sum is averaged by a percentage system, the publication being utilized which will bring the best results through a large circulating medium.

In colleges this percentage is low, but the needs of students are supposed to be more than the average person outside as he has in reality his own abode to furnish. To meet the expectation of the advertiser we should look to benefit both ourselves and him by patronizing as far as possible, the merchant who helps in making our publications a success.

In local lines little trouble is experienced by the different managers, but with foreign firms a general complaint is met with that an ad in a college journal gives slender returns.

If you elect a fellow student to any of your so-called honorary positions either directly or indirectly, you must expect to help him out. One of the best ways is through the advertiser. Not only this year, but succeeding years must be looked to, and thus the crooked path of all managers will be straightened and the work made easier.

We trust that these few words of advice will meet their end. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Our attention has been called to the hilly paths on the campus. With the snow and ice of the past few days walking has been exceedingly slow and dangerous, and since we must have rapid transportation in this age of progress the covering of the paths with ashes when they become slippery would be greatly appreciated.

Chaplain Jones has been engaged to lecture here, not so much for the purpose of realizing funds for the Athletic Association, as for the educational value of his lecture. For the latter reason alone every student should attend.

Hon. Frank B. Hargrave, '89, a member of the Pennsylvania legislature, will lecture before the students this term on the "Philippine Islands." During the Spanish war he was a private in Co. I, 10th Penn'a Vol. Infantry, and on July 31st and August 1st was in the battle of Malate, and on August 13th he participated in the capture of Manila.

Who loved a fair young maid.
But when to her his love he told,
Something like this he said:
"Light of my soul, my life's bright
I love you near or far."
The maiden turned her head away
And gently murmured, "La!"
Such flighty nonsense doesn't go,
Your not the man for me!
You really haven't got the do

Gearhart has entered Mercersburg Academy.

Cattell, '99, spent his vacation visiting in Philadelphia.

During the last week Harvey, '02, entertained his mother and sister.

John Thomas a former student of the Academy has returned to school.

Switzer, 1900, spent his vacation with relatives in Western New York.

The Theta Delta Psi's and friends took a sleigh ride Saturday evening.

John Bassler spent the latter part of the week with his parents at Sunbury.

Christy, Ex-1900, is now in Pittsburg with the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co.

Harvey F. Smith, M. D., '94, has opened an office at 34 South Third St., Harrisburg.

Bruce Trimmer, '98, and Geo. Megargee, Ex-'97, spent several days in town last week.

H. J. Little, of Bloomsburg, and H. L. Milligan, of Bradford, have entered the Academy this term.

I. H. Buckminster, the genial editor of this paper, has been confined to his room with LaGrippe since Wednesday.

Registrar Gretzinger installed the newly elected officers of the Milton Camp, Sons of Veterans, last Friday evening.

The Grip makes no discrimination. Several young ladies of the Sem have been enjoying a little rest on its account.

Sam Smith, '01, who was among the Grip patients has returned home to recuperate. His mother spent Sunday with him.

"Sam" Clark has been slightly indisposed, suffering from influenza. This is the first case that has appeared this term.

Mr. E. E. Gillespie, of the Adjutant General's office, Washington, D. C., was a guest of Registrar Gretzinger during Xmas vacation.

T. Thomas the "heavy weight," football player has not returned to school this term, but it is likely that he will return in the Spring.

Drew Leiser, '98, who has been spending his Xmas vacation here at home took in the basket-ball game Saturday. He returned to Princeton Monday.

P. S. Calvin, '94, completed his course in the Divinity school of the University of Chicago the first of this month. He graduated with the degree of B. D.

Chas. T. Armour, of last year's Junior class, is at present principal of the High-school at Sparta, Pa. He expects to return to Bucknell next year.

Fifteen of the boys enjoyed a chicken and waffle supper at the Great Western, Vicksburg, Saturday evening. Landlord Deuter knows well how to entertain a hungry crowd.

"Doc" LeVan's lecture on his personal experiences in the Army has been scheduled for Thursday evening, January 19th, in Bucknell Hall. It promises to be a rich, rare and racy effort.

Dr. Enoch Perrine filled the pulpit of the Third Presbyterian church at Williamsport, on New Year's morning. He also lectured before the Union Co. Teachers' Institute at Millinburg during vacation on "What is an English Classic?"

We hope that the boys at the beginning of this term, will take more interest in the Y. M. C. A. and a more active part in the services, thus helping in the good work which is being done by that body. We also call attention to the Literary Society. This term promises to be one of the most prosperous that the society has seen since its reorganization last year and it will fully repay the students who take an active part in literary work.

The Bible classes will all continue their work during the present term.

Resolve to be more faithful in attendance upon the Y. M. C. A. meetings this year than you were last.

The Volunteer Band has undertaken the task of conducting meetings in the county jail every Sunday afternoon. The young men who are doing this work find that the prisoners are glad to have them come and often give them a cordial invitation to return on the following Sunday.

The Young Men's Christian Association will hold the first meeting of the term on Tuesday evening. It is much desired that everybody come out and spend a profitable time together. A meeting with but few present might be a very good one, but a greater number would not destroy its value, and the benefit which is to be received from attending would be more widely distributed.

Miss Maud Goddard was detained at home by an attack of the grip, but has sufficiently recovered to return to her work on Saturday.

The Clover Wheelmen Basket Ball team, of Phila., will play here on Monday, Jan. 16, and our players look forward to one of the hardest games of the season. This aggregation is known as the "big five," being considered one of the best teams in this part of the country, so that those who attend will see a good exhibition of basket ball, as well as a hotly contested game. It is to be hoped that the student body will show more interest than in the past, as the management will incur considerable expense in bringing the Clover Wheelmen to Bucknell.

Engle '99, spent Sunday in Sunbury.

The engagement of Wm. Devitt, Academy '97 to Miss Lida Wendell is announced.

Quite a few sleighing parties are being planned for the coming week, if the sleighing stays in the present good condition.

A number of the boys have not returned yet, probably sick with the grip, as almost every student had his holidays interspersed with La Grippe.

Think it over.

Chaplain Jones' Lecture.

Those who attended the lecture given by Chaplain Jones, late of the U. S. Battleship "Texas," in Bucknell Hall last Tuesday evening went away fully repaid for going out on an exceedingly cold night to hear a very good lecture. Chaplain Jones has up to within the past few months been chaplain on the "Texas." He was on that vessel during the great naval fight at Santiago, when Cervera's fleet was destroyed. He pictures in the most graphic style the destruction of the fleet, and this coming from an eye-witness makes the lecture doubly interesting.

Beginning with an account of a cruise from Texas to Maine with Admiral Sigsbee and laying up for repairs and improvements in armament at New York, the speaker takes his audience to the South and pictures the restlessness of the squadron awaiting orders and the affecting scenes between the officers and their wives when the fleet departed under sealed orders merely for target practice. The search for Cervera's fleet and the meeting of the supposed hostile vessels, which were really flying the Stars and Stripes, were described at length. The burial of the American dead on Cuban soil under Spanish fire was vividly portrayed. Chaplain Jones read the burial service in the midst of a lively skirmish, and returned to his ship amidst the whizzing of Mauser bullets.

The sinking of the Merrimac, the shelling of Santiago, and the attempted escape of the Spanish fleet were of course the most interesting points of the lecture and had the undivided attention of the audience. Chaplain Jones' personal experience gives him a hold upon his audience which increases with his clear and earnest manner of speaking. His love for the American sailors plainly manifests itself, and his interest in their welfare is undoubtedly the one interest of his life.

Mr. G. Livingston Bayard, Bucknell '99, has been elected as archon of the first district of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. This carries with it membership in the executive council, the governing head of the fraternity. He will also preside at the next session of the District Council, which meets in Harrisburg next April.

A detailed account of the conflict on the campus last week is lacking since it was witnessed by few if any disinterested parties and consequently an impartial record could scarcely be obtained.

Registrar Gretzinger is down for an address at the educational session of the Union County Farmers' Institute to be held at Brook Park next week.

Sophomore Banquet.

The Annual Banquet of the Sophomore Class was held last Friday night at the Hotel Haag, Milton. The affair proved to be a very pleasant social function. To reach the anticipated pleasure, however, considerable trouble was experienced; the Freshmen had learned that the Sophomores would start some time that day or night and in consequence had picketed and patrolled the town and surrounding country in order that every avenue of escape might be cut off. At about 3.00 P. M. the start was attempted, but before the sleds were loaded, the Freshmen arrived with double the force of the Sophomores, the young ladies of the latter class included in the count. After a sharp skirmish the Sophomores became disengaged and escaped. In the struggle one Sophomore, who expected to go, was captured and held.

During the day individual members of the class baffled the pickets and escaped. The president absented himself the previous night and reached the banquet safely. When all were collected at the hotel about four-fifths of the class were present.

The escape was due to the lack of a competent leader for the Freshmen, as was shown the day before, when their president voluntarily walked into a trap which caused his absence at their banquet and left them without their toast-master. All their actions showed lack of head work.

The banquet was thoroughly enjoyed after being so well earned. Prof. and Mrs. Hein acted as chaperons and expressed themselves as being highly pleased. The following is the program:

Toastmaster.....Frank Anderson

"Orange and Blue" Board Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Board of Managers of the ORANGE AND BLUE was held on last Saturday morning. Officers and editorial staff were elected for the term as follows:

Officers—Pres., Edgar Reed; Vice Pres., C. H. Harvey; Sec., G. W. Alexander; Treas., H. D. Simpson.
Editors—Editor-in-chief, H. B. Wassell; Editorial, H. D. Simpson; Local, W. E. Holland; Athletics, C. M. Konkle.

Anderson, '01, spent Thursday evening and Friday forenoon in Sunbury.

Freshman Banquet.

With shout and hoorah, with "charity for all and malice toward none," and with their "mascot" under the seat of the front sled, the "Nurslings" (?) of 1902 set out for their holiday celebration. The townspeople were duly notified of the fact, and the hills and valleys along the way resounded with song and hilarity. The beauty of the already highly decorated parlors of the Hotel Haag was soon enhanced by the entrance of some fifty smiling Freshmen, who proceeded to enjoy themselves as only Freshmen can; and with games, laughter, and conversation the time was passed until ten o'clock, when the dining-room doors were thrown open, and the company settled down to the practical affairs of life. In the absence of the president, who was unavoidably detained, Mr. M. J. Davis presided over the festivities.

When the nine elegant courses had been disposed of, the banqueters tendered each other mutual congratulations upon their beauty, athletic prowess, and scholastic talent, cracked jokes at the Faculty, and incidentally perforated the Sophomores to their own satisfaction. Miss Hanna gave an interesting impromptu address, and Trooper O. R. LeVan politely escorted the company "up the front stair case to eternity."

The visit of the Juniors with their songs and greeting touched the hearts of all present, and the tenderness and pathos of the scene can never be forgotten. Country "trips" and dances, "bingo" and "fruit basket" occupied the remainder of the morning, and only the relentless ticking of Miss Hanna's unfortunate watch terminated the merriment. The literary and musical features were:

Poem.....Francis Race
Class Spirit.....C. Matlewson
Hanno Solo.....E. A. Sterling
The 1902 Athlete.....D. A. Pitts
The Faculty.....R. H. Ulmer
Vocal Solo.....Jessie Lovell
The 1902 Class Girls.....H. D. Simpson
The Boys of 1902.....Mary Wylie Quartette.....Goodall, Theis, Mathewson, Martz.
The Sophomores.....Margaret Runyan
Violin Solo.....R. G. Stanton
(Signed) H. D. Simpson.

1900 Class Meeting.

At a meeting of the Junior Class Friday afternoon, H. C. Simons was elected photographer for the Century L'Agenda. The Annual was fully discussed.

On motion it was decided to have a Junior Ball, and committee consisting of Carringer, Evans, Grim, Koons, Kress, Moyer, Peck, Sherwood, Wassell and Weymouth was appointed. The dance will take place Friday, Feb. 3rd, in the Armory.

Dr. Freeman A. Loomis is in town again.

LeVan's Lecture.

At last a date has been selected for the lecture to be given by O. R. LeVan, late of the Governor's Troop. Same will take place Wednesday evening, Jan. 18th, at half past eight o'clock in Bucknell Hall. The hour may seem a peculiar one but it was set in order to give those who attend prayer meeting the privilege of hearing the lecture. Mr. LeVan will take for his subject his personal experiences in the army and will dwell especially upon camp life in this country, soldier life on board an army transport and life in Porto Rico. The lecture will be given in Mr. LeVan's most characteristic style and the admission will be 15c, part of the proceeds to go to the Athletic Association.

A Junior Sleigh Ride.

On last Thursday evening a party of Junior boys and girls, chaperoned by Miss J. J. Wheeler, visited their Freshmen proteges in their banquet hall at Milton. The journey to the Haag begun about 9 p. m. was so enlivened by songs and the discussion of the refreshments provided, that all disagreeable features were unnoticed.

When the hotel was reached, the Juniors were admitted to the banquet hall where they were greeted by the loud welcomes of the Freshmen. After games in the hotel parlors and a God speed to the class of 1902, the Century Class returned to Lewisburg, feeling entirely satisfied with their night's enjoyment.

The meeting between the two under classes during the past week advances still another proof of the futility of trying to abolish "class scraps." Efforts have been made for sometime past to smooth out the path of the entering class but periodically differences arise and class spirit predominates over all other feeling.

In most of the large colleges

the manner of settling these difficulties has become fixed and precedents are followed. Cane rushes, bowl fights, flag scraps and athletic contests, with a referee and judges and with some definite end in view, have been instituted and take place on certain dates. Since these contests are prearranged, there is an object and when this is accomplished there is a recognized victor.

The instituting of some method of settling class differences at Bucknell would abolish such scenes as were witnessed last week, avoid disturbing chapel exercises and prevent the loss of time from the regular recitations; while the definite result of an organized effort would give more satisfaction to the participating classes.

The following appeal has been sent out by the Athletic Association to the Alumni and friends of the University:

An indebtedness of over $500.00 is hanging over the Athletic Association, and has impaired the credit of the organization, and, besides temporarily hindering the success of athletics, indirectly reflects upon the good name of the institution. Part of this indebtedness has been accumulating for several years. It has not been brought about by any mismanagement on the part of the association. An ever-vigilant Finance Committee, a careful supervising advisory board on which Professors Rockwood and Kauffman represent the institution, capable and efficient managers, selected from the student body, have done all in their power to make athletics at Bucknell self-sustaining. The reason for this large indebtedness is attributed to three causes:

FIRST. The expense of maintaining training tables, where the athletes may receive proper food for nourishment. At these training tables, certain kinds of food only are served, and the most essential features are good cooking and plenty to eat. The plan of conducting these tables requires each athlete to pay $2.00 per week for board costing usually $2.50. The difference is met by the Athletic Association.

SECONDLY. Another great item of expense is the hiring of suitable and competent men to coach. These men are usually graduates of Bucknell, who have attained prominence in athletics either while in college here or in professional schools elsewhere. They can generally be obtained at one-third the cost of men who have no affiliation with the institution. Occasionally assistant trainers from other colleges are secured for short periods to help at important times.

THIRDLY. Another contributing cause to the accumulation of the debt has been the bad weather. The association has been singularly unfortunate in this respect for more than a year. In one instance the weather affected the attendance upon a game so much that the receipts fell $100.00 below the expenditures. The proceeds from other games were not sufficient to cover the losses.

Colleges in the same class with Bucknell, in order to put Athletics upon a firm basis, are constrained to call upon their alumni and friends for financial support. To this end, it has been decided to send out this appeal to the alumni and friends of Bucknell, to assist in liquidating the present debt of the association by Jan. 30, 1899. It is, therefore, sincerely hoped that you will give this matter due consideration and that you will send in a subscription as an evidence of your interest in the University.

The basketball season opens the winter term under favorable auspices. In this department, Bucknell has won a fair name, and has defeated teams like Cornell, University of Pennsylvania, State College and others. In track athletics Bucknell has twice taken first place in the annual relay races held at Franklin Field under auspices of the University of Pennsylvania, winning from Franklin and Marshall, Dickinson and Gettysburg. Each winning team received four gold watches, one for each runner, and the institution a handsome silk banner for the trophy cabinet.

The Academy track and field team has twice successfully won the pennant in the Inter-Scholastic League. In base ball and foot ball, Bucknell also maintains a high standard.

The institution encourages athletics, and at the same time keeps them within control. By a regulation of the faculty, athletics are not permitted to interfere with college work. The tennis practice only after school hours. Games are played generally on Saturdays and holidays. No student who is deficient in rhetorical or class-room work can be a member of any contesting athletic team.

Joe Carey, '95, principal of the Potts Grove High School, spent Saturday in town.

"Jack" Cutler, '97, now attending Crozier, visited his Phi Psi friends over Sunday.

Dr. Groff sailed about the middle of last week for Porto Rico to continue his relief work there.

Messrs. Hackenberg, Caldwell and Ward attended a reception in Williamsport Friday evening.

Thompson, Magee and Amerman took in the gymnastic exhibition at Bloomsburg last week.

Allan Cunningham "Cad" '98, has returned to Bucknell, resuming his studies with the class of 1902.

Dr. Hulley preached remarkably interesting and instructive sermons in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening.

The following foot ball subscriptions have been paid since the last report: L. M. Goodman, $2; J. D. Evans, $2; O. J. Decker, $1; H. I. Stewart, $1.

College Foot Ball Captains.

The following men have been elected as captains of the principal college foot ball teams for next year:

Yale—Malcolm McBride. Harvard—W. A. M. Burden. U. of P.—T. T. Hare. Cornell—D. A. Reed, (resigned). Brown—H. S. Pratt. Lafayette—E. G. Bray. Wesleyan—R. W. Rymmer. West Point—W. D. Smith. Dartmouth—J. Wentworth. Columbia—E. Starr. Williams—L. L. Draper. Amherst—W. D. Ballantine. Virginia—H. T. Summersgill. State—J. Randolph. W. & J.—J. A. Matthews. Bucknell—H. B. Reimer. Chicago—W. S. Kennedy.—E.

The L'Agenda Board of 1900 held a meeting in the Institute parlors Saturday evening. Former plans were discussed and new features suggested. Each member is thoroughly interested in making 1900's L'Agenda a decided success, and with a large board already well started in the work, there is every indication that no one will be disappointed with the efforts of the Century Class. Later in the evening refreshments were served and the social side of life received proper attention.

A majority of the Faculty of the University of Chicago have petitioned President McKinley against the acquisition of the Philippines. Among these are Professors R. C. H. Catterall and J. W. A. Young, both of Bucknell.

Our next basket-ball game is at Williamsport, Friday evening, with the Y. M. C. A.

A party composed of Messrs. Sidney and Will Hoffa, Dave Thomas, Heddens, Little, Hughes and Peffer enjoyed a pleasant sleigh ride to Washingtonville Friday evening, where they were hospitably entertained by Dr. and the Misses Hoffa. After enjoying a sumptuous feast, games were indulged in until midnight, when the boys started for home. The most pleasant memories of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffa are entertained by the boys and the occasion will not soon be forgotten.

Whereas, our esteemed classmate, J. Howe Stevens, has been called to mourn the death of his beloved mother, who, on the evening of Jan. 9, was summoned to the joy and rest of her heavenly home, therefore it is resolved,

That we the members of the Fourth Form of Bucknell Academy, express our deep sympathy for our classmate and his family in their sore bereavement, and commend them to the loving consolation of Him who has said, "Cast thy burden on the Lord, and He will sustain thee."

Further, That these resolutions be published in THE ORANGE AND BLUE, and that a copy thereof be forwarded to our classmate.

The Music of the Future.

The last of the series of lectures on the Evolution of Music by Rev. Henry G. Gauss was given in Bucknell Hall, Friday night last. Every lecture in the course has been attractive, but the last was by far the most interesting, especially to the disciples of Wagner. A brief outline follows:

The term "Music of the Future" has been given to the work of Wagner principally by his opponents. As a child, Wagner was imbued with the dramatic instinct, and wrote an extravagant tragedy at eleven. He showed no unusual talent in piano, in fact he was a poor pianist throughout life. Beethoven's music strongly influenced him. He studied harmony but was dismissed by his first teacher as a visionary; a second, however, saw something in his eccentricities. In composition his musical thoughts always formed themselves orchestrally.

In politics Wagner was a socialist of the most virulent character, being banished from Germany for his views. His first successful opera was the "Nun of Falerio." Bulwer's "Rienzi" was also set to music by him. "Tannhauser" written in 1859, was rendered first in Weimar, by Liszt, Wagner's first musical advocate. This play when presented in France was hissed down the second night because it lacked the conventional ballet. After Lohengrin and Nibelungenlied, Wagner emancipated himself from the old school, and about the same time the King of Bavaria recalled him from exile and poverty to a life of ease. Wagner died Feb. 13, 1883.

The lecturer next examined and explained Wagner's theories, illustrating many points on the piano. Musical science considers harmony, melody and rhythm.

(1) Wagner claimed to have dispensed with rhythm and has done so. He contended for vocal declamation by harmony.

(2) Dramatic action. Italian opera is characterized by vocal pyrotechnic. Wagner thought this marred music and attacked and dried forms in music. He also worked out a new system.

(3) Light motive. Another peculiarity of Wagner is that he reproduces the action musically; he gives us song without articulate words; he makes the words visible to the mind's eye. This is the last development in music offered by this bold innovator.

In conclusion Father Gauss said that the future of music is not very encouraging. There are no great musicians in Germany, France or Russia, though Italy has yet a number among whom is Mascagni. The latest Clover, 18; Bucknell, 16.

The most exciting game of basketball played by our team this season was played before our own people last Monday night.

The visiting team was the Crack Quintet of the Clover Wheelmen from Philadelphia. They arrived in Lewisburg early Monday afternoon, making the Cameron House their headquarters. Owing to the inclemency of the weather toward evening, it was purely a matter of conjecture as whether the attendance would reach its expected number or not. The Philadelphia boys were a drawing card, however, and the running track of the gymnasium was thronged with people, the Seminary and town sending a large delegation. The cheering was clamorous, but given in good faith, the star plays of both sides being loudly applauded.

At 7:45 Referee Garner called the game. Clover won the toss and chose the north goal.

It was an interesting game throughout and one noted for clean and fast playing. Every Bucknell man followed his opponent well.

Conover covered his defense in a brilliant manner, always being in position to secure the ball when out of bounds.

During the first half Wassell distinguished himself especially by throwing a long field goal.

Fisher sustained a severe sprain of the ankle when the ball lacked but thirty seconds of closing. An intermission was declared, the remaining half minute being added to the final half.

The score was: Bucknell 12; Clover Wheelmen, 10.

Kleinman, manager of the visiting team, called time for the second half. During this half two fouls were called on the Philadelphia boys, both goals being missed. Shortly afterwards Conover was severely injured on the head and was compelled to leave the game, Goodall taking his place.

They replaced Weymouth at this juncture, and shortly after threw a very pretty goal.

The playing from this point to the end was exceedingly brisk and just as half closed Bell threw a well directed goal, the final score being: Clover Wheelmen, 18; Bucknell, 16.

Williamsport vs. Bucknell.

On Friday evening, the 20th, our basket ball team by two points lost another game to the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. A large crowd was present and great interest was taken in the game, all good plays being applauded liberally. Bucknell sympathizers were everywhere in evidence. Luck seemed to favor the Y. M. C. A. team rather than Bucknell. Time after time the ball would strike in and around our basket so near that it could hardly have been closer without scoring a goal. To be sure Williamsport had the same experience but not to such an extent, while several of their goals were extraordinary. Weymouth in an exciting moment obligingly dropped the ball in the wrong basket. Captain Sarvey, of Williamsport, however, at the end of the game dropped these two points.

Owing to a concert in the lecture room of the Y. M. C. A. game was not called until 9:15. At first the Y. M. C. A. team, being accustomed to the pillars and floor, led the game and after some lively scrimmages Smith got the ball and tossed it high in the air toward the goal. The ball glancing off the electric light wires, landed fair in the basket. Sarvey soon dropped in another and repeated it before long. Bucknell becoming more at home started to play and for the balance of the half the ball was mostly in her possession. Was sell, receiving the ball on a long pass, tossed it into the basket. Before long he added two more points to the score by throwing a difficult goal in the midst of a scrimmage. Just before time was called for the first half Sarvey scored a goal by a pretty throw from the middle of the floor. Score 8 to 4 in Y. M. C. A.'s favor.

In the second half there was a little more team work. Bucknell seemed strong and their passing was at times excellent. Stutzman scored the only goal for Y. M. C. A. Elliott shot a long goal having caught the ball from a series of passes away from our basket. Soon after Davis dropped in another goal and the scoring ceased. The play throughout was swift and exciting.

Line up was as follows:
Y. M. C. A. Bucknell.
Sarvey (Capt.) At. Bell
Smith At. Wassell
(Stutzman) At. Wassell
Kressling Center Weymouth
(Cowden) Center (Capt.)
Harman Defense Elliott
Bavie Defense Davis

Officials: Laclein, Y. M. C. A.; Griffith, Bucknell. Goals: for Y. M. C. A., Sarvey 3, Smith, Stutzman; for Bucknell, Wassell 2, Elliott, Davis. Time 20 minute halves.

My Experiences in the Army.

By O. R. LeVan, '99.

For weeks past placards, announcing that Trooper O. R. LeVan of the Governor's Troop would lecture in Bucknell Hall on his army experiences, have been posted on every college bulletin board. Despite our modest friend's denials all were assured of being greeted with something excellent. On Wednesday evening last expectations were more than realized, and every individual in the audience was delighted with the night's entertainment. It was proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that "Doc's" ability as an entertainer had not suffered one whit on account of his sojourn in Porto Rico.

Trooper LeVan was escorted to the front of the Hall by his classmates, who attended in a body, and was introduced by Dr. Perrine who in a witty way discoursed on the uselessness of his office. From that moment until the lecture was ended the audience was constantly amused by LeVan's presentation of the subject. It was well shown that suffering is not the only side of soldier's life. From Mt. Gretna and Camp Alger to Porto Rico all was interesting, and well worth the hearing. Experiences on transport ships in Ponca, as well as in the interior of Porto Rico, were very instructing.

The well known wit that characterizes the genial "Doctor" attracted a large number of listeners from College, Seminary and town. One half the proceeds is to be applied to the Athletic Association.

Relay Team.

At a meeting of last year's relay team H. B. C. Riener was elected captain for the coming season. Riener has for two years past been a member of the team and has always been admired for his steady work as a runner. In last year's victory Riener gained great praise on account of his exhibition of head work, thus saving the team from a possible defeat. The promise for the Spring is very good, as the present Freshman Class contains a number of fast men.

State—Bucknell.

State College and Bucknell meet again in basket-ball Saturday evening at State.

Coach Warner, of Cornell, will be with the Indians next fall and Asst. Coach Tunnell will likely look after the Cornell team.

The Y. W. C. A. is to be congratulated upon the material financial success of the Father Gauss' lectures. It was largely due, however, to earnest work on the part of the committee.

We desire to call the attention of the University to the fact that THE ORANGE AND BLUE is published by the student body through their representatives. The system of representation on the managing board is good and there is no reason why the bulk of the work and interest should fall on the editorial staff. Because a student is not on the Board of Managers does not excuse him from working for the paper in every way possible. Reading the paper after it is published, of course shows some interest, but the interest we desire is that which will bring us matter for press. To make the weekly attractive to all, we must have news from everybody and about everybody. The most of the college organizations are carried on by the minority and seem to thrive in a way, but college publications in order to be representative and successful must consider all the different phases of school life and likewise be considered by faculty, alumni and undergraduate.

The success of the paper lies in the interest it creates and we therefore invite your criticism and request your contributions, hoping in this way to make THE ORANGE AND BLUE more and more attractive.

We observe the Day of Prayer for Colleges Thursday, Jan. 26. Mr. George S. Budd, college Y. M. C. A. secretary of Massachusetts, in the January "Men" sets forth the significance of thorough preparation for this day:

"The day of prayer for colleges will not be one of spiritual awakening unless there be proper preparation by the Christian students. If dependence is put upon a rival meeting or an evangelist alone, disappointment will follow. Men are not converted by cold storage process. Pentecost will not come without the waiting at Jerusalem. God will answer the prayers of the Christian world for the students through the students themselves. If a great blessing does not come to the Christian, men alone are responsible. It is the Christian that blocks the advance kingdom of God. Prayer, study of the word of God and absolute self-construction by Christian students are essential to the true success of the observance of the day of prayer for colleges."

Applicants for Prof. Harley's Place.

Superintendent Mackey has already received a number of applications for the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. W. S. Harley, Bucknell, '87, which takes effect on the 31st. Prof. Harley goes to the Erasmus High School, at Brooklyn, and starts at $1,000 per year, an increase of $200 over his present salary, with promises that this will be increased before long. Prof. Harley has been located here for five years.—Reading Eagle.

We are pleased to notice the new cover of our contemporary. This is another sign of improvement on the part of the Mirror.

University Missionary Service, January 22-26, 1899, in Bucknell Hall.

The opening sermon of the week of prayer was preached by Dr. Hulley, on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in Bucknell Hall. The text was, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." Dr. Hulley urged the importance of emphasizing spiritual growth rather than things merely physical or mental; and said that if we make the spiritual the centre, all these material things can be organized around it.

Meetings addressed by the different professors will be held during the week, while on Wednesday and Thursday Rev. E. M. Potat, D. D., of Philadelphia, will address the students. It is hoped that the students will attend as many meetings as possible and that much good will result. The program follows:

SUNDAY.
4:00 P. M. General Meeting, Address, Dr. Hulley.

MONDAY.
7:30 P. M. General meeting for men. Address, Dr. Perrine. General meeting for women at Institute, Miss Stanton and Prof. Phillips.

Chemical and Physical Society.
The Chemical and Physical Society held its first meeting of this term on Thursday afternoon. Prof. Owens called the Society's attention to the so-called "Keeley Motor" and gave interesting information concerning same.

Mr. Buckminster spoke on the subject, "Metal Polishing." After explaining the great importance of polishing various tools, etc., in making them more salable, he discussed the tools, machinery, and preparations used as well as the various processes employed.

star is Rhenzi Parosci, a priest of Venice, who is developing oratorio, (sacred music.) United States has no native composers; German training and instincts prevail. At the close of the lecture Father Ganss rendered a number of selections on the piano.

To the music lover or critic, indeed to any admirer of fine art, these lectures have been treats of no mean value. Wagner is rarely considered outside the large cities, hence Bucknell appreciates the more the excellence of this last lecture and the fine rendering of the Wagnerian selections given. It was a grand subject treated in a masterly way.

Week of Prayer Services.

The meetings were conducted as announced in our last issue. On Tuesday at 4 P. M., each department met separately. In Bucknell Hall Prof. Rockwood urged the College students to attend to daily duties and to observe the rights of neighbors in the various details of college life. Principal Edwards asked the young men of the Academy to recognize their relations to their Heavenly Father. Miss Hanna addressed the meeting at the Institute. In the evening at 7:00 all departments met together in Bucknell Hall and heard a forcible and interesting sermon preached by Dr. Hulley on "Where Art Thou?" and "Where is thy Neighbor?"

All the meetings were a fitting preparation for the coming of Dr. Poteat, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church, Philadelphia. Dr. Poteat opened his series of discourses on Wednesday afternoon with a sermon on "God's Supreme Purpose in Man." This purpose is to make man in His image, which implies that man's will shall be God's Will, and Christianity in Christ discloses the possibility of contrary choice or freedom. The temptation began with discussion of the prohibition, giving rise to question, question and doubt; and doubt soon took on the darker aspect of mistrust or suspicion. When mistrust arises there can be no further opposition to appetite. Sin is not content to abide alone; Eve sought Adam.

Sin causes shame succeeded by a keen sense of God, causing the sinner to hide, thus all the more strongly acknowledging his guilt. But guilt evades acknowledgment and seeks to place the sin on another. The subtle difficulty in dealing with sin is this evasion. But God knew the sin and with dramatic certainty punished it. The whole tragic history of the race began with man's assertion of his will against that of God.

The temptation of the Son of Man. The temptation was to break fellowship with God; to use the power given him, for a specific purpose; to accomplish his mission in a way denied by God's grand purpose. Adam's temptation was knowledge; Christ's, success; ours, all pleasures. We often fall by seeking to gain what God has denied. Christ gained everything by conforming himself to God's will.

Victory in Jesus' case meant a good conscience, and the power of the Holy Spirit. But his triumph was not complete until he opened the way to the Tree of Life through the cross. Our only salvation is through Christ Jesus.

These, '02, is confined to his room with a sprained ankle.

because they got something their souls were longing for, and the life of the school will be richer and fuller for the coming of Dr. Poteat. We sincerely hope that he will be with us again next year.

"The Temptation of Man, and of the Son of Man."

BY E. M. POTEAT, D. D.

Nearly all the students of the University, as well as a considerable portion of townsfolk were present at the services in the Baptist Church on Thursday, the Day of Prayer for Colleges. Dr. Poteat, who has rendered such lasting service in the special meetings held in Bucknell Hall, was the preacher. Genesis 3 and Matt. 4 were read as the opening lessons and upon them the sermon was founded. Dr. Poteat announced as his theme:—"How Sin Defeats God's Purpose in Man."

The Bible treats sin as a moral, a practical problem; philosophical books treat it as a metaphysical one. Temptation is a human experience.

Temptation in Eden. The single prohibition in Eden implied the possibility of contrary choice or freedom. The temptation began with discussion of the prohibition, giving rise to question, question and doubt; and doubt soon took on the darker aspect of mistrust or suspicion. When mistrust arises there can be no further opposition to appetite. Sin is not content to abide alone; Eve sought Adam.

Sin causes shame succeeded by a keen sense of God, causing the sinner to hide, thus all the more strongly acknowledging his guilt. But guilt evades acknowledgment and seeks to place the sin on another. The subtle difficulty in dealing with sin is this evasion. But God knew the sin and with dramatic certainty punished it. The whole tragic history of the race began with man's assertion of his will against that of God.

The temptation of the Son of Man. The temptation was to break fellowship with God; to use the power given him, for a specific purpose; to accomplish his mission in a way denied by God's grand purpose. Adam's temptation was knowledge; Christ's, success; ours, all pleasures. We often fall by seeking to gain what God has denied. Christ gained everything by conforming himself to God's will.

Victory in Jesus' case meant a good conscience, and the power of the Holy Spirit. But his triumph was not complete until he opened the way to the Tree of Life through the cross. Our only salvation is through Christ Jesus.

State, 17-Bucknell, 6.

Saturday evening in the Armory at State College Bucknell and State met in basketball. The audience was one of the largest that has ever attended a game of the kind at State. Bellefonte people arrived on a special about 7:45 and at 8:00 the game was called. The plays were all applauded and everybody seemed to enjoy the little scrimmages which occurred quite often. All the officials were busy and made use of their privileges.

Another defeat emphasizes still more the difficulty of winning a basketball game on a foreign floor. The difference in the floors and goals has more to do with success in basketball than in any other game.

The large Armory at State College, in which the maximum floor space for this game has been marked out, leaves a large field for out of bounds. This, together with the goals supported by a single pole and backed with screens, was quite a factor in the game in favor of State. The team work on the part of Bucknell was much superior to that of State. Time after time the ball was passed successfully down the floor to the goal only to roll out of bounds and await the referee's cry "Pass it in here."

Handicapped by a strict interpretation of the new rules, the referee's decisions and the factors mentioned above, the game started in the first half with State playing aggressive. After several minutes of fast playing, the home team scored amid a storm of applause. The play then became interesting and every pass was hotly contested. State's long throws for goal met with remarkable success, Bucknell distinguishing himself especially. The field goals were interspersed with fouls here and there, three being called on each team in the first half. State scored two goals from fouls, and Bucknell none, one goal being made and forfeited on account of moving over foul line. Bell scored the only goal by a pretty throw from one side. Half ended with score 14 to 2 favor of State.

Second half Bucknell took the lead, having become accustomed to the floor. Their passing was good and their game was undoubtedly the stronger as playing was at Bucknell's goal most of the time. State scored one goal from the field and one goal from foul. For Bucknell Wassell scored early in the half and later Bell added another goal. At times the playing was somewhat rough but this was largely due to the extensive out of bounds. With the exception of the delays throwing for fouls the game was fast and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The line up was:

State: 17. Bucknell: 6. Stevenson (Capt.) Attack Wassell, Pearce, Bell, Buckout, Cen., Weymouth (Capt.) Ruble, Defence, Elliott, Lockwood, Goodall.

Officials: Referee, Prof. J. H. Leete, State; Umpires, Griffith, Bucknell; Afelder, State.

Goals from field: State, Pearce, Buckout 4, Ruble, Lockwood; Bucknell: Bell, 2, Wassell; From foul, Stevenson, 3.

Senior Class Meeting.

At a meeting of the Senior Class Jan. 16, Mr. Krise, Miss Mary Stephens and Mr. Bayard were appointed a committee on caps and gowns.

The Class decided to attend the next "At Home" in caps and gowns.

The President appointed Messrs. Lehman, Shipman, Nesbit, and Misses Gertrude Stephens and Watkins, a committee to prepare plans for Class Day exercises.

Orange and Blue Meeting.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE Directors met on Saturday morning last to consider the resignation of Mr. Simpson, as Editorial Editor. The resignation was accepted and John Sherman, 1900, elected to the position. The final report of last year's business manager was read and auditors appointed.

Franklin and Marshall—Bucknell.

The intercollegiate debate between Bucknell and F. & M. has been scheduled for Feb. 22nd in Bucknell Hall. Messrs. DeBier and Lehman represent us and will take the negative of the question. "Resolved that the best interests of Cuba will be promoted by annexation to the United States."

Demosthenean Club.

A club has been organized among the rising orators of the University for the object of training in extemporaneous speaking. "Reading makes the full man, writing the exact man and speaking the ready man."

Resolutions.

Whereas God in His infinite providence has seen fit to call our esteemed classmate Mr. Harvey to mourn the death of his brother, be it

Resolved, That we the members of the Class of 1899 extend to Mr. Harvey and those who sorrow with him, our deepest sympathy, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to THE ORANGE AND BLUE and to the bereaved family.

Done by order of the Century Class this twenty-fourth day of January, '09.

Every loyal Bucknell student desires our Relay team to bring home the banner next spring. How successful we have been since interest was aroused among us! How quickly the Alumni showed their satisfaction with our first victory! They gave us the track of which we had dreamed for years and which would never have been added to our campus, had we not shown that Bucknell has material for the field, as well as for the diamond, the court, or the gridiron. The work before that lively preliminary contest and the regular and almost perfect training that followed were signs of our appreciation to the Alumni; the clean and easy victory was an honor not only to the boys who took part, but also to those who set the pace, to the trainer, to all the students; and no small help to the University. All the Alumni have now more interest in their Alma Mater and are more ready to help us. The name of the college may be spoken without a blush in reference even to the most scientific part of athletics; it is now pronounced by the lips of many to whom we were unknown. Mr. Coker will again coach us with the same tact and patience; he sees cause for enthusiasm and the brightest prospects that Bucknell has ever had. He has not only the winning team of the last two years, but also experienced men who have won laurels for their Academies at the Pennsylvania Relay races. We have the material, the track, the trainer, and the sympathy and support of the faculty, alumni, and townspeople. Can we fail to turn out a better team than ever? Will Dickinson, Gettysburg, or Franklin and Marshall take first place and carry home the banner? Such a change would be a detriment to our best interests and the honor of the institution. It must not, cannot, will not take place, unless we should lose all loyalty, unless we forget what enthusiasm, interest, and determination have done for us, and unless we think that there is no chance for each one of us, and that the team is really already chosen. How was it last year? Who imagined that some of the boys would do as well as they did? No one knows his ability as a runner until he has trained faithfully with others under the direction of a good trainer. The longer and more careful the preparation, the better will be the result. Tuesday at 4 P. M. in Prof. Hamblin's room the trainer and captain wish to see every student who has a desire to participate in the races of next term. Let us come out and hear the plans for the preliminary work that is to begin immediately.

There seems to be a tendency on the part of some thoughtless students to mark up the desks and woodwork around the buildings with names, initials, poetry and pictures. Although this may be seconded by an equally inconsiderate friend or two at the time, it is in general inwardly condemned by the student body. At State College it costs on an average of fifteen cents every time a desk is marked. This fine comes out of a damage fund which is made up by a deposit of $5 per student each year. Needless to say decorating of this character is all done outside of College buildings. Instead of obliging the authorities at Bucknell to go to this extreme a general disapproval would be more effectual and an unwritten law discontinuance of such acts made and enforced by the students would ensure the new furniture, wood work and recent improvements from disfigurement.

Merle Edwards, Cad, '99, spent Saturday evening in Milton.

Grim, 1900, made a flying visit to his home in Kutztown, last week.

Conover, '99, has been suffering from a sore jaw since the Clover game.

Weymouth and Packer visited Philadelphia Thursday and Friday last.

Bidschpacher, '01, and Ulmer '02, spent Sunday at their home in Heppburn, Lycoming county.

LeVan, '99, has been booked to lecture on his campaign in Porto Rico at Chilesque and Danville, in the near future.

Hon. Edwin Heister Guie, '89, has been elected speaker of the House of Representatives of the State of Washington. Mr. Guie is a successful lawyer in Seattle.

Major G. G. Groff is now at San Juan, Porto Rico. In addition to his position as brigade surgeon in the army, he is also school commissioner and sanitary inspector for Porto Rico.

O. R. LeVan has been engaged to deliver his popular lecture on "My Experience in the Army," by Capt. Roland Stoughton Camp, Sons of Veterans, of Lewisburg, in G. A. R. hall, on Feb. 9.

The greater portion of the electrical equipment of the Central Foundry & Equipment Co., has recently been acquired by the University for our Laboratory. This is a valuable addition.

There is an interesting description of Bucknell, together with cuts of the University buildings, in the Lyre, the quarterly of the Alpha Chi Omega music fraternity. The piece was written by Miss Belle Bartol, of the Bucknell chapter.

Weymouth and Wassell attended an informal dinner party at the University Inn, State College, Sunday evening given by Miss Garner, sister of "Kid" '99. Those present were Mrs. Fleming, Miss Fleming, Miss Moore and Mr. Gordon Foster.

After the State-Bucknell game Saturday evening the team attended an informal dance given at the Inn. The Bellefonte special added to the number of available girls and all the boys enjoyed themselves. The State people did everything in their power to make the visit a pleasant one and certainly succeeded from all reports.

Junior Ball.

The 1900 Dance will take place Friday evening next. Chappel's Orchestra, of Williamsport, consisting of eight pieces, has been engaged, and lovers of music will find this alone a rare treat, since the orchestra has been recently reorganized with the best of the Williamsport musicians. Without doubt the music will be the best ever heard in Lewisburg. The Armory will be tastefully decorated and the Committee is putting forth its best efforts to have all arrangements complete. All who attend will be entertained to the best ability of the Committee.

A Fine Lecture.

Rev. Frank S. Dobbins last night opened the course of lectures to be given at the First Baptist church, Philadelphia, in an illustrated talk on "Quo Vadis." There was a large attendance and every one was highly pleased. Rev. Dobbins is a pleasing speaker and he had a congenial subject. The colored lantern slides introduced incident to the lecture were beautiful and evoked much admiration. The second lecture of the course will be given on Thursday, Feb. 2, by Lincoln Hulley, Ph. D., on Interpretation of Negro Diast.

Rev. A. F. Anderson, '94, of Washington, D. C., was in town last week.

Messrs. G. L. Bayard and Edwin L. Nesbit, were in Harrisburg last Saturday arranging for the district council of Phi Kappa Psi, of which convention Mr. Bayard will be the presiding officer in his capacity as Archon.

Century Class in Society.

The social event of the Winter Term was the ball held in the Armory last Friday evening under the auspices of the Junior Class. Following the precedent of former classes in eclipsing their predecessors, 1900 took another step ahead and the general verdict rendered points to the event of last Friday night as the most elaborate and successful of any dance held in Lewisburg for years. Although the weather was rather unpleasant, it did not detract from the pleasure and enjoyment of those fortunate enough to be present. The guests were of the most refined and cultured not only from Lewisburg but also from many neighboring towns.

Shortly after eight o'clock the carriages began to arrive at the armory and by nine o'clock the hall was comfortably filled. The guests were looked after by the patronesses after being received by the reception committee.

The dancing continued until 11:30, when refreshments were served and an intermission of thirty minutes was enjoyed. The dancing was then resumed and continued until 2:30 a. m.

The patronesses were: Mrs. J. T. Baker, Mrs. J. C. Bucher, Mrs. J. F. Duncan, Mrs. A. A. Leiser, Mrs. Wm. Leiser, Mrs. G. B. Miller, Mrs. N. C. Marsh, Mrs. T. F. Russell, Mrs. T. C. Thornton, Mrs. T. S. Norton, Mrs. W. C. Walls.

The decorations were exceedingly effective. The edges of the platform, upon which the orchestra sat, was most artistically decorated with ferns, palms and other potted plants. The musicians were almost entirely concealed behind this floral embankment but the melodious strains found avenues of escape between the separate shrubbery. The side walls were studded with decorations made from bunting and small American flags. Each corner was capped with a handsome Japanese parasol and from the ceiling dangled many beautiful Japanese lanterns arranged most tastefully.

Music was furnished by the Chappel orchestra of Williamsport. The name alone guarantees good music.

Those present from out of town were: Miss Brown, Pittsburg; E. H. Houghton, Chicago; Miss Lillian Paul, Gil. Kulp, Harry Savidge, Shamokin; Will Benson, Mt. Carmel; Miss Joy, New York; J. B. Gearhart, Danville; H. S. Sheridan, Kutztown; Messrs. L. J. Hahnel, C. A. Randolph, Davis and Heckel, State College; Miss Koons, C. A. Caswell, Miss Edith Reber, of Bloomsburg; Miss Scott, Catawissa; Miss Maffat, R. S. Koser, Williamsport; R. J. Crawford, W.

Berger, Muncy; Miss Zellers, Mifflinburg; Miss Marge McCleary, Miss Ediza M. Dougal, Miss Margaret P. McCleary, J. O. Hackenberg, E. C. Caldwell, W. E. Dickerman, H. W. Chamberlain, H. W. Baldwin, Milton; Miss Sober, Chas. Clement, A. L. Allison, Miss Reed, Miss Todd, Miss Thatcher, Miss Del. Stoner, Mrs. Lincoln, Miss Brewster, H. P. Lincoln, W. B. McCaleb, Sunbury; Mrs. R. Gould, Miss Gould, Mt. Carmel.

Inter-Collegiate Gymnastic Meet.

The date of the Inter-Collegiate Gymnastic contest, to be held under the auspices of the New York University, in their Gymnasium at University Heights, N. Y. City, has been set for Friday evening March 24.

Cups for first, second and third places, will be given in the following events: Rings, Horizontal Bar, Tumbling, Parallel Bars, Club swinging, and Horse. A cup will also be presented to the contestant making the greatest number of points in the All-Round College Gymnast. This meet will be the first of its kind ever attempted, and the promoters are making great efforts to make it a great success. Already eighteen of the leading Colleges and Universities have given assurance that they will have their best men entered. A dance in honor of the visiting men will be given after the contest.

Death of Robert Atkinson.

Robert Atkinson, of Ottawa, Kan., prominent in his section of the country in the milling interests, died of pneumonia on Jan. 17, aged 74 years.

Mr. Atkinson spent a number of years in Bucknell as a member of the class of '56, and afterward graduated from Hamilton College, N. Y. He was identified with the work of the Baptist Home Mission Society, in whose interest in 1868 he visited Kansas where he has since resided. Ottawa University owed much to Mr. Atkinson, he having saved the institution in its infancy by his shrewd management of its funds. He was connected with many public and semi-public enterprises, and gave largely of his time and money to all religious movements. In his home town no public movement was undertaken without his support and he was known as one of the most "substantial" men in Kansas. A host of friends both east and west mourn him, remembering his strong character and sterling worth as a Christian gentleman.

Principal Edwards and Professor Stewart attended the funeral of Mr. Evans, Friday afternoon. Both acted as pall bearers.

Basket Ball.

An interesting and exciting basket ball game occurred in the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday evening. The opposing teams were the Bucknell Reserves and the team of the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. Wheelmen.

The game was as exciting as any that has been played in that city this season. Until the last three minutes of play it was anybody's game. The locals won out by five points, the score being 13 to 8.

During the first half Goodall dropped the ball into the basket once, this being the only Bucknell goal of the half.

For the locals, Cowden was by far the most prominent. Of the six goals scored by them, he had five to his credit. Stutzman threw the remaining goal, and Turner gave one point to the Wheelmen on a free throw from a foul.

For Bucknell Goodall and Bell did the scoring, each throwing two goals.

The score was almost constantly tie until late in the game. A good sized audience was present. Between the halves two teams of boys occupied the floor. The side throwing to the lucky south goal winning.

Summary: Referee, Sims, Williamsport; umpire, Wassell, Bucknell; timers, Laedlein and Koser; scorer, Clark; time, 20 minute halves; goals from the field, Cowden 5, Stutzman, Goodall 2, Bell 2; goals from fouls, Turner; final score, Y. M. C. A. Wheelmen 13, Bucknell Reserves 8.

Chemical and Physical Society Meet.
At the regular meeting of the Society on Thursday last Deppen, 1900, gave an interesting review of the advance in Science during the year 1898, calling attention to the elements discovered by Dr. Ramsey, the advances made toward manufacturing liquefied air in commercial quantities and the manifestation of the power of Uncle Sam's Navy in our recent war with Spain.

Timlin, '02, followed with a digest of Prof. Young's (Princeton) article on "The Future of Astronomy," showing that the power of the lens may be further perfected and that photography may become still more valuable in astronomical work.

Frank Stanton, whose illness necessitated his return home two weeks ago, recently delighted his friends by returning to College fully recovered.

Dr. Moss to Lecture.

Dr. Samuel Moss, of Philadelphia, is delivering a course of lectures, in Bucknell Hall, on "Christian Economics," as follows:

Monday, Feb. 6th, 8 p. m., Point of View.—Postulates.
Tuesday, Feb. 7th, 11:15 a. m., Society, Co-operative.
Tuesday, 3 p. m., Religion and the State, Soul Liberty.
Tuesday, 8 p. m., Our National Perils.

These lectures are part of the regular school course of the term and it is incumbent on every student in each department to attend. No admission fee is charged. Students are privileged to bring their friends.

Resolutions.

Whereas, It has pleased God in his providence to remove from our midst our beloved brother, Robert D. Evans, Kappa, '75, and, Whereas, His brothers in Kappa Chapter deem it fitting to place on record some testimonial of his services and loyalty as a Sigma Chi, he is.

Resolved, That in the death of Robert D. Evans, the Sigma Chi Fraternity loses a true and zealous brother, and one who ever was devoted to its teachings, and be it.

Resolved, That the members of Kappa Chapter of Sigma Chi Fraternity, hereby tender their heartfelt sympathy to the family of their deceased brother in this their hour of bereavement, and be it further.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Sigma Chi Quarterly and ORANGE AND BLUE, and that a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

Another Gift from the Rev. Dr. Robert Lowry.

The University is the recipient of another lot of hymn books, twenty-eight in number, from the Rev. Dr. Lowry. He writes that the book is now out of print, the plates having been destroyed in the great fire at the Publication Rooms. The branch stores were searched for copies but all that could be found were the twenty-eight sent us.

For twenty years past Dr. Lowry has kept us supplied with hymn books at his own expense.

The Ladies of the Junior class were entertained on Friday night last at the home of their Class sister Miss Margaret Wessel. The evening was passed in a most delightful way in conversation and games. All the girls report having had a capital time.
Sandford Davis has been seriously ill during the past week.

The student's life is truly a life of opportunities. The privilege of hearing men of ability speak is by no means the least of these opportunities. Annually men of wide experience are brought here to give us the benefit of their years of toil and research. Notwithstanding this, we are often indifferent to the efforts made in our behalf. We find much time for the trivial and transient. On the other hand we often have no time for things of true worth.

The present week is crowded with good things. No one can afford to miss any of them.

Dr. Moss needs no introduction to Bucknell. He is sure of an enthusiastic welcome from those who have heard him before. The earnestness of his words is indicative of the man. The impressions made upon the listeners are abiding. The doctor comes to us with a store-house of knowledge, and he who does not attend all the lectures will lose much.

In addition to the lectures by Dr. Moss, Mr. S. M. Sayford is scheduled to address a meeting in Bucknell Hall, on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Sayford is a man of national reputation in Y. M. C. A. work. John R. Mott says of him that, in the last ten years, he has addressed more college students, than any other man in the United States. His wide experience among College men especially fits him for speaking to them. Glowing reports, from different Colleges, have followed him on his rounds of visitation. Let every student turn out to this meeting; thus showing that Bucknell is ready to appreciate merit and ability, and, above all, to show that her students are interested in the great work, in which Mr. Sayford is engaged.

A united effort is being made by the members of the college Y. M. C. A. to have Tuesday evening of each week for the devotional meetings, without encroachment from other organizations. These devotional meetings have been held on this evening for a number of years and are participated in by a large number of the students. This is the only student organization which stands for the development of the moral and spiritual life of the student and certainly is deserving of this hour. It has frequently occurred that other organizations have held public entertainments on this evening, thoughtlessly disregarding the claims of the Christian Association and even expecting the regular meeting to be postponed.

This request needs but to be mentioned and it will be freely granted that the Y. M. C. A. should, as they have determined, be enabled to hold their regular meetings without postponement.

Mrs. Gretzinger is recovering from her recent illness.

"Jack" Randolph, captain of the State foot-ball team, and Ernest Haughton, of Chicago, spent several days with their fraters at the S. A. E. House and incidentally took in the Junior dance.

College Notes.

At the regular meeting of Zeta last Thursday evening, sketches of the lives and works of Booker Washington, W. E. B. Dubois and Lawrence Dunbar were treated.

A very pleasant feature of the meeting was the reading of several selections by Dr. Hulley; he gave, also, a short account of Mr. Dubois, who was a colored student and class-mate at Harvard.

At the beginning of the term Zeta elected the following officers: President—Mary Sharpless. Vice Pres.—Emelie Pooley. Sec.—Mabel Grier. Treas.—Frances Scott. 1st critic—Gertrude Stephens. 2nd "—Edna Shires.

More Room at Bucknell.

The attendance at Bucknell College has increased from seventy-one in 1890, to two hundred and sixty-nine in 1898. More would be in attendance this year if there had been rooms for them.

Increased accommodation is a necessity if the college is to hold its own. It must either advance or recede.

It is proposed to erect a building 40x140, four stories in height to be used as rooms for students. The cost of the proposed improvements will be about $50,000.

President Harris has made a preliminary canvass of the State, and feels justified by assurances of aid from leading men to undertake to raise the money needed.

The regular canvass will have to begin with Lewisburg, as it is necessary to know what Lewisburg will do before much can be done elsewhere. As soon as enough is pledged to justify it the contract for the building will be let, with the privilege of stopping when building is inclosed, if it should prove necessary; but it will probably not be necessary to stop, as the canvass will be pushed with energy. All depends now whether Lewisburg will heartily support the movement.—Lewisburg Journal.

Col. H. L. Calder, '87, has consented to lecture on "Porto Rico," and Hon. F. B. Hargrove, '89, on "Manilla," for the benefit of athletics. The former was Captain of Co. I, 4th P. V. I., and was on provost guard duty at Arroyo, Porto Rico, and the latter served with Co. I, 10th P. V. I. in the Philippines. This command participated in the battle of Malate and the fall of Manila.

Dr. E. C. Richardson, Librarian of Princeton University, recently spoke at the University of Pennsylvania on "College and University Libraries." The speaker gave an account of the growth of these libraries in America, there now being eight with a collection of over 100,000 volumes.
These are Harvard, 485,800; Chicago, 306,000; Columbia, 250,000;
Yale, 210,000; Cornell, 200,000;
Pennsylvania and Princeton,
135,000 each, and Michigan, 104,
000. Of these the most rapid growth among the older institutions has been the University of Pennsylvania library which had only 23,400 volumes in 1860. The Harvard library leads all the others in size, value and efficiency of administration, coming nearest to the half-a-million-volume limit which he placed as the lowest consistent working basis for a university library, the income for which should also be not less than $40,000 or $50,000 a year.

CHRISTIAN ECONOMICS.

Dr. Lemuel Moss, of Philadelphia, one of the regular corps of Annual Lecturers delivered a course of four lectures on Christian Economics in Bucknell Hall Monday and Tuesday of last week. The first lecture given on Monday evening at 8 p. m. had as its subject,—"Point of View." He defined economy as the law of the Household; the family is the unit of society, of the nation. God formed the worlds on mathematical principles.
Man is the central object in the universe—all things minister to him. On earth there is nothing great but man and in man there is nothing great but mind. Man is perfected through Christian society to which Christianity gives the point of view, by which everything is determined.

The second lecture,—"Society, Cooperative." Tuesday, 11:15 a. m.
Every workman of today is engaged in a minute activity which is narrow and monotonous. Yet the individual needs many things that enter into the life of himself and of his household.
To man in his limited sphere Society gives the assurance that she will provide for his needs, that is society co-operates for the individual members of society. Every man should contribute to the advancement and progress of society by doing his best.
If he takes care of his duties his rights will take care of themselves.

The lecturer then spoke of some ways of overcoming the monotony of the life working along narrow lines.
At 3 p. m. the subject was Religion and the State, Soul Liberty. Three theories of the relation between Church and State were discussed:—

1. The Church supreme. The Roman Catholic theory. The only real purpose of the State is to execute the behests of the Church. This theory was perfected in the Eleventh century.

2. Equality of Church and State.
Church and State different sides or relations of the same thing. This is the theory of most State churches.

3. Nonrelation whatever. The State is organized for specific purposes; the Church is a voluntary aggregation.
As organizations these two have no relation. The function of the State and Soul Liberty was then discussed at some length.

On Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. the crowding lecture of the series was given.
—"Our National Perils." 1. Perils of Freedom, National and individual freedom brings danger. 2nd. Perils of prosperity. 3rd. Perils of worldwide relations. The only safeguard against these dangers is in the formation of individual character—a slow, tedious and pains taking process whether it be public or private.

On account of the length and number of these talks we have been able to give only the merest outline.

Notwithstanding the severe cold the audience under the personal direction of the Registrar have managed to keep the temperature of the rooms comfortable. No inconvenience has yet been felt. Extra hands have been taken on to guarantee comfort.

The Town and the University.

There is a very lengthy editorial in the last week's Lewisburg Chronicle, showing the financial relation between the town and the University. Some of the most interesting parts of the article are reproduced below:

An examination of the books in the Registrar's office shows that the sum of $67,616.80 was expended during the calendar year, Jan. 1—Dec. 31, 1898, in running the University. Of this amount, $27,450 went toward salaries and $3,172 in wages for the regular hired help.

A further examination of the books shows that in January, 1898, there was expended in Lewisburg by the institution: For groceries, produce, meat, milk, and general supplies, $1,150.73.
In December there was paid out, for the same supplies $940.69.

A conservative estimate shows that during the school year, 1897-98, over $8,000 passed through the hands of the caterers of the various student boarding clubs, and that during the same year about $950 was paid out to the wash-women of Lewisburg.

The running expenses of an institution like Bucknell University are enormous, over $2,000 are expended annually in water rents, gas and fuel. The property must be kept in good shape and from time to time extended improvements are needed. During the summer of 1898, $2,000 were expended in putting in a sewer line for certain improvements in the college and academy; and over $600 were expended in improving the rooms at the Ladies' Institute. All of this work was done by local artisans and contractors.

There are a great many other sources from which the town receives benefit from the institution, upon which it is difficult to estimate. It is very hard to estimate what the teachers and students spend personally in the town.
One merchant states that his personal trade from the University amounts to considerably over $3,000, annually. It is also fair to say that the institution brings something like twenty-five families to town for the purpose of educating their children. Some of them become property owners, and hence, remain here permanently.

Subscriptions For New Buildings.

Just before President Harris went away last week, to continue his efforts in behalf of the proposed new dormitory, Registrar Gretzinger, with the compliments of the subscribers, presented him with a paper representing a pledge of one thousand dollars (1,000) towards the new building. This liberal contribution on the part of the President's co-laborers, coming as it does, unsolicited, indicates more than words can tell, the confidence that is reposed in the executive head of the institution.
It was a most substantial form of encouragement, and the ORANGE and BLUE understands that it was fully appreciated by President Harris.

Trax, 1901, entertained his father,
Saturday and Sunday.

Y. M. C. A. Lectures.

Mr. S. M. Sayford, of Boston, Mass., justly famous on account of his work among college students reached Bucknell on Wednesday evening when he delivered the first of three talks, to college men. He was introduced by Dr. Hulley. The speaker plead for first-class Christian lives. In the second meeting on Thursday evening, he answered the question—"What is necessary to be a First Class Christian?"
His talk on things that stand in way of our becoming first-class Christians or Habits is the one that attracted most attention and interest from the men who attended the meetings. We believe that we are safe in the assertion that this talk will not soon be forgotten.
Mr. Sayford in his address makes every word tell. He spoke informally, but did not fail to impress deeply every man who heard him. We believe that this was due to the fact that he appealed to mind, as well as to soul.

Mr. Sayford has been engaged in work among college men for the past eleven years, and has also been connected with the work at Northfield, Geneva, and other summer schools of Christian work, laboring with men like Mundy and Mott. During his short stay here, Mr. Sayford gained numerous friends and admirers, and better than that, gave the inspiration for a nobler life to many students. Mr. So-per, State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., College Dept., was present and took part in Friday evening's meeting.

Some Weather Statistics.

The following report was given to the Orange and Blue yesterday, and is the result of the temperature readings in Bucknell Laboratory: The highest temperature during the past week was 29 deg., the lowest 22 deg. below zero.
The morning of the tenth, the temperature stood at -20 deg.; at noon zero; 1 p. m., 1 deg.; 2 p. m., 2 deg.; 3 p. m., 1 deg.; 4 p. m., zero; 5 p. m., -2 deg., 6 p. m., -5 deg.; 7 p. m., -9 deg.; 8 p. m.,
-9 deg.; 9 p. m., -15 deg.; 10 p. m., -11
deg.—a rise of four degrees, when it was hoped that the promised warm wave had struck us, but before morning it changed to -22 deg. This was the coldest day since the records have been kept here. In the last eight days 17 inches of snow have fallen, and besides it has drifted badly.

Basket-ball Team Entertained.

Friday evening after the Bridgeton game, Miss Emma Probasco gave a Reception for the Bucknell Team at her home in Bridgeton. A number of young ladies from town were present as was also Prof. Lindeman, '97. All the boys thoroughly enjoyed themselves and came home much pleased with New Jersey hospitality.

"Doc" LeVan, '98, is evidently becoming famous as a lecturer. During the past week he has spoken at Lewisburg, Chillasqueque, and McEwenville. This evening he expects to talk at Danville. Mr. Albert Hutchinson,
'99, LeVan's manager is negotiating for dates at Williamsport, Milton, etc.

BRIDGETON 26.

BUCKNELL 16.

Friday evening last in the chilly armory of Bridgeton, Bucknell lined up against the strong basket ball team of that place. It might be well to mention before discussing the game that this is a team which is classed with the National League teams and has lost only two games out of eighteen this season.

A part of our team left Thursday at midnight and the remainder early Friday morning all arriving in Bridgeton at about 6 o'clock and putting up at the City Hotel.

Owing to the extreme cold the audience was somewhat smaller than usual, but there was no lack of enthusiasm. Bucknell friends were in attendance and both sides received applause when deserved.

The game started at 8:30 with both teams playing fast. Bucknell kept the ball for the first few minutes, but Bridgeton managed to drop in the first goal. The beginning of the half was played even and town rooters were getting uneasy and started to work. With this encouragement their team took a spirit and the game became interesting. Every goal was hotly contested. Elmer, Wright and O. Bacon scored for Bridgeton, Weymouth and Wassell for Bucknell.
Playing under National League rules delayed game and several fouls resulted. First half ended with score 22 to 5.

In the second half Bucknell again took the lead and earned all her points by passing which was at times excellent and received much applause. This was Bucknell's half and Weymouth, Bell, and Wassell did the scoring for Bucknell; Elmer and Carril for Bridgeton.

Final score was 26 to 16.

Line up was as follows:

Bridgeton	Position	Bucknell
Wright (Elmer) attack		Wassell
Elmer (Husted)		Bell
O. Bacon (Carril) center		Weymouth
Weber	Guard	Davis
		(Goodall)
		Elliot

H. Bacon
Goals from field: for Bridgeton, Elmer, 4; Wright, 4; O. Bacon, Carril.
For Bucknell: Weymouth, 4; Was-sell, 2; Bell, 2; From Foul, F. Bacon, 2; Weymouth, 2.

Inter-Collegiate Debate.

Most of the arrangements have been made for the debate between F. & M. and Bucknell to be held in Bucknell Hall on the evening of Feb. 22.

Question to be discussed:—Resolved, that the best interest of Cuba would be promoted by annexation to the United States.

A subscription has been started among the faculty and the students and contributions are being received toward defraying expenses of the coming debate.

No admission will be charged.
Surely no student can afford to miss this debate. Let every one attend and in this way encourage our representatives in this the only inter-college contest of the intellectual arena.

One of the most helpful and pleasing sights in the college life this year is the large attendance in the Literary Societies. For a few years the work has seemed to drag, but new life is now plainly manifested in both Societies. So great has been the increase of attendance that more accommodations had to be provided. The programs are filled with willing workers and the halls with eager listeners.

A Literary Society training, as testified to by those who have received one, is of the greatest value and well worth the effort. It is a great factor in determining the degree of the college man's success.

With this in view it becomes plain that it is the duty of each one to do what he can to increase the interest and efficiency of the Society. It is a trust placed in our hands to be transmitted to those who follow. We are to hand down not the Society that we received, not the Society as it now is, but a Society which has improved constantly and continuously throughout our whole course. Let us see to it that coming classes shall not suffer by our neglect.

The time set for the annual debate between Franklin and Marshall and Bucknell is drawing near and the interest is increasing.

The debate has become a part of the college life. Why should it not? It is a contest in which, proportionate to the number that contends, more students take part than in any game or contest, in which the school enters. It requires work and thought for those who enter the preliminary debates. It requires hard and consistent work and practice on the part of those who are chosen. It represents the debating ability of the whole school. Thus it ought to receive fitting encouragement.

Bucknell has chosen two men in whom she has explicit confidence, both in ability and in fidelity to the work. The debaters are leaving no stone unturned to again bring victory to our banners and if Franklin and Marshall wins she will have to fight every inch of the way.

It is our privilege to show our appreciation to Messrs Deibler and Lehman, by offering any suggestions that might be of value to them, also by turning out in full force, on the night of the debate, thus by our presence urging them to their utmost.

The manager takes great pleasure in presenting this issue of THE ORANGE AND BLUE to its readers. With a new press, and new type smaller and clean cut, we will be able to give our friends more reading matter and a paper that we think is a credit to Bucknell University. This has been accomplished at quite an expense and we will appreciate your dollar for subscription now, much more than later in the year. All subscriptions are due Feb. 1. There are two things we would like to urge. (1) Be ready when your bill is advertised and (2) Patronize our advertisers.

The announcement is made that Hon. Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, is to deliver the address before the student body on Washington's birthday. In the last few years in the observance of this day in our university, the faculty has made a vast stride toward the betterment of the students.

Formerly this day was used to display barbarism under the name of class spirit. Books were laid aside and idleness, the arch enemy of man, furnished the class "scrap" as a substitute. Thus the day that the nation has set aside to commemorate in a fitting manner the memory of him whose name is first in the history of our country, was used to display brute strength, which was detrimental to many of the participants; but, thanks to those in authority, we are now enjoying a new order of things. The day is now begun with a lecture on some elevating topic that is intended to arouse in the students thought befitting the man whose birth we celebrate. We cannot forget Professor Rockwood's address of last year on "Washington on the Founding of a National University." How little we were made to feel that such a thing as a class "scrap" had ever pervaded our institution. How our thoughts were led away from such questionable practices and focussed on more noble and worthy things. Every student ought to feel deeply grateful for this change. It ought also to be our earnest desire that the class "scrap" be eliminated not only from the twenty-second of February but from the school entirely.

The committee appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year will report at the next meeting.

The association is offering for sale Rev. J. E. Willis' book, "The Church," fifty volumes of which were presented by the author.

The program of the Butler convention contains many well known speakers, and the convention promises to be of a special interest to all who attend.

Prof. Green, of West Chester State Normal School, has been engaged to deliver the address before the Christian Associations of the University on Sunday, April 9.

Washington's Birthday.

There will be no recitations on Wednesday, Washington's birthday. Chapel will be held at the usual hour, and immediately after, Hon. Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, will deliver an address. Mr. Collins is a prominent attorney of the Lumber City Bar, and a former member of the legislature. He is a forcible and entertaining speaker. Over a year ago he delivered the Fourth of July oration on the College campus, and those who heard him on that occasion, pronounced his address a masterly oration. All departments will attend.

All are welcome to the F. & M. Bucknell Debate Wednesday evening. No admission charge.

College Notes.

A very interesting and instructive programme was presented at the regular meeting of Zeta last Thursday evening.

A paper introducing the subject "To what extent college girls should take part in athletics"—was followed by an open discussion of the same, which proved a most beneficial exercise.

Georgetown University will hold indoor games this winter for the first time in their history. The event will take place at the Convention Hall, Washington, D. C., March 11, 1899.

Dr. George Edward Reed, president of the Dickinson College and State Librarian, makes daily trips from Carlisle to Harrisburg to attend to the duties of the latter office.

Rev. Albert B. Vorse, a graduate of Bucknell, and a native of Lewisburg, died Jan. 21. Mr. Vorse at the time of his death was pastor of the Wesleyan Unitarian church, at Wellesley, Mass.

Chaplain Jones, late of the battleship "Texas," and now with the U. S. S. Chicago, who lectured here not long since on the Santiago naval fight, is at present at Havana, with his ship.

The college flag floated at half-mast, last Wednesday, the 15th instant, in memory of the dead heroes who were killed when the warship "Maine" was blown up in the harbor of Havana, one year ago.

Leland Stanford, Wisconsin and Northwestern are debating the question of allowing their representatives in intercollegiate debates and orators to wear the college insignia. They argue that as much honor ought to be given to the debaters and orators as to a man who probably played but one athletic game. They claim, rightly, that it would be a powerful incentive to debate and oratory.—Brown Herald.

Hon. David J. Hill, assistant Secretary of State, has an excellent article in the January Forum, entitled: "The War and Extension of Civilization." Among other things he says:

"In the midst of the questions which now agitate the public mind there is one clear certainty—namely, that the presence of the Stars and Stripes is the best security against international intrigue, chronic revolution, and every form of violence to the inalienable rights of man."

From this we gather that Bucknell's former president, now a distinguished statesman, is heartily in favor of keeping the American flag aloft in the Philippines.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. III.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1909

NO 21

Washington's Birthday Oration by Hon. Emerson Collins.

The oration on Washington's birthday was announced in last week's ORANGE AND BLUE, delivered by Hon. Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, on Wednesday at 8:15. Dr. Harris in his introduction of the speaker referred to a touching way to the late M. R. Collins to whom Mr. Collins was related. Washington's birthday this year was especially notable in that one hundred years have passed since the first President's last birthday while alive.

Mr. Collins followed the precedent of Washington's birthday orators of preceding years in discussing a live question. He referred to the destruction of the Maine, the first anniversary of which has just passed. The Spanish war was touched upon in order to prepare for the discussion of some of the questions arising from the end of that conflict. The wide results of the war far surpassed its aims. Expansion is the problem to be considered by the American people. The question "Is it constitutional?" has been asked by his opponents. Mr. Collins said that all such questions could be answered only by an examination into the line of our historical development. Nationality with us as with all peoples is a growth. Several instances in our history were cited. The Louisiana purchase was unannounced by the constitution. Our republic lives because "new life comes new duties." The constitution gives us room to move, live and also to grow.

The question is then, not one of constitutionality but one of justice, expediency, duty. We ask: Is it just to the Philippines? Could they govern themselves? Self-government is conditioned upon a people's fitness for self-government. They are unwilling to come under our power. But other peoples have been added to us against their own wishes in the past—the French residents of the Louisiana tract, the Indians, etc. An objection urged against our governing the Philippines is that it would give room for methods of spoliation in the colonial system. But, under a governmental system like ours, with a policy like that which we follow, capacity on the part of our agents in the Philippines would not long be possible.

The question of expediency depends for its answer on the commercial and industrial position of our country. Mr. Collins then referred to the eastern question saying that we with England should stand for the "Open door" in China. The question of duty transcends all other considerations. Duty represents American rule destroyed Spanish authority. But for us anarchy would rule among a people little fitted for self-government. Let the American people take up the mission before the nation.

The oration was remarkable in many respects. The choice of words was perfect and every sentence was filled with an important thought. All departments of the University attended; everyone was interested and well paid for the close attention given to the speaker. Mr. Collins' oration showed that he was thoroughly in touch with his subject and that he possesses no small power of treatment.

The Inter-Collegiate Debate.

The third annual debate between Franklin and Marshall and Bucknell was won by P. & M. at Bucknell Hall Wednesday evening, Feb. 22. Question debated was as follows: "Resolved that the best interest of Cuba would be promoted by annexation to the United States." The judges were E. T. Jefferson, D. D., President of York College; Dr. P. C. Johnson, of the "Wilkes-Barre Record"; H. C. Roop, Ph. D., President of Lebanon Valley college.

An excellent musical program consisted of vocal solos with violin obbligato by Misses Knox and McCain; a selection on "Trovatore," Misses Edith and Milo McCain; and a selection by Misses Burke and Bartol.

Hon. Philskiff F. Hyatt, United States ex-consul to Cuba, chairman of the evening, after a few introductory remarks, introduced the first speaker, H. K. Benson.

Mr. Benson outlined the affirmative by submitting the following propositions: Unless Cuba annexes herself to the United States, she will be doomed to commercial and industrial ruin.

If Cuba is left to herself, she will be subject to political misrule and social corruption. Annexation to the United States will assure Cuba of the best possible form of government. Containing her picture of the prostrate condition of Cuba industries, and by statistics, showed her dependence on the sugar trade with the United States. Annexation would find a ready market for Cuban sugar in United States. Cuba can give no assurance of self-government. She is under the control of domineering and selfish leaders. Capital demands security and protection for life and property. Mr. DeWitt was the first speaker of the negative, the side defended by Bucknell. The Cubans, he held, are eminently fitted to become a self-governing people. Her geographical position and her great wealth are abundant proof that Cuba is self-sufficient and should be a separatization. Annexation would not promote the best interests of the Cubans because of the marked race differences. Each race knows its own needs best.

We have experienced great difficulty in dealing with other races such as the Indians and the negro. Mr. Stale supported the third proposition already advanced by first affirmative speaker, namely the United States can give Cuba, by annexation, the best possible form of government. He presented to show that credit of history is that the only successful form of government in tropical countries is government from a base in the temperate zone. He quoted Benj. Kidd and Richard Harding Davis as to the lamentable state of affairs in some of Cuban can learn self-government from the tropical so-called republics. If the Cuban can learn self-government from the tropical so-called republics, it has been best learn it when annexed to a self-governing nation like the United States.

Mr. Lehman continued the argument for the negative. The Cubans, he contended, are not fitted to become a self-governing people. The Cubans, he contended, are not fitted to become a self-governing people. The Cubans, he contended, are not fitted to become a self-governing people.

Sigma Chi Ball.

Under the auspices of Kappa chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity in Artery hall last Friday night occurred one of the most successful events of the season. The inside of the building was beautifully and tastefully decorated. The orchestra stand presented a most novel appearance. It was draped with large American flags. The national colors were arranged in great profusion on the side walls and each corner was handsomely bedecked with a very large emblem of true national liberty.

Above the rear door appeared a handsome emblem of the local chapter and from the ceiling dangled scores of large Japanese lanterns. A large Cuban flag was arranged at the entrance and the refreshment booth was entirely covered with spruce and evergreens, making it assume a very sylvan aspect.

At 8:15 the orchestra struck up the overture and at 8:30 the dancing began. This continued until midnight when the program called for an intermission and several colored waiters looked after the wants of the inner man.

Dancing was again resumed and continued until about two o'clock. Music was furnished by the chapped orchestra of Williamsport. The patronesses were: Mrs. G. W. Goodman, Mrs. W. C. Wallis, Mrs. W. O. Shaffer, Mrs. W. O. Palmer, Mrs. N. C. Marsh, Mrs. C. J. Wolf, Mrs. P. B. Wolfe, Mrs. P. W. Himmelmreich, Mrs. J. T. Baker, Mrs. T. C. Thornton and Mrs. J. F. Dinean.

Senior Reception.

On last Saturday evening occurred one of the pleasantest and most entertaining social events during the whole course of the present Senior class.

The six senior girls, with Miss Stanton as their guest, entertained a goodly portion of the male members of their class in the Institute parlors.

As the appointed hour drew nigh vigorous and repeated rings at the Seminary door announced that the black-robed throng was advancing. After a very cordial and informal welcome the analysis of "Bucknell Knowns" was begun. These were thirteen very ingenious enigmas whose ready solutions depended upon places and things with which we are daily brought into contact. They consisted chiefly of professors, college buildings and seniors.

After a very terse salutatory address by Miss Shampness, the whole class was invited to the dining hall. The following exercises (the whole class) were held: a reading of the "Attach the Canoe" Appendix upon an Animal Like into Balaam's, which was hung upon the parlor door. Space is here too limited to record

Bucknell Outplays Y. M. C. A. at Williamsport.

On Tuesday last Bucknell played her second game this season at Williamsport. A Philadelphia team was scheduled, but at the last moment they canceled and as a matter of accommodation Bucknell played again in Williamsport. With but one practice in ten days and minus the captain our team put up the fastest game she has played this year. The crowd was large and enthusiastic and in the first half applauded Bucknell's good plays, but towards the last, when the score was close, good plays on the College part were received very quietly. Playing according to league rules made the game clean and fast as only two men were allowed in a scrimmage after the ball. Not a foul was called during the entire game.

The game began at 8:30 with Bucknell playing aggressively. During the first scrimmage Wassell broke the ice by throwing a goal from the middle of the floor. This was followed very closely by Davis' long shot which added two more points. With a lead of four points for Bucknell both teams settled down and the play was fierce and close, each move being disputed. Bucknell's passing was very good and in the right place. The scoring ended by Bell's goal which was earned on several passes. Williamsport failed to make a mark and half closed 6 to 0 in favor of Bucknell.

The second half started with a rush and in the excitement Bevier scored a goal for Bucknell, nobody interfering of course. The game was more exciting this half and Sarvey's long shots for goal were well received. It seemed Bucknell's turn to miss goals as it was Y. M. C. A.'s the first half. Both sides were about evenly matched and when the second half ended with a tie score excitement was intense. Wassell and Goodall scored for Bucknell, while Bevier, Sarvey, Goodall and Stutzman threw the goals for Y. M. C. A.

With a tie score it is necessary to play for the deciding two points. For eleven long minutes the team fought and the crowd held its breath. Every player followed his man and each movement was closely watched. Bucknell by several quick passes secured the desired opportunity and Bell shot the deciding goal in the basket making the score 14 to 12 in favor of the Lewisburg boys.

When Bevier dropped the goal in the wrong basket Bucknell's captain ordered "No goal". This was misunderstood and it was scored. At the end of the game the management decided to call the game a tie in view of the fact that Williamsport discounted the goal presented by Weymouth in one first game.

The line up was as follows:

Y. M. C. A. 12	Pos.	Bucknell 12
Sarvey (Capt.)	Attack	Goodall
Stutzman	Attack	Bell
Bevier	Centre	Wassell
Cowden	Defense	Elliott
Smith	Defense	Davis (Thief)
Officials:	Laudelin	Williamsport;
	Weymouth,	Bucknell.

Before condemning any action it is well, we are told, to get the point of view of the actor. This is undoubtedly true in a general sense but we think it need not be strained to meet every case. For instance it is hardly necessary to ascertain the point of view of certain students, relative to their action one night during the past week, before we condemn said action.

Whatever excuse they might offer for going around the buildings, breaking windows wherever they saw a light within, would fall far short of justification.

The ORANGE AND BLUE does not object to fun. That is a natural propensity of youth. However it is not queer, what funny kinds of fun strike some people funniest? Such an irresistible desire for fun seizes them that they choose a night in the middle of winter, in which to go around the college building and break windows enough to satisfy their humorous tastes, thereby subjecting their fellow students to the discomfort of a cold room. Nor is this all. It is unexcusable destruction of property. Outside of college life such an act of vandalism would be punished by law. Probably if stricter measures were taken with the perpetrators of such acts of rowdiness there would be less of it, even in colleges.

The New Building.

The work of soliciting funds for Bucknell's proposed $50,000 dormitory is rapidly going forward. In Lewisburg the committee is meeting with great encouragement. Everywhere there is great interest taken in the movement.

If sufficient funds are in sight, ground will be broken about April 1st and the work will then be rapidly pushed, and it is hoped to secure sufficient pledges to hurry the building steadily on to completion.

The citizens of Lewisburg and the faculty are responding nobly to the call for a new building on the "Hill." They have always given liberally to the institution, and the present movement is no exception. Of the total amount needed for the building, $40,000 must be raised in the state, so it is reasonable that the town and college should do its share—which it will do beyond all doubt—and do it cheerfully.

State--Bucknell.

One of the events of the week will be the State-Bucknell Basketball game in the Gymnasium Friday evening. State has been getting ready for this game for some time and it will be an exciting contest. Our team is working hard and promises to do its best. Every loyal student should attend the game and aid in our scoring a victory. Encouragement from the audience means much in this game.

The following will be the probable line-up of the two teams:
Stevenson Attacks Wassell, Pearce " " Bell,
Buckhout " " Weymouth, Lackwood Defenses Elliot,
Ruble " " Davis.

A rumor to the effect that the Academy is to be moved elsewhere, and that the department would be discontinued, gained such wide circulation, that the ORANGE AND BLUE took the pains to inquire from the University authorities concerning the truthfulness of the matter, and they state that there is no foundation for the rumor, and that it would be fully to discontinue a department that is furnishing a nucleus of twenty to twenty-five students each year for the Freshman Class.

The Finance Committee has passed over to Manager Garner $32.00 in unpaid foot ball subscriptions for the use of the base ball team. This money, when collected, is to be used in purchasing equipment and supplies for the base ball team. It is hoped, therefore, that those who owe on above subscriptions will promptly pay same to Mr. Garner when he calls upon them.

The venerable Dr. G. M. Spratt, for many years secretary of the State Baptist Education Society and at one time a resident of Lewisburg, is quite ill at his home in Philadelphia. For several years Dr. Spratt has been in feeble health. His present illness is said to be a general breakdown. He is 86 years old.

From the University of Chicago Weekly in an account of the Sixth Annual Concert of the Glee, Mandolin and Guitar Clubs, we notice R. B. Davidson, '94, has attained considerable prominence as a soloist.

tended, desire self government. As convincing proof of this, witness their petition to the United States and their valor on many a battle-field. All government is evolutionary. In support of this he quoted Gladstone. All advanced civilization of the 19th century is due to individual development of nations. Modern tendency is toward individual nationality as opposed to any attempt to establish empire. Annexation is directly opposed to development of individual nation.

the individual efforts. An animatroscope alone would suffice to describe the scenes which followed as one after another Meeker, Deibler and Calvin, with others to follow, glided gracefully and noiselessly from one end of the room to the other and settled down amid the bravos of their class mates when "Canasta de Fruta" was indulged in.

After each one present said that they could not play "Rabbit" all enjoyed themselves with the Ring Game. This however is not the same game which so many of the boys play at the Union County Fairs.

After refreshments, consisting of lemon-water-ice and cakes had been disposed of, the class assembled in the north-east corner of the parlor for a "flashlight," the agony of which ordeal was made easier by one of the young ladies who (afraid of the flash) sweetly played "Comrades" in the adjoining room.

After singing some popular college songs the assemblage dispersed with silent huzzas upon their lips for the girls of '90.

Institute Items

Misses Chilson and Christ spent Sunday at their homes in Shamokin. All the Institute girls attended Dr. Collins' lecture on Wednesday morning.

Miss Booth, who is ill with typhoid fever, confides about the same. Her father who is staying in town is assisting in the care of his daughter.

On Tuesday evening Miss Stanton entertained at dinner the Senior girls, Prof. Davis and Messrs Nesbit, Hutchinson and Shipman. After dinner a very pleasant evening was spent in the office playing games of various kinds.

On Wednesday evening the girls of Miss Hanna's table appeared at dinner in the costumes of the great ladies of Washington's day. The table was appropriately fitted out with old-fashioned dishes and candle sticks, while the old style tallow dip furnished the light. After dinner the ladies held an informal reception in the front hall.

418 MARKET ST.,

Shall Dickinson Win?

From Philadelphia Press.

The entries are still coming in for the fifth annual relay races at Franklin Field, April 23. The latest arrivals are from Dickinson College and the Carlisle Indian School. Dickinson's entry leaves but Ursumus to be heard from to make up this class, as Bucknell, Franklin and Marshall, and Gettysburg have already entered. This promises to be a good race. Bucknell won last year and asked to be transferred to a higher class. This has put the other colleges on their mettle and all three have written to assure Bucknell that she will have no easy time this year. They have requested that Bucknell be retained in this class. Under these circumstances it is quite probable that the class will remain as it is.

Dr. N. P. Stauffer, of Dickinson College, is confident that his team will be equal to the task of giving Bucknell a hard race and a probable beating. Indeed the Dickinsonians are so anxious that they request to be put in the class with Bucknell in any case. Such intense rivalry argues a close and exciting contest.

The New Catalogue.

The University catalogue for 1899 has been distributed among the students. It shows a total attendance in the university of 426, of which number 269 are in the College of Liberal Arts.

That part of the edition which is mailed to the alumni contains a handsome steel engraving of the late Justin R. Loomis, LL. D., who was president of the university from 1857 to 1876. A limited number of catalogues have been handsomely bound in cloth; they also contain a picture of Dr. Loomis. Bound copies are on sale at the registrar's office at the rate of 25 cents each. Copies of the catalogue will be sent to prospective students, if their names are left at the office.

Walter Liddell Hill, Esq., ex-'98, with his wife and child, are the guests of Mrs. Hill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Stoughton. Mr. Hill is a rising young lawyer in Wilkesboro, N. C.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. III.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 7, 1899.

NO. 22.

BUCKNELL 12—STATE 8.

A Closely Contested Game.

Bucknell defeated State College in basket ball last Saturday, in the Tustin Gymnasium, winning out by a score of 12 to 8. This was the last game of a series as well as the final game of the season for the visitors.

This game was the third defeat for the "White and Blue" supporters during this trip.

Our annual game with State is always attended with a great deal of enthusiasm by all students and local supporters of basket ball in this vicinity. The out come of all our various meets with State is watched with redoubled interest.

Friday night was the time arranged for the game but owing to poor gas service it was impossible to get lights for the gymnasium. Every possible resource for securing light for the evening was exhausted and after several hours of fruitless toil in this direction it was decided to adopt the last and only alternative and play the game on Saturday morning.

State's team accompanied by the manager and several supporters arrived in Lewisburg from Williamsport on Friday evening about five o'clock, making the Cameron House their headquarters.

About 9:30 Saturday morning the University band marched down town playing sweet strains of music and advertising the game by means of a banner.

When they reached the gymnasium three-quarters of an hour later the running track was already filled with anxious onlookers eager to display their pent up enthusiasm by means of horns, colors, etc.

At 10:30 Referee Garner called the game, State defending the western goal. From the start the playing was fast and snappy, Bucknell having rather the best of odds during the entire first half.

The game was in progress only a short time when Bell threw a very pretty goal for Bucknell. The interest at once increased and Wassell made a side run with the ball and soon passed it safely through the basket netting.

The cheering from this goal had scarcely subsided when Weymouth swelled our count to six points by dropping the ball once more in the basket.

State now began to think it was time to get in the game. The playing received a very apparent impetus and Stevenson lugged the ball into the basket for State. Pearce followed up soon with another and the half closed with the score standing Bucknell 6; State 4.

During intermission the floor was occupied by the University band. Several selections were played after which Referee Affolter called time for second half to begin. During this half State was very unsuccessful in hitting the basket. On one occasion ten fruitless attempts were made at goal, Bucknell was not free from this feature but usually had better success.

Qualifications for Wearing a "B."

Any student playing in three intercollegiate games of Basket Ball, Base Ball, Foot-Ball, the winner of the Tennis Tournament, one student chosen by the Executive Board as excelling in Gymnastics at the annual exhibition, and students qualifying in Field and Track athletics may wear a "B" on sweater and a "B" and orange button on blue cap.

Last term the O. & B. published a list of those students who are entitled to wear a "B" having qualified in foot ball. They were as follows:—Amernman, Colver, Garner, Herman, Huneston, Mathewson, Prichard, Riemer, Rowe, Sherwood, Stanton, Thomas, Thompson, Ward, Weymouth.

We will give a list of the students in the University at the present time who have qualified in base-ball, basketball and field and track athletics:

Base ball:—Griffith, Grin, Garner, Conover and Weidensaul.

Basket ball:—Weymouth, Elliott, and Wassell.

Field and Track:—

100 yards dash, Pearce, Time to qualify, 10 3/4 seconds.

220 yards dash, Morris, Riemer, 25 seconds.

440 yards dash, Pearce, Morris, 60 seconds.

1 mile run, Meeker, Riemer, 5 minutes, 15 seconds.

120 yards hurdle, Conover, 19 seconds.

High jump, Pearce, 5 feet 3 inches.

Half mile run, no undergraduate, 2 minutes, 5 seconds.

Broad jump, no undergraduate, 19 feet.

Pole vault, no undergraduate, 9 feet.

Shot put, no undergraduate, 35 feet.

Hammer throw, no undergraduate, 55 feet.

Tennis Tournament:—no undergraduate.

Gymnasium exhibition:—no undergraduate.

In case we have overlooked any athlete kindly report to E. W. Colver, Trainer, Field and Track, or the managers of the other departments.

Our Hand-Book the Best.

Sec'y Hicks, a member of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. made the following statement at the Butler convention: "The National and Canadian Committees have decided that the Student's Hand-Book published by the Bucknell Y. M. C. A. is the best in the United States or Canada."

Chemical and Physical Society.

At the meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society last Thursday afternoon Professor Kauffman spoke on "Terrestrial Magnetism." He reviewed briefly the progress of our knowledge on Magnetism and then explained Professor Trowbridge's theory. An animated discussion followed.

Glee and Mandolin Club's Trip.

The first concert given by the Glee and Mandolin Clubs of Bucknell University took place on Thursday evening, at Washingtonville, in the Lutheran church of that place.

The occasion was a convention of the Lather League and during the "social hour" of the convention the Club took possession of the church and entertained the unusually large crowd present.

Two new additions to the club have been made recently: Messrs. Hall and Weymouth, both increasing the first bass section, Hall also being reader and Weymouth flute soloist. These gentlemen took part in the concert at Washingtonville.

At the close of the entertainment the club was entertained by Dr. Hoffa and other friends and a social was given at Hotel Hadley.

It is understood that this is the first of a number of trips which Mr. Schilling is now arranging. An extensive eastern trip is being planned and trips to Milton and Watstown are possibilities of the very near future.

The following program was rendered: A Holly Time.....Glee Club Reading.....Lefroy Hall Melody in F.....Mandolin Club When Morning Breeze.....solo.....J. A. Hague with Glee Club acc.

Finance Committee Resolutions.

At a meeting of the Finance committee last week the following resolutions were adopted:

I. In view of the present indebtedness overshadowing the Athletic Association the manager of the base ball team for 1899 is hereby authorized and instructed to solicit subscriptions and hold entertainments and lectures in the name of the association for the purpose of equipping the base ball team; and also in view of the fact that there are no funds at hand for athletic purposes, the finance committee is compelled for the present to decline to contract any bills in the name of the association.

II. The manager of the Basket Ball team is respectfully requested to arrange a series of class games in order to decrease the indebtedness of association.

Zeta Literary Society.

A mock court trial constituted the leading feature of the program of the Zeta Literary Society last Thursday evening.

After the jury and witnesses were sworn in, Messrs. Black and Kline exhibited great ability as lawyers by the forcible and skillful manner in which they conducted the cross-examination and the address to the jury.

Prof. Helm's father came down on Saturday and will spend several days in Lewisburg.

The curriculum of a college allows us great freedom in the selection of studies. How it has grown in the last ten years! What additions and changes are made for the succeeding classes! No student is any longer bored; we can choose, study, and investigate what we deem best and as soon as we desire. On what basis do we elect? Do we consider the teacher or the subject? Some studies are difficult and the teacher requires much work; others are easier and the professor is, perhaps, less exacting; in one department we always get high marks, in the other our standing is not so good, although our gain may be all the greater, and our college training perfected by just those subjects. Do we ever flow, as water, in the direction of the least resistance? Have we ever registered our choice? Do we always feel capable of choosing? How much a few words from a serious student sometimes help us! How the teacher might advise us! Why do they not do so? Would they be anxious for large classes, if they gave a hint here and there? The good teacher, however, does not aim at numbers; he has higher motives than to advance his department at our expense. The cards will soon be distributed among us for the studies of next term. In the meanwhile let us study our needs, our inclinations, our curriculum, and our teachers; let us make the best use of our many advantages and be graduated worthy of Bucknell.

It is a gratifying sight to see so many take part in the preliminary training for the U. of P. relay races. This shows the great interest that is taken in this branch of athletics, so new among us. Thrice has Bucknell entered the races and twice has she been triumphant. As we understood the rules, we should have been transferred to another class. It would create more acute interest here to be placed in the same class with State College and rumors from Bellefonte to the same effect are circulated; yet, probably at Dickinson's solicitation, we will be kept in the same class. However, Bucknell does not complain. She counts it a great privilege that she is allowed to participate in the yearly event. What remains for us to do is to show, by winning this year, that the desire for the transfer was well founded.

Can Bucknell win? She ought to. With all of last year's team, three of whom have twice helped bring victory, the other, a runner of but one season's experience, who will in all probability break his record this spring; with the additional new men in the Freshman Class who won in a race making faster time than our own; with the new running track in good condition, Bucknell has prospects brighter than ever before appeared on her horizon. Runners consider your duty to your Alma Mater; consider the splendid opportunity of bringing glory and honor to her cherished name; let her have your best efforts in order that the name we love so well shall be for the third successive season heralded victor.

Among the out-of-door games, Tennis appeals to some as the most inviting. Before the running track encircled our athletic field, Tennis was very popular here. More students took exercise in that game than in any other. By the right of eminent domain, three Tennis courts gave way to the track, and last year the interest fell behind. We know that there is considerable hard work connected with the construction of a court—there is in the accomplishment of every good thing. We are, however, well paid by a finished court, for good exercise is an accessory to the work. There is no doubt but that our generous Registrar will give permission to build courts in any reasonable place. The interest in the tournaments, in times past, has been great; the contests for the championship have been exciting and strongly contested. Fellow students, help to revive the interest in Tennis; expend some of your muscular tissue in making more courts. If you have no skill in the game, develop some; if you have, it may be that victory waits to crown you champion. Whatever may be the outcome, your health and usefulness in this world depend upon the care you take of your body.

Geo. Norman, "Skin" Moore and Ed. McCleary came down with the State team and visited their brothers of 2. A. E. at the Chapter house.

Rev. I. E. Swangler, of Lopez, Sullivan county, while here last week attending the Evangelical Conference, was a guest at the Academy.

Miss Flora Anna Siegel, a former college student, is residing at Mercersburg. Her brother, Fred, will enter the Freshman class here next fall.

Conover, '00, who has been a member of the baseball team for several seasons past, has been appointed by the Executive committee captain pro tem.

Prof. John Gilmore, teacher of Clay Building, Williamsport, is in attendance at the Evangelical conference and while here visited his acquaintances on the hill.

Rev. S. G. Reading of Williamsport visited his son M. F. Reading, 1901, on Saturday. Mr. Reading who is a graduate of Bucknell, conducted a series of special meetings in the Baptist church of Watsonstown, last week.

Col. Howard L. Calder will lecture in Bucknell Hall, on Thursday evening March 15, for the benefit of the Athletic Association. The Colonel will talk on the Porto Rican campaign. No admission will be charged but a silver collection will be lifted. It is hoped that a large attendance may be had.

A Proposed Scholarship.

Last week's Lewisburg Chronicle contains an editorial, which, among other things, mentions the following, and recommends that Shikellimo Chapter, D. A. R., of this place take action along the line suggested:

The D. A. R. is doing much valuable educational work. It would be a very nice thing, indeed, if the local chapter would undertake to do something of this kind right here at home. The society being composed of women naturally is anxious to assist one another. Upon inquiring we find that in our own Bucknell, which is fast becoming a big co-educational institution, there are but two scholarships for young women, whilst there are a number for young men. It has been suggested that the D. A. R. establish at Bucknell a scholarship to assist some young woman. Such a scholarship would cost but fifty dollars per annum and could be established in the name of the chapter, or of an individual. There is no doubt but that the University could make good use of such a scholarship, and that it would help some worthy young woman secure a cherished education.

The familiar form of "Deacon" Purdy, '98, was seen at Bucknell during the past week. Purdy was one of the most active men at Bucknell during his course and still takes great interest in his Alma Mater.

The latest reports in regard to Instructor Bohn give great encouragement and hope. During his illness his classes will be cared for by Dr. Perrine, Prof. Riemer, Mr. Morris and Miss Mary Stephens.

The manager would like the following numbers of Orange and Blue to complete the files. Any one having these, or any one of these will, confer a great favor by handing them to him this week: No. 5, Oct. 19, 1897; No. 8, Nov. 10, 1897; No. 29, Feb. 22, 1898.

Prof. H. M. Roth, who was here as a student during the Freshman year of the Class of 1898, is a candidate for superintendent of the public schools of Adams county. Since leaving here Prof. Roth has been a successful teacher in the Shippensburg Normal School.

Daniel Stuart baptized two persons in his church at Montandon Sunday evening.

Ira Tetsworth received a visit from his father from Pensyl. on Friday.

One hundred and eighty candidates are in training for the Yale track team.

Sheldon, Yale '98, has recently made a new world's record by putting the shot 44 feet, 11.4 inches.

From the present outlook there will be quite a competition among a number of the colleges of the country this year to secure presidents. Yale, Brown, Amherst and the University of Cincinnati are without executive heads, and the University of California enters the list next March on the retirement of President Kellogg. Cincinnati attaches a salary of $6,000 to the office, which is $1,000 more than President Dwight received at Yale. California pays her president $6,000 also.—Ex.

Basket Ball.

Early last week the Freshman Class sent a challenge to the Junior Class to play them a game of Basket Ball.

The Juniors lost no time in accepting the challenge. Thursday afternoon was the time agreed upon for deciding the supremacy of the two classes in this particular line of athletics.

Shortly after four o'clock the running track of the gymnasium was comfortably filled with enthusiastic spectators.

The two classes being friendly by reason of rank, much speculation was indulged in as to which way the sympathies of Sophomores, Seniors, Sen. and Prepdom would go.

Each class had about an equal share of the sympathy however, and as a consequence of this, the applause at times was clamorous, horns and whistles being used quite extensively.

At four-thirty referee Person called the game, the Freshmen choosing to defend the eastern goal.

From the start the playing was exceedingly fast, both classes being desirous of throwing the first goal.

After several rapid passes Goodall secured free throw and sent the leather sphere safely into the basket for the Freshmen. While the applause was still rending the air, another goal was added to the credit of the Freshmen by Goodall.

From this point to the close of first half the contest was waged fiercely, the ball being now in the hands of one side and as quickly seemed again by the opponents.

The half closed without further scoring the result being Freshmen 4, Juniors 0.

After a short intermission Referee Conover called game.

Sherwood secured ball after several passes and dropped it into his adversary's basket much to the delight of the Freshmen.

Goodall seemed to be in fine trim for fast ball and covered his former four points with two more. The Freshman class yell now rang out over the banisters of the track.

This so encouraged their players that Davis was utterly unable to hold the ball after the whistle blew.

Mathewson now came to the front with two goals in quick succession.

Weymouth threw goal on foul, while Wassell followed up with field goal.

Mathewson and Goodall, both added to the score in quick succession. Wassell again threw long field goal from right side of floor, receiving much applause.

Elliott closed scoring by throwing goal on foul.

The final score was Freshmen 15, Juniors 5.

GENERAL ATHLETICS.

Field and Track.

In addition to the regular Class Field Day arrangements are being completed for a dual meet with State College next spring. This meet was discussed last year, but owing to unavoidable circumstances could not be held. May 19th is the date scheduled and the Beaver Field, State College, the place. The Inter-Collegiate Amateur Athletic Association rules shall govern the contest and the following events will be programmed:

100 yard dash.

120 yard hurdle race.

Two mile run.

40 yard run.

One mile run.

220 yard dash.

Half mile run.

High jump.

Putting the shot.

Broad jump.

Hammer throw.

Pole vault.

The points in the contest will count: First, 3; Second, 2. A banner will be provided for the winning team.

In some of these events we have not sufficient entries and to uphold the honor of our college our best athletes must be brought out and pushed to the front. For this purpose Trainer Coler will appoint lieutenants to look after the training of candidates for the different events. We need men for the shot put, hammer throw and long distance runs. We are entitled to three entries in each event and if all the boys will think more of college loyalty than of the inconvenience and so-called loss of time in practice we can enter our full quota.

Our Class Field Day will be held June 3rd, and the classes should elect their captains early in order that systematic training may be done. With the regular work for the State meet an interesting class contest is expected and each class should see that she is fully represented on the college team, in order to increase her chances of winning the Horror Cup June 3rd.

Junior Debate.

Friday evening at 8:00 in Bucknell Hall the second preliminary Junior Debate will be held in Bucknell Hall.

This debate is for the purpose of choosing the final commencement debaters and in the absence of Shaker only seven men are contesting. This will take the place of the regular literary Society meetings and it is hoped that a good audience will be on hand.

Bucknell University,

John Howard Harris, President.

THE COLLEGE.

Four courses leading to degrees in Arts, Philosophy and Science: over one hundred subjects of study; separate Laboratory, Gymnasium and Observatory building, large library; ample endowment; modern facilities.

THE ACADEMY.

The event of the week will be the Junior Debate. Perhaps never in previous debates has there been so large a number of men who have already made a reputation as debaters.

But what we wish to note here is the relation that this debate holds to debating in the school to the Literary Societies and intercollegiate debating. Students who wish to excel in the power of persuasive speaking and argumentation should take advantage of the many opportunities offered in the whole course, and from the first day they enter college they should keep constantly in mind that practice is the road to success in this work.

Because of timidity, lack of confidence or negligence many students come to the Junior year unprepared to enter this debate.

Furthermore this debate might be brought into closer touch with the Literary Societies, if they should in some manner urge their members to try to fulfill the conditions of appointment. The celebrated "Silver Cup" might be given to the Society that has the largest number of debaters in the final debate or some basis of award might be contrived.

Certainly, other things being equal, the final debaters should be best fitted to represent the school in its contests with other institutions, and should not these men consider it their duty to the college to try to be its representatives in intercollegiate debates? Should not every one in the second debate feel obliged to enter the lists for a place on our "debating teams"? We do not mean to say that these students are the only men fitted to represent the school; for many good debaters are barred out of the Junior Debate by the conditions upon which appointments are made the first time, but because of their training they should take an active interest in the preliminaries.

Every student should turn out to hear Col. Calder on Thursday night. The admission will be free. Col. Calder comes at no expense to the Athletic Association, but as it is his desire that whatever may accrue financially, shall go to the association debt, it was decided to have a collection taken at the door. Let everyone turn out and make his contribution as large as possible. The association's debt, by heroic efforts has been reduced to $460. It must be wiped out before Commencement, so as not to embarrass the football season of 1899.

Bucknell Musicians Entertain.

Last Friday evening, under the auspices of the Baptist Church Choir, Bucknell talent entertained the people of Lewisburg. The quality of the music was certainly superior to any heard lately in Lewisburg. The audience was liberal in applause and loud in its praises.

The program included solos, duets, trios, the full orchestra of the School of Music under the direction of Brown Martin, and two selections by a large chorus led by Miss Gertrude Knox.

Glee Club Concert.

Thursday evening manager Schilling has arranged for a concert to be given by the Glee and Mandolin Club in the Northumberland Opera House under the auspices of the Northumberland Band.

K. C. Prichard, 1902, called home recently on account of illness in his family, returned Saturday afternoon.

Herbert Stewart, of the Academy, son of Prof. Stewart, is suffering from an accidental wound. We trust that his recovery will be rapid.

Dr. Newton leaves State College to enter upon his duties of coach at Lafayette. Much is expected of him in his new position.

A delightful euchre party was given on Saturday afternoon by the boys of S. J. E. In the parlors of their Chapter House. A number of town ladies were present, chaperoned by Mrs. Walls.

This issue goes to press before an account of the stag dance can be procured, but judging from the noise of preparation and the enthusiasm of those who intend to take part, the stag dance '99 will be a notable affair.

Rev. Archibald W. Anderson, of Newport, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Sea View and Somers Point Baptist Churches. "Archibald" is a former Bucknell student. We wish him success in his work.

Among the names prominently mentioned in connection with the judgeship made vacant in Dauphin County by the promotion of Judge McPherson to the U. S. Circuit Court, is that of John C. Nissley, Esq., of Harrisburg, a graduate of the college.

There will be a union meeting of the Christian Associations of the University held at the Institute, Tuesday evening, from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock. Chas. W. Harvey will lead the meeting, and the topic will be, Why am I a Christian? Let every one come and a profitable meeting will be insured.

Prof. Owens Entertains.

On Saturday evening Prof. Owens gave a reception to the members of his Sunday School Class which is composed of young ladies from the Seminary. From eight o'clock until half-past ten the time was delightfully spent in conversation and games. All the girls report a good time and are unanimous in their praises of the affair.

State Aid for Colleges.
There has been considerable discussion lately regarding the question of State aid for colleges. The Lewisburg Chronicle in its last issue asks if it is not reasonable that institutions of the same grade and class as Lehigh, like Lafayette, Dickinson, Allegheny, Franklin & Marshall, Washington & Jefferson, Bucknell and others, should receive State aid on purely educational grounds such as the Philadelphia University advances in favoring an appropriation for Lehigh. The writer adds:

"A number of colleges in the state are in a measure 'charitable,' although we dislike the use of that word, no other can convey our meaning as well. These institutions have funds for helping the poor boy through college. Some give relatives, and others free tuition in certain cases. This places them in the strict sense on the charitable list, along with hospitals, etc. To receive state aid an institution, it is said, must be of a charitable character.

State aid should always be given to educational institutions to help them out of pressing financial difficulties; and also state aid should be given to those institutions that by a steady development, grow and expand until more buildings are needed and whose facilities must be enlarged to meet the demands of the young people of the state hungry for an education, who are hammering at the doors of some colleges, but cannot gain admittance thereto on account of crowded dormitories and overflowing recitation rooms. This is a new proposition, and to some people it may seem like a startling one, but we make it and stand ready to champion and defend it."

If the students when they are in need of merchandise would remember that reciprocity is a great help to each of us and makes the world go smooth, it would be a great help to the advertisers.

Junior Debate.

The large audience that, on Friday evening, greeted the debaters of the Class of 1900, in their second preliminary debate, was well repaid for their time and attention. The discussion was above the ordinary and the Junior class as well as the debaters themselves are to be congratulated upon the splendid showing made.

Each argument showed unusual effort in thought and arrangement; also a mastery of the subject which could be gained only by hard study. That the audience enjoyed it was manifested by liberal applause.

The selections of music that interspersed the program were of high order and well received.

After prayer by Rev. Judd, the chairman, Mr. C. P. Meeker, Class of '99, winner of last year's debate, stated the question for discussion, then introduced the first speaker I. A. DeWitt. The question was: Resolved, that the United States should form an Alliance with Great Britain.

Mr. DeWitt defined the question, then proceeded to show that there was need of an Alliance because Continental Europe now threatens the interests of Great Britain and the United States. He also showed that it was expedient for the United States to form this Alliance. The first speaker on the negative, M. A. Geringer, claimed that the word "alliance" could not be limited. He argued that a stable "Alliance" would be impossible, that it would draw us into the European conflict as a supporter of Great Britain's policy and that it would bring us no material advantage.

C. E. Bunnell continuing the affirmative declared that we should form an alliance if beneficial to the United States and not injurious to Great Britain; if beneficial to Great Britain and not injurious to the United States; if not injurious to either and beneficial to the rest of the world. C. J. Pearce following on the negative offered three reasons why it would be unwise to enter into such a compact. 1. No need of an alliance. 2. It would be dangerous to the United States. 3. It would be impracticable.

After a selection of music, C. W. Harvey, resuming the affirmative, reasoned that the United States has assumed and must maintain its position as a world power; that this position necessarily involves us in complications with other powers, that in view of this fact our interests can best be advanced by an alliance with Great Britain. There being but three speakers on the negative side, T. J. Morris, at this point, concluded the argument in favor of an alliance. He divided his argument as follows: 1. An alliance is practicable. 2. It should be with Great Britain rather than with any other world power. 3. It is an absolute necessity. It would be beneficial to England, the United States and the world at large. G. A. Grinnam, in closing the debate, maintained that free trade and protection do not dovetail; that an alliance would be a little over eighteen dollars.

Basket Ball Game.
A class game of basket ball will be played in Tustin gymnasium on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. The contesting parties will be the Freshmen arrayed against the combined force of Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores. This should be a very fast and exciting game.

The basket ball management is slightly in debt from the season; therefore receipts will be applied in this direction. Let all come out to see the game. An admission of 10c will be charged.

Students should bear in mind the faculty regulation by which no excuses are granted the first week of any term.

CONCLUDED ON FOURTH PAGE.

Stag Dance.

The annual Stag Dance was held in the Armory on Monday evening, March 13, the gymnasium, the usual place, not being available.

It is safe to say that the armory never before saw such a conglomeration of summer girls and dudes, "new comers" and negro mummies, pages and clowns, farmers and Frauleins, bores and Italians, Fijis and Indians.

The dancing, to music furnished by the Bucknell Band, began about half-past eight and lasted till midnight. During the dancing slips of paper were distributed, and a ballot taken to determine who was to have the prize of a pair of cuff buttons offered for the best costume. The spectators decided that the attractions of Weymouth and Peck were equal, while the Bear, Ward, Wassell, Goodall, and Elliott each received a share of the votes in the order named.

Messrs. Weymouth and Peck were dressed as women; Weymouth appearing in full evening dress, and Peck being the wife of "Farmer Heinrich Rubenstein" (Wassell,) and bringing the youngest (a large doll) with him. The various expedients found by the pair for caring for their offspring afforded a good deal of amusement.

The most complete disguise was that of the Bear (Mr. Murphy, of East Lewisburg.) It was absolutely impossible to tell anything of the man under the bear skin.
Ward was a summer girl whose charms were certainly striking. Goodall was a native Fiji in tight and fig leaves, with large rings in his nose and ears; the one at his nose exciting a good deal of curiosity. Elliott and Hugo Riemer appeared as Indians, with Trax squaw to the latter. Their make-up was remarkably fine, each having the real articles of Indian apparel, and presenting a most ferocious aspect.

It would be impossible to describe them all. All one need say is that the affair was a success in every way. The audience was composed mostly of town people who seemed to enjoy the fun as much as the boys.
The net gains, after the band received its 25 per cent. of the amount realized, was a little over eighteen dollars.

Base Ball Election.
Conover, '99, was elected captain of the base ball team for season of '99, at a meeting held on Saturday forenoon, Griffith, '99, and Magee, '01, were also candidates. Conover was appointed captain pro tempore by the executive committee early in the season. Things are beginning to assume a very favorable aspect in base ball lines, and with clew weather a good season can be looked for. The team will begin out door work at the opening of next term or probably this week. The cage work has been progressing nicely. Let each student lend his or her assistance along this direction.

Basket Ball Election.
Saturday forenoon the basket ball players assembled in Room 11 for the purpose of electing a captain for next year.

On ballot Wassell and Elliott proved to be the only candidates for the position. The former received five of the eight votes cast.

Much valuable material is found in this year's Freshman Class which combined with that of the incoming Freshmen next year, can be developed into a fast and speedy team with proper guidance.

Glee Club Concert.

The Glee Club gave a concert at Boust's Opera House, Northumberland, on Thursday evening. The Opera House was filled by a large and appreciative audience. Almost every number on the program was enthusiastically cheered. One especially taking feature was "Love's Old Sweet Song," rendered by the Glee Club. The foot lights were turned off, leaving the stage in a semi-darkness, thus giving the song a very pleasing effect.

Mr. Leroy Hall gave several readings, all of which were very well received.

Mr. Hague sang "The Tar's Farewell," which was also very well rendered.

The Program.

PART FIRST.
1. A Jolly Time..... Glee Club.
2. Reading..... Leroy Hall.
3. Zanteens March..... Mandolin Club.
4. Mandolin Solo "The Love of All"..... Geo. E. Schilling.
5. "Like the Woodland Rose,"..... Glee Club.
6. Melody in F..... Mandolin Club.
7. Vocal Solo..... A. Hague.

PART SECOND.
1. Zenda Waltzes..... Mandolin Club.
2. Flute Solo, Clarence A. Weymouth.
3. "Love's Old Sweet Song,"..... Glee Club.
4. Oriental Echoes..... Mandolin Club.
5. Reading..... Leroy Hall.
6. "A Freshman's Sweetheart,"..... Glee Club.

A number of people were present from Sunbury, Selinsgrove and other nearby towns. The management has arranged a date in Sunbury for the near future and a large house should greet the Club at that place. Arrangements are also being made for a trip, the early part of next term, to Milton, Williamsport and Lock Haven.

Col. Calder's Lecture.

Col. Howard L. Calder lectured before a thoroughly interested and appreciative audience in Bucknell Hall last Thursday evening.

The theme for his talk was the Porto Rican Campaign. The Colonel is an alumnus of the school and had the pleasure of seeing many of his former college mates in the audience.

The lecture was very interesting from beginning to end. It was replete with new facts. The Porto Rican question had been brought to our notice on two previous occasions, but the line of argument chosen by the Colonel was so entirely different that he encountered no difficulty whatever in commanding the strictest attention of all.

He said that at the call for soldiers his division was very ready to go. The organization of the Company and the preparations for the voyage to the island were beautifully portrayed. The sailing into Guanica harbor, thence to Arroyo, via Ponce was clearly outlined. Porto Rico, in the vicinity of the landing place, was fully described, also the position of the companies shown.

He said that to Gen. Miles is due the credit of formulating the plan of the campaign which was perfect. The objective point was San Juan. When the campaign was well under way news was received that the protocol of peace had been signed. Much disappointment was expressed at this news. "The time was passed in various ways until return. The description of the Porto Rican pony, market, citizen, cooks, victuals, etc., was quite a source of amusement.

The speaker next took up the return march from Arroyo through Guayama to Ponce and the incidents attending same; the fandango, also the meeting of Battery A of Philadelphia and the Governor's troops at Ponce. As the soldiers entered Ponce they began to dream of home and the dear ones left behind.

In conclusion the speaker said: "In three months of the eventful year 1898, we jumped in the scale of nations to a first class power. Acting as the champion of the cause of humanity, our flag was unfurled for the kiss of the rising and setting sun. Our mission forced upon us, but accepted, will work good for millions of the race. From an isolated nation groaning under the shackles of non-expansion, we have joined the powers of the world in the grand march of civilization. May the Rules of the Universe guide us in our government. May history record that the lords of the children of the temples were lightened when America took them under the Treaty of Paris."

The class of 1902 have made things stir since they entered college last September. They now desire to win renown in a forensic way and have made the Sophomores their point of attack in challenging them to a debate. The challenge has been accepted in a meeting of the class of 1901. Committees have been appointed and are now engaged in making all necessary arrangements.

Perhaps the most conspicuous nuisance around the school at the present is the Bulletin board fiasco. There is hardly a notice posted about the building that does not show his handiwork. It may be artistic and amusing but it is also disgusting and a usurpation of privilege. As soon as he sees a notice he sets his wits and pencil at work and tries to see how ridiculous he can make the notice appear by crossing out certain letters, thus making new words which have no bearing on the matter. That these words are neither proper nor decent makes little difference as long as they are supposedly funny.

Further he is not satisfied to let it rest with what has been described above but he must try his hand at poetry. The one who pinned up a certain poem on last Friday is guilty of an act despicable in the eyes of nine-tenths of the students.

This as stated above is a usurpation of privilege. The board is placed there to accommodate students, and the faculty would administer a just rebuke by removing the board. This would affect innocent students. They therefore should guard their own privilege, discover the culprit and compel a cessation.

There is yet another chapter to this. Not satisfied with marking up the student's board, that reserved for the use of the faculty is encroached upon, the examination schedule and the schedule of recitations for next term are penciled marked and torn. Other notices are treated in the same way. Let us remember that we have no right unauthorized to put a mark upon this board. It is presuming too much when we undertake to disgrace the faculty's bulletin board.

This vandalism, dormant for some time, has received a wonderful impetus this year. We do not mean to infer that one person is doing it all. We believe there are more. We believe also that it is time these students realized that the bulletin board is not their property alone and must not be desecrated by their hands.

Manager Garner has succeeded in securing sufficient funds to buy the required number of new uniforms to fit out the new base ball team. He is to be commended for his energy. One gentleman has paid for two full uniforms; two others have give one suit each; two have contributed another; and the rest are provided for by small subscriptions. We are informed that Mr. Garner has been requested by the finance committee to secure money by subscription to provide other supplies for the team, such as bats, balls, &c.

The Relay Races

C. J. Pearce, the crack sprinter of Bucknell University, yesterday sent his entry for the 120-yards scratch race. Pearce has a record of 10 seconds for 100 yards, and great confidence is felt in his ability by his college mates. They are coming down expecting to see him defeat Tewkesbury, or at least to make a close race with him. Pearce will also run on the relay team. H. B. C. Riemer has been chosen captain. He also ran last year, as did E. J. Morris. Sherwood, Goodall and Wassell are three other men who are having a close fight for the vacant position on the team. Goodall, captain of last year's South Jersey Institute team, at present seems to be running the fastest, and thus stands the best show for the place. Bucknell is determined to repeat her last year's victory over Dickinson, Gettysburg and Franklin and Marshall. Early this season Bucknell asked to be transferred to a faster class, but the other colleges mentioned above objected, stating that they were fast enough for the men from Lewisburg. This arouses especial interest in this event, which is sure to be fought out to the very last inch.—Phil. Press.

Rev. P. S. Calvin, Bucknell, '94, has accepted a call to the First Baptist church, of Neenah, Wis.

Frank Anderson expects to begin a series of special meetings at Montgomery Baptist church, next week.

Mrs. K. B. Larson gave several interesting talks on "Tennyson" at St. David's, Chester Co., during the past week.

A number of the college men and several of the faculty will attend James Whitcomb Riley's lecture at Williamsport, this evening.

The regular edition of the "Blue and Gold," prepared by the members of Zeta Literary Society, constituted the program of the meeting last Thursday evening.

be repressive to the best interests of the United States; that the history of the American people is not favorable to alliances; that the gain would not be sufficient for the outlay.

From beginning to end the contention was sharp and vigorous. Each speaker, loser with winner, deserves great credit.

Those chosen for the final debate, to be held at Commencement, are Carringer, Harvey, Morris and Pearse. The judges were lawyer F. E. Bower and Prof. Hamblin. Timekeeper, Sherman, 1900.

Dr. Groff's Letter.
The following is a quotation from a letter written by Dr. Groff, now in Porto Rico, to the Sophomore class in Physiology.

"My own belief is, that in general an adult can live as well in the Tropics as in the Temperate Zones. I do not believe at all in what is called 'Acclimatization.' I think that is simply getting educated, learning what can and cannot be done in hot countries.

Thus a person cannot wear an overcoat, nor drink whiskey, nor eat so much as in temperate regions, nor sleep on the ground, nor in a draught of air, nor drink marsh water. When he learns these things and many others, which he ought to have learned before he left Pennsylvania, then he is as comfortable and as well as in his native town. This is all there is in the so-called acclimatization; this and nothing more. The tropics are just as healthful as the temperate regions, no more so, no less so."

Col. and Mrs. H. L. Calder were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gretzinger the latter part of last week. Col. Calder graduated from the college in 1887, and Mrs. Calder, who was Miss Maude Hanna, daughter of Hon. W. B. Hanna, a trustee of the University, graduated from the Institute the same year.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. III.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 1899.

NO. 25.

Ground Broken for Our New Dormitory.

On Monday afternoon at four o'clock an event took place on the College Campus, which marks a new epoch in the University's history, as at that hour, with appropriate ceremony, ground was formally broken for the new dormitory.

The exercises were of an interesting character. Made was furnished by the Bucknell band under the leadership of Mr. C. A. Weymouth, 1900. Whilst the spectators were gathering the band furnished excellent and lively music.

President Harris introduced Hon. J. Thompson Baker, a member of the class of 1891, who delivered an inspiring address. After the address, an account of which is given elsewhere, while the band was playing, the four corners of the central portion, or square, of the new building were marked by the presidents of the College classes. Each class grouped about its stake as follows:

SINIOR CLASS: Miss Mary Hoopes Sharpless, president; North-east corner.

FRESHMAN CLASS: Calvin Hayes Elliott, president; South-west corner.

Each class had its own stake, made of hard wood finished in the natural. The stakes were draped with the colors of the respective classes and were driven in by a new method, the handles of which were wrapped in orange and blue ribbon, the University colors. Ground was then formally broken with a new pick and shovel, both decorated with orange and blue ribbon.

Hon. Harold Murray McClure, president of the 17th judicial district, broke ground in behalf of the board of trustees, and William Cyrus Bartol, Ph. D., professor of mathematics, on behalf of the faculty.

During the exercises the band occupied a raised stand immediately in front of the central part of the western facade of the new building. The speaking was also done from their stand which was erected for the purpose. The extreme ends of the building were marked by large posts, draped in orange and blue bunting.

The committee awarded the contract for excavating to Mr. Joseph C. Nesbitt, of Lewisburg, who will go ahead at once and remove the trees and proceed with the digging.

It has been manifest for some time that the demands of a growing attendance. The student body will watch the erection of the new building with increasing interest.

Literary Society Election.

Theta Alpha Literary society elected officers for the ensuing term on Friday evening last. The following were elected: President, Edgar Reed; Vice President, H. A. Trax; Critic, J. A. Herman; Secretary, J. S. Davis; Treasurer, E. P. Hecker; Censor, E. W. Cober; Curator, John Sherman.

Hon. J. T. Baker's Address.

With a few introductory remarks Mr. Baker's address was in substance as follows:

At a time when our beloved Commonwealth is mangled with shame and confusion and our legislators are writhing under the sting and stain of corrupt solicitation, making a sturdy effort to wash themselves clean, it is a pleasant sensation to turn, lift up the eyes and contemplate the small beginnings out of which have been evolved this splendid institution, the result of patience and benevolence on the part of well disposed men. I say, it is a delightful thing to be able to turn and contemplate an institution founded as this one has been, by the gifts of true men, generous men, to their fellows for the good of the race.

The thought that has dominated me this afternoon has been this. Do we people of Lewisburg appreciate what this university is to us? Do we realize what it means now? What it has meant and what prophecies its dimensions shall sustain to the future. Self government is hopeless without the University and the University is the "Philosopher of Democracy." But in a local sense what has this University been to us. Do we ever consider what it means to us as a people here?

I may well speak of this, especially this afternoon, of what it has done for us. Have we taken count of the fact that this University is not a mendicant that it never received a dollar from the hand of a tax gatherer; that it was conceived in the loftiest spirit of faith, of hope and of freedom and born in the travail of love for our fellowmen. The great commonwealth of Pennsylvania is staggering under the weight of grants made to educational institutions and for other less worthy purposes, but never can she point the finger of her embarrassment to Bucknell University. She is the child of the people, sprung from the bosoms of the noblest and the best.

Men of Lewisburg have you ever thought of this, that nearly three quarters of a million of money have been invested in this institution, of which about five per cent came from Lewisburg? More money than has been invested in a hundred and fourteen years from the beginning of her existence as a borough than has been invested in all the enterprises ever established in this town, and they were established for the purpose of making money. Most of them have paid, whilst this institution founded on the "Rock of Ages," planted in the hearts of men, has gone on flourishing, the result of the faith and toil of good men, and gives to us what is to-day and what she promises for the future.

Mr. Baker after pointing out the fact that the dividends of the institution were not of monetary value but could be seen and felt forever by Lewisburg, said that the institution has been successful owing to the genius and the devotion of the men who lead and manage and told here. That it has been triumphantly successful is manifested by the fact that in the last ten years of business depression and confusion, Bucknell College has quadrupled her attendance. It is an astonishing statement but a mathematical fact and what does that mean to us? Where would we be as a place, without habitation or name if it were not for the fact that this institution sends out to the utmost ends of the earth representatives.

Have you ever thought what we owe this institution, what it is to our children, what it is to ourselves, to the community? I say that it is a debt that we shall never be able to pay, but if there ever was an invitation, if there ever was a cause why a citizen should rally around any project, any representative of any institution in their midst, the people of Lewisburg, have the noblest, most true and earnest reasons on earth to make Bucknell University the beneficiary of every attention and every service and every kindness that they can bestow upon her.

Our friends are now about to begin the construction of a great building to accommodate the needs of the University. For that purpose we have come here together. It is a great occasion. This marks a stage in the career of this University. I congratulate you on being here now. I bid you look on to the years that are to come and rest upon what shall here transpire, what may here be done. We may be proud of this day. We may be thankful for this opportunity and we should never forget that it is our own selfish (if you please) interest in every way to promote the success of this undertaking and any undertaking connected with the University. Davis may be the day when we shall fail to extend the glad hand of fellowship and brotherhood to everybody connected with Bucknell University.

The finance committee of the Athletic Association is doing good work and has adopted business-like methods. The Association debt has been reduced since Dec.
1, from $750 to $450. All managers are requested to meet the committee periodically. No manager has the authority to make any purchases, close the financial end of games or promulgate any financial negotiations without the consent of the committee. All managers have been notified that as long as the present debt stands, the committee will not purchase any supplies or equip teams. This leaves the various managers to adopt their own devices to equip their respective teams, and, hence, they are all hustling for funds.

This financial committee is to be congratulated upon its meritorious work.

State Meet.
Every Bucknell student knows that the meet with State College takes place on the 19th of May. The events and the articles of agreement were published in the ORANGE AND BLUE several weeks ago. Very few students have shown any inclination to work for this meet. It is true that not having a place for indoor training we are at a disadvantage, but now since the weather is suitable for working out doors every one should try for some event. Not many realize that State considers a victory in track athletics as great as a victory in foot-ball.
Ought we not then to put forth the same effort to win that as we do in foot-ball?
It is desired that all who wish to be candidates hand their names to the manager or captain. An overseer will be appointed for each particular class of events, as sprints, jumps, etc.

Manliness is, perhaps, the highest form in which the best qualities of mind, body and spirit express themselves. It is easy to excel in some directions. A splendid physique is a magnificent possession, but a mental weakness may possess it. Intellectual superiority seems to have an advantage over all others, but it has, in many instances been a merely meteoric flare, ending in the darkness of collapse. A noble spirit, when imprisoned in a weak body, or when compelled to express itself through a feeble brain, is sure to know more of pain than pleasure, more of defeat than victory.

Bucknell University furnishes the opportunity for the development of each of these component parts of man. The student who finds out which needs most development, and who makes the best use of such knowledge, is the one who will excel in manliness in due time, whatever may be his disability at present. The various opportunities outside of the required course give sufficient chances for development.

For the sake of our Alma Mater, if not for ourselves, we ought to develop all the manliness that is possible to us. Our course here, at least the course of the strong man, does not end with our residence.

A manly student influences for good not only members of his own class, but also of the classes that follow him for three years, and through them many of the following classes. Students give character to a college just as surely as do the faculty.

As we, last week, witnessed the ceremony of breaking ground for the new College Building, we also entered upon enlarged opportunities as students. Bucknell is growing, will grow, and the more manly the character of the students at present, the faster the growth of the college will be.

Of course the development of Bucknell is not our first nor highest aim, but it is gratifying to many young men to know that their manliness is, all unconsciously on their part, helping to make another's life richer, without any loss to them.

Life is worth living when it is strong, and life is worth giving when the giver and receiver are both the better for it. Manliness is not such a common thing that every man is familiar with it. Many meet it for the first time after they have become students at college, and the meeting is not only a revelation of a higher form of life, but of new possibilities. We would rather have it said that Bucknell turns out men, than any other praise that could be accorded to it.

Miss Mary Stevens, Messrs. Ayres, Meserve and Wolf assisted Mr. Peacock at Winfield Sunday evening in the Easter service. They report a rich and varied program and the usual pleasant treatment from the Winfield Baptists. The quartet "Christ the Lord is risen to day," sung by Misses Stevens and Haines, Messrs Meserve and Peacock, without accompaniment, attracted special attention and was very well rendered.

forth to the young men.
I. Look within. II Cor. XIII. 5. "Get away from yourselves for a short time and examine yourselves." "Turn back," the author writes, "and see if the life is in keeping with the title."
"Ask yourselves at the close of each day some very hard questions about the days' proceedings."

II. Look away from self to Christ.
John I, 20. "Do not look within always. Just as the bird was intended to live in the atmosphere, so God intended us to live in the atmosphere of Christ. Look above. Life is promised for a look."

III. Look around you. "For people who need your help and sympathies. God alone can save the world, but he can not save it alone." The motto of the Edison Light house is "Give Light, Save Life." This is an excellent life motto for every Christian young man. Do not let your being become as the Dead Sea, stagnant, with no outlet to the outside world.

person. Action is the weapon of success. Tears cannot drown a Rum Seller, because he is always a good

The importance of opportunity.
Dollars worth of flowers on the cotton will never throw a single blossom in a person's pathway. Now is the time to test ourselves, to examine and see if we are saved. We may know this by looking to Christ."

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 18, 1899.

NO. 27

Bucknell Defeats Susquehanna.

Susquehanna came to town Tuesday expecting to win a "grand victory," if the Selingsgrove correspondent of the "Press" is to be believed. Instead of a victory they met defeat and that rather easily.
The day was a good one for base ball, and a pretty good crowd turned out to see the initial game. The usual number of "dead head" town youths graced the railroad, and the usual number of "dead head" students disgraced the hill. Par parenthese, let me remark that in that goodly hunch, which viewed the game without paying for the pleasure, there were some of Bucknell's "heavy" sports.

The game proved decisively the fact that Bucknell has a winning Base Ball team. The boys played together in good style and the individual work was excellent.

From the spectators point of view the game was rather slow after the first inning. Mathewson pitched a star game, allowing the visitors but four hits. Garner and Stanton did effective work with the stick. Griffith hurt his arm in the fourth while trying to steal second and had to retire.
The game was called at the beginning of the eighth in order that Susquehanna might catch a train. Following is the score.

Bucknell-Demorest.

The Demorest Base Ball Club, of Williamsport, composed of old base ball players with a sprinkling of new blood was beaten by Bucknell Saturday afternoon in a spirited game. It was evidently the first time that Dem-orest's men had played together, and as a consequence their work at times was a little ragged. Rutter's work in right field was decidedly poor. "Dick" Ansell who pitched for Toronto last year, occupied the box in the early part of the game. He was hit freely by Bucknell, and was succeeded by Applegate, who gave way in the seventh to Willie Bevier, an old-timer, caught for the visitors.
Bucknell played an errorless game.

The boys batted well, and showed that they were good waiters. O'Brien and Weidensaul used the stick very effectively. Although Mathewson had a sore arm he started in to pitch and kept Demorest guessing. Pritchard went in the box in the fifth and he did very well, striking out three men in one inning. He has a very peculiar ball, the latter almost invariably striking under it. The game was featureless except for a neat double play in the seventh. With one man on first, Garner stopped a hot grounder from Hutchinson's bat, threw to Weidensaul who put his man out.
Weidensaul in turn throwing to first in time to put Hutchinson out.

Rutter, the first man at the bat for Demorest fanned out. Shaffer was hit by pitched ball. Clayton hit to Mathewson and was thrown out in first. Hutchinson hit a two bagger to right field bringing in Shaffer, thus scoring the first run for Demorest.
Ansell was hit by pitched ball, Willie drew a base on balls. Applegate hit to Mathewson and was put out at first, retiring the side.

In Bucknell's half of the first, Conover hit to Ansell, being put out at first. Grim did likewise. Weidensaul hit along drive into deep left making three bases, and was brought home by O'Brien's hit to centre. Magee hit to Hutchinson and was put out at first, making third man out.

In the second Demorest failed to score, but Bucknell got two runs.
Demorest got three in the fifth and this ended their scoring. Bucknell added one to their score in the fourth, three in the fifth, three in the sixth and two in the seventh.

"Honey" Geary umpired the game.
Following is the score:

ANOTHER BENEDICT FOR CLASS OF '95.

Bucknellians Take Leading and Secondary Parts in Lewisburg Wedding.

A very pretty church wedding took place at the Beaver Memorial church, on Wednesday, when Rev. George Ledy united in marriage Miss Ida
List, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A.
List, and Rev. W. T. Paulin, of Cedarsville, N. J.

The church was filled with the invited friends of the young couple, who had gathered to witness the happy event. The Kappa Sigma Fraternity, of which the groom was a member, attended in a body. The ceremony was performed at high noon.

As the procession entered the church and passed to the altar a wedding march from Wagner's "Tannhauser" was played by Miss Julia Alken. As the bridal party left the church Mendelsson's "Bridal Chorus" was finely rendered.

The attendants of the bride and groom were: maid of honor, Miss Alta Gerhart, of Danville; bridesmaids, Misses Mary Butler, Bell Bar-tol, Charlotte Walter, of Lewisburg, and Katharine Stephenson, of Mahantoy; best man, Mr. Oscar Paulin, of Philadelphia, brother of the groom;

ushers, Rev. Robt. P. Zebby, of Philadelphia. Prof. Nelson F. Davis, of Bucknell, Rev. Jacob Sallade, of Milton, and Prof. S. Ward Gilpin, of Huntington Mills, Pa. The bridal party was preceded to the altar by the boys and girls of the bride's Sunday school class.

After May 1st the young couple will be at home in the Baptist parsonage at Cedarville, N. J.

The bride has a large number of friends in Lewisburg, who wish her God-speed in her new life. She has always been very popular and highly esteemed. The groom was a member of the graduating class of '95, of Bucknell, and is an able minister of the Baptist church, doing good work in his chosen field at Cedarville, New Jersey. The young couple enter upon their married life with bright prospects and the sincere wishes of numerous friends for a long and happy life.

No Inter-Class Debate.

The Sophomore-Freshman debate, scheduled to occur about June first, will not take place. Last Tuesday the Sophomore Committee notified the Freshman class that the demands on the time of many of their best debaters were so great that they found it impossible to give the necessary attention to the debate. The Sophomore Class held a meeting last Friday afternoon and their committee reported that they could not make the necessary arrangements. The committee was discharged.

The Freshman, however, were ready for the debate with a number of men prepared. They will probably have a class meeting soon, when their committee will report the action of the Sophomore Class.

The Chemical and Physical Society.

By special request of the society
Hon. John T. Hyatt, class of '91, delivered an address on "The Sugar Industry in Cuba." He traced the history of the making of sugar on the island and discussed the successive steps by which the large number of small estates have merged into the modern plantation controlling thousands of acres.

After locating the principal sugar producing districts he proceeded to describe a typical plantation. The canes grow from 12 to 18 feet high and 2 to 3 inches in diameter. The Louisiana canes are about two-thirds this size.
Cuban fields have been known to bear fifty years of constant cultivation.
The cutting season lasts from December till July and during all this time the work goes on almost uninterruptedly for from fifteen to twenty hours per day. Canes are cut off very close to the ground. In convenient lengths and thrown on the cart upon which they are taken to the mills. On some of the larger plantations narrow-gauge railroads are now used for this purpose.

The grinding goes on continually for twenty or twenty-one hours per day. A large mill grinds about thirty ton per hour. A great amount of capital is put in the sugar machinery.
Philadelphia once supplied nearly all the machinery for Cuba, but now this trade is held by France and England. Sugar cane contains 880 juice and 120 fiber. The first grinding removes 660 of the juice and the second 107 leaving 173 which is lost.

Mr. Hyatt then explained the various processes in the manufacture of the various grades of sugar. The entire process requires about six hours for its completion. Then the very great advantage that growers living on the seacoast have over those living in the interior, was pointed out.

He closed by referring to the rapid growth and success of his alma mater.
After the address, Mr. Hyatt answered a number of questions. Every member of the Society followed the reading of the paper closely and at the end of the excellent address a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Hyatt for his kindness.

College Girl's Reception.

The College Girl's Association tendered a reception to their friends Friday evening, April 14th, in the Institute parlors. Like all affairs at the Sanitary houses was very pleasant. The small parlor decorated in Oriental style, attracted considerable attention.
The guests included the boys from the "Hill," the professors and their wives, and town friends.

Our Relay Team.

The final preliminary for the relay team to uphold Bucknell at Philadelphia, April 24th, was held Saturday, April 23rd, at 3:30. Each candidate ran the quarter mile alone against time. The following men were chosen: Pearce, Goodall, Morris and Riemer, with Shorckley as substitute.

It is to be regretted that we are compelled to again rake over the ashes and remind the students of the college concerning their duty. Not only are we all obligated, to a certain extent, to lend our aid to all student work, but it is undoubtedly to our own interest to gain practice in the literary line.

At the meeting of the Board several weeks past, students were elected to fill the editorial and athletic departments. Both were capable of well executing the duties; but, thanking the august body for its appreciation of their merits, they respectfully decline. Such action is too often met with and offers great discouragement to those who are willing to give their aid.

Last term in literature, the question was thoroughly discussed by the professor before a class composed of over forty, nearly all Juniors and Seniors. The methods of other colleges were brought forth and it was shown that at most institutions to be able to obtain a place on the publication staff of a college paper was a distinction which many sought, but few attained.

Why do not all Bucknell's students take an interest in the work? The road is open to you. All articles will be gratefully received and will find a place if their worth merits.

We are unable to successfully cope with subjects satisfactory to a body of students whose interests seem so diversified; to write editorials adequate to the wants and requirements which are necessarily needed.

The work is at all times open to just criticisms from professors and students. If not in accordance with your ideas offer suggestions squarely, but kindly do not condemn, as has been too often heard in the past three years. Everything is done in the interest of the institution, and you are a part of the institution.

It may not be generally known, but the finance committee has a "black-list," which records the names of those people who persist in taking in athletic games on the campus, occupying choice seats, and positively refusing to either purchase a ticket or go back to the "free line," (the concrete walk) when the ticket sellers come along. The list is somewhat large, and it would not look well in print, yet it has been suggested if it grows, that same be published in the ORANGE AND BLUE or posted on the bulletin board. With a debt of $400 to provide for, the finance committee is endeavoring to put the Association on a good basis by the end of this term. The base ball season has been successful so far, and it is hoped that every person who goes below the concrete walk hereafter during a game, will have honor enough to buy a ticket.

At a mass meeting held at Princeton March 29, the student body resolved to wear crepe for a period of thirty days as a token of affectionate regard for the memory of the late Dean Murray.

It is not required for us to repeat the Golden Rule at the time you are all familiar with it. It is something you were taught contemporaneously with the alphabet in your immature years. What we do want to do is simply remind you of its application in one particular case.

In all our publications you will find a department in which the material is not exactly literary. Its contents seem to indicate that those who wrote the articles do not cultivate literature for art's sake. It was only by the most urgent solicitation and by telling the authors that they owed it to us as a duty that the articles were contributed. Of course, you have realized by this time that we are talking about our advertisers. They having so generously aided us, it remains to tell you what we should do for them. There is one word that expresses it all—"Reciprocity," is as the dictionary defines it, "mutual responsiveness in act or effect."

The local merchants have given us their encouragement, reciprocate their kindness by giving them your patronage.

All connected with the University should strive to purchase from our advertisers. It is now spring and many new articles will be needed. Realize that you are obliged to repay a kindness. If you want anything, look up the "Ad" departments of the college journals. Remember that they are not in the business for fun. Neither are we and if you want your college news you must help pay for it, if indirectly. Failure to adhere to the Golden Rule is both unkind and unjust, besides the next managers will feel the effects.

It will be but a short time until the State-Bucknell dual meet and also the Inter-class Field Day. Preparations in all athletics should be carried on with greater life than is evidenced at present. We are glad to notice that some interest is taken in other sports besides running, although the latter is our 'long suit.'

In the first meet we must uphold the honor of our college, in the latter the class victory and Mirror cup are at stake. Surely there should be at least a dozen contestants for each position. Probably some are not aware of their ability. All should at least make an attempt to find out what is in them. "Fill the campus with students at exercise," was said by one of our cheerers "and it will raise our spirits and your finances." So say we all of us.

Sophomore Declamation Contest.

The contest in declamation of the young men of Sophomore Class was held in Theta Alpha Hall last Thursday night. The following participated:—Messrs. Alexander, Anderson, Bechtel, Konkle, Leshar, Riemer, Rowe, Sausser, Stephens, Trex, Wolfe and Snyder. The winner of the prize will be announced at Commencement.

The Third Form Contest.

On Saturday evening the Third Form Contest in Education was held in Bucknell Hall. A large crowd greeted the speakers, who did their very best to pay the audience for their trouble.
The exercises opened with a prayer by Professor Phillips, followed by a well rendered solo by Miss Chilson. How Stevens then recited in a pleasing and entertaining manner "Banford's Bargain Alarm," followed by John Arthur Haines on "MacDonald's Charge at Wagram."

After William Miles Kieffer did ample justice to his selection, "The Battle," a vocal solo was rendered by Miss Laura Chilson.

Henry N. Schilder, recited "Let us Follow Him," and our future Demos-theses, James F. Shipman, spoke on "Toussaint L'Ouverture," "A Scene of the Natural Bridge," was next rendered by Clyde Heddens, followed by a piano solo by Miss Half-penny.

Harry Joseph Little spoke next on "The Death of Hamilton." After "The Boy Orator of Zenith City," was recited by Charles Shepard, the audience was dismissed.

The boys showed careful training, and received many congratulations from their friends.

Pottsgrove Concert.

On Thursday evening the Glee and Mandolin Club entertained the people of Pottsgrove. The concert was held in the Presbyterian church of that place. The Chapel was well filled by a very appreciative audience and every number was warmly received and applauded. In one or two instances the Club departed from its usual custom and granted encores in order to silence the applause. The affair was as much a success financially as musically and the boys returned home happy.

The programme was as follows:
1. Jolly Time Glee Club
2. Reading Leroy Hall
3. Mandolin and Guitar Club
4. Flute Duo Messrs Weymouth

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. III.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 2, 1899.

NO. 29

Demorest-Bucknell.

Bucknell went to Williamsport Saturday and met defeat at the hands of Demorest. It was the first home game for Demorest. The band escorted the teams to the grounds, and the mayor made a brief speech after which he threw the first ball. It was ideal base ball weather and a fairly large crowd turned out to see the game.

The Demorest team had undergone a great many changes since their game here two weeks ago, and as a consequence they were a much stronger aggregation. They played a good game after the first inning. Applegate was effective in the box, Bucknell securing but seven hits.

Bucknell's exhibition of ball playing was not the best that the team is capable of by any means. The infield played well and Mathewson pitched good ball, but the outfield seemed unable to cover any territory and as a consequence hits were made that should have been cut off.

The stick work of Bucknell was very weak. Despite the poor work of Bucknell the game would have resulted in a tie but for a particularly bad decision of the umpire. In the sixth inning, Bryan clearly had Appel-gate out at home base, but the umpire decided otherwise. Several neatly executed double plays lighted up the game. Bryan and his finger badly split in the seventh, but very gamely kept his place.

In the opening inning Stout went out on a fly to Conover. Shaffer hit to Weidensaul and was put out at first. Hutchison hit to Mathewson and was cut off at first, retiring the side.

In Bucknell's first there was a deluge of runs. Conover made a three bagger by a drive to deep right over Bevler's head. Applegate paved Garner's way to first with four balls.
Weidensaul drove one to centre for two bags, scoring Conover and Garner. Bryan got base on Clayton's error. Mathewson made a hit. Stanton had a good eye and walked to first. Pritchard got his base on Stout's error. Magee struck out,
Davis sacrificed and Conover hit to first.
Bucknell had succeeded in gathering six runs in the inning, and this ended their scoring for the entire game.

Demorest did their first scoring in the second, making two runs. In the third they secured three. In the fourth and fifth they drew blanks. In the sixth they scored the sixth run by the kindness of the umpire, and in the seventh they secured their last run, Shaffer crossing the plate on Hutchin-son's two bagger to centre. Score:-

The Academy Team.

Bucknell had one victory on Saturday; our "Preps" succeeded in keeping the ORANGE AND BLUE from trailing in the dust. Keep it up, boys, and you will deserve merited praise. Practise regularly and hard, don't allow your hands to get the better of you.
We need good men on the college team and there are always places open. Do not worry about finances, but approach everybody you meet for cash and let them know you are in the game to stay.

We are pleased to note the interest taken in our Academy team; the large attendance of Saturday assures it support. Even if they did make a few errors, their team work was good and with practice they will beat all opponents. Use the campus from one to two in the afternoon, or better if it can be arranged, eleven to twelve would make a good practice hour.

The Orange and Blue congratulates and trusts that it shall be able to record many more in the remaining issues.

Dr. Hulley's Lecture.

A large and appreciative audience listened to Dr. Hulley's lecture in the Chapel Friday evening. The doctor started by way of introduction that it was not his purpose to deliver a lecture, but simply to spend the hour with Engine Field in order that those present might come to know and appreciate better the American poet and humorist. Then followed a short, but interesting account of the poet's life.

The speaker divided Eugene Field's works into four classes: his newspaper work, his serious or semi-serious writings, his humorous poems and finally his child poems. The greater part of the time was devoted to the recital of these child-poems or lullabies.

Quite a neat sum was realized for the Northfield fund.

The delegates to the Women's Foreign Missionary Convention which meets in the Baptist church, this week, will be given a reception at the Institute Wednesday evening. There will be over one hundred delegates present.

The Relay Race.

The annual relay races, under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania, took place last Saturday afternoon, at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. Ten thousand people witnessed the races. This is by far the largest crowd in attendance since the races were inaugurated.

Bucknell was represented in two events. The results attained in both, while we did not win, were more or less satisfactory. Pearse was entered in the 120 yards, "special," with Tewkesbury, University of Pennsylvania; Birroughs, University of Chicago; Long, Columbia; Princeton, Syracuse University; and Milligan, Georgetown College, Cayon, the Indian, a student at Dickinson, was scheduled also for this race, but he did not run. The race was officially known as "Event No. 4." It was held at 3:30. At the pistol fire Pearse, for some reason, did not get started.
He took fourth place, however, which he held until just about the finish when he seemed to "let up" and came in last. The race was won by Tewkesbury; second, Milligan, Georgetown. Time, 12 sec.

Much interest was centered in "Event No. 21," a college relay in which Universities of Gettysburg, P. & M., Dickinson and Bucknell took part. It came off at 5:20. As anticipated the race was really between Dickinson and Bucknell, and after the first lap the other three colleges were not "in it."

The race started with Bucknell fifth from the "pole" and Dickinson fourth.
At the crack of the pistol, the Dickinson man at once took the lead and Riemer fell in behind him and kept right at his heels until the finish, when the men all came up in a bunch.
Riemer closing in fourth; Morris started out in fourth place and with long, rapid strides, as he was rounding the second curve, passed the other men, delivering over to Goodall, second place. Charlie ran a fast race, but all the while Dickinson kept gaining,
and when Pearce started in, Cayon, Dickinson's Indian, had a long lead and it was a physical impossibility to overcome it. As Cayon swept down the stretch, the grand stand gave him a big ovation, but when Pearce, the white man, came around the curve, it seemed as though he was being swept by the wind, and for a moment or two a hush fell over the crowd of spectators. When it was seen that he was gaining on the Indian, a mighty cheer went up for him, but the lead was too much, and the "white man's burden" was too great. Dickinson won, and Bucknell came in second.
Pearse has the satisfaction of knowing that he cut Cayon's lead down one-half, and it is now regretted that they did not start off more evenly, so that more spice and ginger could have been put into the race.

Dickinson won because she had speedier men. That is the only answer to the query that has been concluded on fourth page.

The Soiree.

Saturday evening last the annual Soiree of the Junior Class Bucknell Institute, was held in the Institute
School Room, by the Class of 1900.
The entertainment was one of the most interesting events of the Spring term.
Notwithstanding the austere aspect usually noticed in a school room, very original decorations and the presence of palms, ferns and other tropical plants made the place look exceedingly festive.

After the regular programme, the young ladies of the Junior Class received their friends in the parlors which were also brightened by tropical plants.
The front parlor attracted especial attention. It was made to represent a "Sporting Room," and athletic trophies, the collection's banjo, mandolin, guitar and other delights were promi-nently scattered around. Different college pennants decorated the walls and revealed where lie the hearts of some of our fair "Seniors."

A frame standing in front of the audience, very prettily decorated with oriental hangings, contained pictures more beautiful than have appeared on canvases.

Scenes from biblical and profane literature of the past were first described in interesting essays and then represented in tableaux. The costumes and arrangements of the tableaux were very appropriate and the Institute Class of 1900 certainly succeeded in their attempt to eclipse former Soirees.
The programme follows:

Ruth and Naomi, Misses Alf Stephens and Mary Adella Heiser Iphigenia, Misses Milla Marie McCain
Sarah Jane Roos
Antigone, Miss Grace Mary Werner
Virgil and Octavia, Miss Hannah

Romola, Miss Helen Marr Forrest

At Home.

The first "At Home" of the term, was held Monday afternoon from four until six o'clock. The parlors were made Summer-like by tropical plants grouped in various places. The attendance was gratifying and both the girls and their friends enjoyed this additional opportunity for becoming better known and making new acquaintances.

Spring has at last truly arrived, with its warm days and cooling winds; a time of the year when we should all realize the pleasures of life and the enjoyment of good fellowship.

Among many colleges we find customs which come with this season of the year as regularly as the cycle of time revolves over the same path, and which add much charm to student life.

Each recurring Spring-time impresses us anew with the lovely scenery of our campus and with the fitness of a title such as "Beautiful Bucknell," but the evening hour seems to be endowed with a special and peculiar charm. At this time the whole campus is bathed in the soft, warm half-light of the setting sun, and from the front of our "old college" the spreading landscape casts on us a vivid sense of grandeur.

Why could not a custom be established by us which will endear the present classes to all succeeding generations? That of gathering in front of our dear old building to chat on college topics and to sing the old familiar college songs.

It is in the fading twilight that the cares and worries of the day are forgotten, and friendships strengthened. Why should we not form evening gatherings and enjoy together for a brief while unalloyed happiness? Although our college is mixed, our interests diversified, yet we all have qualities which will endear us to each other and make a unity, in which alone there is found strength.

We should learn to love our college as in no other way, to form those deep and lasting friendships with our fellows which will prove a constant source of happiness throughout our lives. The memories of these evenings would be enthroned among the most cherished legacies of our college career.

Where can be found a more beautiful campus than that which we possess? Why cannot the petty differences in thought and action be forgotten through a means such as is proposed?

Why cannot we become better acquainted with our college friends and break away from the narrow-minded view which seems to hold us in its sway—a selfishness which is unwarranted and permits of only a passing "How are you?" because one is a member of a certain club or belongs to a religious organization?

Another lesson received from a whipping and the idea of the invincibility of our runners overcome by the hard work of Dickinson and their determination to win.

Serves us right. If we do not make an effort to attain the perfect, we cannot expect other results.

Look to the future. We have a dual meet with State college on our hands. "To win or not to win," that is the question.

If we want to win, get to work; everybody come out. We have the material here, but we must not rest on our records. Nothing comes to him who waits, but if you want it you must go and get it. Think of victory, dream of success and work to win. We will bring home a banner and rest in peace.

You have not only yourself to look for, but remember the college, the alumni and our numerous friends, and besides it is something to attain the best of all contestants.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

May 2, subject, "Social Evils of the Non-Christian World." The meeting will be in the hands of the Missionary Committee and a good attendance is desired. This is a question which should receive the earnest thought of every Christian, as in no place is there more need of work. Show your interest in the work by being present at the meeting this evening.

Two of the four silver cups won last Saturday by the relay team, are on exhibition in Nogel's show windows.

President Thwing of Western Reserve University in a recent address to the students of Syracuse University said:

"It is significant that we call the college not alma mater but alma mater. She gives to us intellectual life and cradles that life in its feebleness. It is almost as rare to find a son complaining of his college as it is to find him complaining of his home. Happy is the man who has two mothers whom he reverences! Old President Quincy of Harvard said that a man got a good deal out of his college if he just rubbed his shoulders against the college buildings. But he certainly does not get much in this way in comparison with what he gets by rubbing his head against the cases in the library. For to the true man of alert intellect, pure heart and strong will the college represents a new birth and a new life. College is simply another name for Opportunity; Opportunity, widest, deepest, highest, richest."

Rockford College, of Illinois, has elected Miss Mary Bartol, '94, to the headship of the Classic Department. Miss Bartol will teach the Greek; her assistant instructors, the Latin of the college courses. Rockford is the leading college for women in Illinois. Miss Bartol is a daughter of Prof. William Cyrus Bartol, Ph. D., of this place. She is a young woman of ability, and we congratulate her upon her appointment. After graduating from the Institute she entered Bucknell College, finishing her course in 1894. She then continued her work in the post graduate department and received the degree of A. M. Later she entered the University of Michigan for advanced work, and for the past two years has been a student at the University of Pennsylvania, from which institution she will receive this year the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.—Lewisburg Chronicle.

Several of the girls attended the services at the Episcopal Church in Milton on Sunday morning.
Several of the delegates to the Missionary Convention at the Baptist Church are to be entertained at the Institute this week.
Messrs. Edward and Richard Bell and Thomas Evans took dinner at the Institute on Sunday, as the guests of Miss Bell and the girls at her table.

Prof. Phillips preached at Minersville last Sunday.
Daniel Stewart, made a flying trip to Danville, Thursday afternoon.
Mrs. Rothrock, of Fremont, spent Thursday with her son Rossler.
Roger Edwards who has been ill for some time past is now recovering.
John Davis, '02, entertained his sister from Nanticoke last Saturday.
Willie Hoffs, David Hughes and Clyde Heddens visited Washingtonville during the week.

A very exciting and interesting game of base ball was played on the campus Saturday afternoon between Milton High School and Academy boys. The visitors led in scoring up to the sixth inning, when Little made a long hit covering the score of the High School team by two runs. The most brilliant feature of the game was a long hit by Milligan over the center fielder's head and across the track. This seemed to take the ginger out of the High School team, and our boys batted them all over the field. The Academy nine has shown itself to be very strong so far, having played two games and won both. Little pitched a very fine game striking out seven men. We kept the hits few and far between. Milligan's work on second base, and Edward's on first base, were up to the standard. The final score was 11-6 in favor of the Academy team.

Mrs. C. F. Winkler and Mrs. Shepard, of Phila., will be entertained at the Academy this week. They are delegates to the Missionary Convention.

The Relay Races.

going around the campus since Saturday night, "whose fault was it?" The blame rests upon no one of Bucknell's runners. They did their best to uphold the honor of the Orange and Blue. To win next year Bucknell must begin right now. Twice in succession the boys have proudly brought back the silk banner and gold watches from Franklin Field, and no one need be discouraged, nor ashamed because this year the boys came back without the banner and with only silver cups. Let the watch word from now on, in preparing for the relay races of next year be, "The Gold Watch in 1900."

The following is the order in which the men finished the respective quarters:
First Quarter—West, D.; May, G.; Reed, F. and M.; Reimer, B.; Emery, U.
Second Quarter—Bieri, D.; Morris, B.; Fox, F. and M.; Moser, G.; Casselberry, U.
Third Quarter—Snodgrass, D.; Goodall, B.; Smith, G.; Bremer, F. and M.; Waltham, U.
Last Quarter—Cayon, D.; Pearce, B.; Metzenthin, F. and M.; Karmany, G.; Bell, U.
Time, 3:37 2-5. Last years time was 3:42 2-5.

RELAY NOTES.
A large number of Bucknell's voters were out—both ladies and gentlemen, at Franklin Field. It is impossible to name them here, there were so many of them.
Trainer Cober went down Saturday and at once took the men in hand.
Weymouth, Ward, Bassler and Hackenberg accompanied the team to the city.

"Billy" Bowman was on hand and helped Cober and the "Coon" rub the men down.
South Jersey Institute again did herself proud, and won in her class from three high schools.

Among yesterday's visitors were Hintzberger of Perkiomen, and Fegeley of Kutztown.

NO. 30

P. R. R. Y. M. C. A., 14—Bucknell, 2.
Penna. R. R. Y. M. C. A. beat Bucknell Saturday, at Phila., by the score of 14 to 2. While the score is decidedly one-sided, the game was interesting and at times exciting. Bucknell lost the game principally on account of errors at critical points and a failure to hit at the proper time. There is no gainsaying the fact that Bucknell is weak at the bat. Time after time on Saturday a little hit would have brought in one or more runs, but the hit failed to come.

P. R. R. Y. M. C. A.'s team is an aggregation hard to beat. "Whitey" Shoenhut formerly pitched for U. of P. Wood is an ex-national League, having been St. Louis' chief d'oeuvre in the pitching line for two seasons. Stainsby has played with several major league teams. Weeks, the pitcher, a south paw, formerly twirled for Paterson, and so the list goes on. Beside being stars individually the team played together with a snap and vim that was refreshing to a lover of the sport.

For Bucknell Mathewson pitched a steady, effective game, but his support was ragged at times. Priehard relieved Mathewson in the seventh and did well.
The first inning began with P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. at the bat. Miller made a hit into left. Durrah hit to Milligan and was thrown out. Shoenhut hit to Mathewson and was stopped at first. R. Berry got his base on Milligan's error. Shoenhut scoring. McCullough popped a fly to Weidensaul, retiring the side.
Conover began the first for Bucknell by a fly to short. Garner hit to Weeks and was out at first. Weidensaul was hit by a pitched ball. Bryan secured a base on balls. Griffith struck out, making third man gone.
In the second P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. were retired in one, two, three order, Mathewson striking out two. In Bucknell's turn, Mathewson hit a fly to Wood. Stanton got a present of a base on balls but was caught napping at first. Grim fanned out.
In the third P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. added two to their score. Bucknell made its first score in the third. In the fourth P. R. R. failed to score, but in the fifth they scored three. Three more runs were piled up by P. R. R. in the sixth, four in the seventh and one in the eighth. Bucknell made her total score two in the sixth, Garner getting home on Weidensaul's hit.
In the sixth Milligan made a hit into left, but was put out at second. Conover hit to Shoenhut but was out at first. Garner hit a high fly, and Weidensaul retired the side by a runner to Stainsby.

Reserves vs Academy.

On Saturday afternoon Bucknell crossed bats with the strong nine of Bucknell Academy and a very interesting contest was the result.
The Academy boys put up a strong game. Salisbury played a splendid game at second base, and accepting all of eight chances. Little pitched a good game but the nine errors of the Academy boys cost a number of runs. Wingert was seriously injured in the fifth and was replaced by Walls. Edwards pitched the last two innings for Cad. and showed up well.
The features of the game were the batting of Schilling, Stevens, Edwards, and the pitching of Bell.

Friday Evening's Concert.

The Williamsport Concert Company gave a concert in Bucknell Hall last Friday evening, which proved to be one of the best held in Lewisburg this year.
The company, composed of the best talent in Williamsport, is made up of the following persons: Miss Blanche E. Derr, Soprano; Miss Lusanne M. Krape, Contralto; Miss Edith Reider, Pianist; Mr. Trevette B. Maffett, Baritone; Mr. Charles E. Krape, Cellist; assisted by Mr. James D. Hawley.

The concert opened with a trio by Miss Reider, Mr. Krape and Clarence A. Weymouth. The selection was well rendered and received a liberal amount of applause. Miss Derr sang in her usually powerful and brilliant manner, responding to an encore with a bright catchy little melody. Miss Krape has a sweet mellow voice, and her solo was enjoyed by all. An encore was given her, but she did not respond. Miss Reider showed herself to be an accomplished soloist. In her work as an accompanist, she excelled, proving herself an artist in this line.

Mr. Krape's tello solo was well received, and in response to an encore he played Trauered. Of Trevette Maffett, little need be said. He is a general favorite. His rendition of "The Deathless Army" was perfect and was greatly appreciated by the audience as was shown by the applause. He responded with a "Serenade" in which he showed a sweetness of tone scarcely to be expected of such a powerful voice. Mr. Hawley kept the audience in an uproar all the time he was speaking. He has a style that is inimitable, and his selections were of the kind most enjoyed by the usual audience.

The expression of all present was that the musical was a pronounced success, and that the young men who had it in charge were deserving of many thanks for bringing the company here. The program was as follows:
Serenade.....Widor
Miss Reider, Mr. Krape and Mr. Clarence A. Weymouth.
Polonaise in A, op. 40.....Chopin

Institute Contest.
On Saturday evening, in Bucknell Hall, the young ladies of the Institute will hold their annual declamation contest. Everybody is welcome.

The Dewey Boarding Club Celebrates Dewey Day.

While the flags floated out to the breezes on Monday, May 1st, calling to mind the great victory in Manila Bay, the boarding club of college boys which bears the name of our noted hero was making extensive preparations to pay tribute also to this valiant hero. Admiral George Dewey.

The dining room was brightened much by decorations of flags and bunting, in the midst of which hung a large picture of the Admiral himself. Japanese lanterns, flowers and other green hangings freshened and added brilliancy to the occasion. Two guests were present from the Anderson boarding club, Messrs J. C. Hazen and E. C. Conover.

The festive board loaded with "good things to eat" was surrounded at 5.45 p. m. and then the siege began. It continued under heavy firing until after nine o'clock, when the mouths of the cannons became clogged and then all action ceased. No lives were lost, and all can truthfully say, "We have met the enemy and they are ours." After dinner some very rich and witty toasts were responded to by members of the club.

Following was the program:
Toast Master.....Frank Anderson
Poem.....F. Walker
"Our Team".....H. F. Cook
Deweyites in Philippines.....W. A. Cook
Reading.....LeRoy Hall
Selection.....C. Wolfe
"Babies".....F. Calvin
"Our Sweethearts".....S. F. Reed
Song.....E. P. Beckert
The Dewey Journal.....T. Sherbudy
Dewey see ourselves as others see us.....J. W. Snyder
Messrs. Hazen and Conover also made remarks suitable for the occasion.

A flashlight picture was then taken by the club photographer, Francis Walker, and the merry company dispersed. The one thing regretted by the boys was that Dewey did not have two victories instead of one.

The Field and Track Team for State.

The team to compete with State, May 15th, at State College in Field and Track athletics will be selected this week. Trials will be held in the different events as follows:

As it is but six weeks until Commencement, special efforts are being made to beautify the campus. For some time past a number of men have been hard at work cleaning the grounds, painting the posts, straightening things in general and doing all that is possible to improve the appearance.

The University is put to some expense in having this done; it takes money to pay for the labor required. All should appreciate this fact by doing what they can to mitigate further expense, primarily in keeping the place clean. While walking through a part of the campus which had just been raked the previous day, there was noticed here an envelope, addressed to—a student, there a cigarette box; another place part of a book cover with a young lady's name thereon.

In poor asylums and public houses, to keep the surroundings free from waste matter, cans are placed at prominent positions for thoughtless persons and those who know no better.

Probably it might be well for the University authorities to do the same thing. Look nice; wouldn't it? But the most expedient and proper way is for all to think next time before throwing paper, boxes, etc., from the windows; or emptying out their pockets until a suitable place is reached and not on the campus.

The meeting Tuesday evening will be held by Prof. Martin. An interesting talk will be given and will be well worth hearing. All welcome.

Pi Beta Phi Picnic.
The Bucknell Chapter of the college girls' fraternity, Pi Beta Phi, took an outing on Saturday last. About 10.30 in the morning they left Lewisburg en masse and drove to Blue Hill. The time was spent investigating the contents of baskets and incidentally in rambling over the hills and through the woods. Miss Bell chaperoned the party and brought the girls back brown and happy, about sunset.

Phi Kappa Psi Entertainers.

On Saturday night the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity gave an informal dance for Miss Smith, of Hollidaysburg, who is visiting her cousin, Miss Margaret Norton. Miss Louise Lawshe, accompanied on the piano by her sister Josephine, played several violin solos which were greatly appreciated. Miss Miriam Bucher's guest, Miss Mary Barber, of Maryland, enjoyed her first dance on the floors of a fraternity sanctuary. Lieutenant Fred Goddard, Lafayette, '92, was gladly received by his friends. In all there were about thirty present. Mrs. Huth served refreshments at half past ten. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Martha Wolfe.

Among those present were: Miss Russell, Miss Himmelreich, the Misses Lawshe, Miss Marie Leiser, Miss Martha Wolfe, the Misses Blair, Miss Smith, Miss Norton, Miss Mary Barber and Miss Bucher.

Fire escapes, of an improved pattern, consisting of outside balconies and stairways, will be placed this Spring on the College, Academy and Institute buildings of the University. The institution keeps constantly before it the comfort, protection and safety of the young people placed under its care.

Friday afternoon the Franklin and Marshall Base Ball Nine will meet our team on the campus.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 16, 1899.

NO. 31

Bucknell 8-F. & M., 4.

Franklin and Marshall met defeat at the hands of Bucknell, Friday afternoon by the score of 8 to 4. The game was interesting, both teams playing good ball. Bucknell's infield had undergone considerable re-arrangement. Bryan was at short, Stanton taking his place behind the bat and Davis held down first bag. The work of Bucknell in the field was good. Mathewson pitched a great game. The stick work was an accented improvement over anything Bucknell has done this season. Conover, Weidensaul and Bryan had their best batting clothes on and they pounded the ball in a way that must have made F. & M.'s pitcher suffer severely with nostalgia.

Franklin and Marshall played a good fielding game but their batting was a delirium, no less than twelve men going down before Mathewson's effective pitching. They secured a total of three hits, one of which was of a "scratching" nature.

In the first inning Conover hit the ball to Heisey and was out. Garner was hit by a pitched ball, and trotted home a moment later, when Weidensaul banged the sphere for three bags over Martin's head. Bryan made a hit, scoring Weidensaul. Bryan was put out before he was able to make circuit and just to make things interesting Griffith nailed out a two bagger. Mathewson bunted and was thrown out at first, retiring the side.

Heisey, the first man up for F. & M. fanned out. Miller was hit by a pitched ball. Hellman made a hit scoring Miller, and came home himself on Martin's sacrifice. Winters was hit by a batted ball and the side was out.

In the second inning, Bucknell secured only one hit. Conover driving it over Simpson's head. No runs were made this inning by either team. The fourth was Bucknell's big inning, three runs resulting from as many hits. In this inning Weidensaul made a twobagger, Bryan made a triple by a drive into deep left, and Conover hit ed the ball over Simpson's head for a single. The last run for Bucknell was scored in the seventh, Conover and Garner securing singles.

In the ninth Mage struck out, Davis hit a fly to Hellman, Conover singled and the side was out on Garner's fly to Hellman. For Franklin and Marshall Stitzer popped a fly to Griffith, Cook struck out. Shirk went out on a short fly to Griffith and the game ended by Simpson's hit to Conover.

Bucknell Academy Game.

The Academy nine defeated Central Pennsylvania College team again Saturday afternoon on the campus. The home team showed up in good shape and held their opponents down to but two hits. Three weeks ago we defeated the same team on their grounds, and for Saturday's game they had made a number of changes in the make up of their nine; the only changes in the Academy team was the substitution of Pepper in left field in the place of Wingart, who was hurt in last Saturday's game with the Reserves. Edwards on first base did exceptionally good work, making a long drive over the running track and scoring three runs. Milligan at second played his usual good game and made a very difficult catch. Little's work in the box after the third inning was very good and he received good support by Sweet. Some members of the team promise to make excellent material for the "Varsity" next season. Owing to the largely increased attendance in the college (from 71 in 1890 to 272 the present year) the friends of Bucknell University are attempting to raise $75,000 to increase the fixed and working capital of the institution. A friend in New York City has promised to give $15,000 of the amount. Not less than one-third of the amount is to be added to the working capital; the rest will be used in erecting needed buildings.

Field Day.
The committee for track athletics has decided to have Field Day on June 3rd, 1899. The Junior and Sophomore classes have already elected their captains. It is requested that the other classes elect their captains and begin to make preparations for the day.

This Field Day is held not only for the purpose of exhibiting our track athletes, but is also supposed to be a contest between the classes. Hence each class should try to have at least three men in every event. We all remember how successful Field Day was last year, and everybody is already looking forward to that day with pleasure. Let us make it better this year than it was last. We can do this in no other way than by coming out and working hard the three remaining weeks. Let us see the same enthusiasm manifested in this, that we see displayed in the club base ball games.

CAPTAIN.
Northfield Mass Meeting.
Thursday evening at 6:45 o'clock an open air meeting will be held on the campus by the Northfield Committee. Dr. Harris will make an address on the "Value of a Bible Conference." Prof. Phillips will speak on, "Northfield as an Educational Factor," and Harvey, 1900, on "Why Bucknell should be represented." No collection will be taken. The Bucknell band will play and a quartet will render several selections.

Dr. Whitman's Talk to the Students.

wholesome life among men. He spoke because he had a message to deliver. And men have come to listen to him. We need to know the man for a man is always a key to his work. We need to know the poet, for the poet is the man fulfilling his mission. We need to know the teacher, for the teacher is the embodiment of the influences for good or evil which through the man and poet bless or curse the world.

With this introduction Dr. Whitman followed with an account of the parents and the early life of Browning, his subsequent education, his character, his romantic marriage to Elizabeth Barrett, the passionate love he bore her and his grief at her death.

From considering Browning as a Man we turn to him as a Poet. It is not many years since it was in order to ask, "Is Browning a Poet?" No one whose judgment is worth recording considers it longer an open question. What remains for us to inquire into Browning's conception of his art, and into his manner of fulfilling that conception. Browning's conception of poetic art makes its function two-fold: Creative and Interpretative. Going a little more closely, his purpose as a poet, his method and his art were set forth.

In speaking of a poet as a teacher, Dr. Whitman said: "An artist is what he makes us understand and love. He analyses human aspiration, passion, and pain. He shows the important motives of the soul, the factors which imperatively demand recognition, if life is to be anything but a whirl of circumstances, losing itself ultimately in darkness and wreck. Browning does this in an eminent degree. He is the poet of man."

Throughout the address fitting quotations from Browning were given illustrating the character and thoughts of the poet.

The third and last address was delivered Monday evening at 8:00. The subject was "The Call of Patriotism." Patriotism is not bragadocio. It is not narrowness. It is not forgetfulness of the fleeting and duty of others. Patriotism is glad acceptance of membership in a nation with a conviction of the appointment of that nation to a part in the world's life. Land does not make a nation. Numbers do not make a nation. Power does not make a nation. It takes all them and more; a holy mission, union of heart in enterprise, toil and sacrifice and tears. The patriot sees in his country a great personality. He feels himself a part of it. It is the embodiment of his ideals. So he gives himself without stint to the furtherance of his country's interests that his ideals may be accomplished. This is the spirit that makes the patriot and all he has freely his country's. The stability of government lies in this. The true national defence is a rampart of loyal citizens. A country is safe until the devotion of her sons has found its grave.

The address before the literary societies will be delivered on Monday evening of Commencement week, by Dr. William H. Crawford, President of Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa. Dr. Crawford is one of the finest platform speakers among Pennsylvania educators. He is a graduate of Northwestern University, and is a leader among Methodists.

Another Victory for Dewey.

The long looked for and much discussed contest between the base-ball lines of the Dewey and Liberty Boardings clubs took place on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

In the first inning the Deweyites calmly knocked the bombs thrown by Schaeffer almost any place and amidst the errors falling thick and fast on Liberty gained twelve runs. With one more in the second, one in the fourth and five in the fifth the "Navies" made up their total of nineteen.

Liberty more patient and careful laid up her runs slow but sure. Inning by inning she gained on Dewey and had the game lasted longer we might have had a different story to tell and Dewey might have lost the day. Here victory was made sure by going to dinner.

The score was as follows:

State-Bucknell Dual Meet.

The Field and Track teams of State College and Bucknell met on the Beaver Field, State College, Pa., Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the first time in their history. This was in accordance with an agreement by which a meet was to be held at State this year and at Bucknell in 1900.

The day was cold and a chilly wind was blowing. Rain threatened throughout the afternoon. Notwithstanding this handicap the runners went into the different races with a winning spirit. The 100 yd. dash was the first event and as there were six men entered, two heats were run for the finals.
Pearse and Pierson finished in the first heat, the State man failing to get off. In the second heat Goodall dropped out at the start as instructed, leaving the two State men finish. This left two State and two Bucknell men in the final heat. For making two false starts Pearse was sent back one yard but in the first few strides he gained this handicap and won for Bucknell by several yards; Norman of State coming in second.

The shot put was taken by State.
Cure putting it 35 ft. 11 in. He tried to make the record of 39 ft. but was unsuccessful in three trials more. Scholl, of State was an easy second with 35 ft.
8 in.

Only four men entered the 120 yd.
hurdle. Conover scored five points for Bucknell by taking this after the first few strides. Maxwell took second for State.

The pole vault added eight more points to State's score. Martin won out easily on 9 ft. 6 in. and tried for a team cap in three more vaults at ten feet but couldn't make it. Bridge took second at 9 ft. 1 in.

The three Bucknell men led the way in the mile run until the beginning of the fourth lap when Knox, of State began to work his way up. Riener took this event with about ten yards to spare. Meeker and Knox fought for second, the State man winning out.

In the 440 yd. dash McKelvey of State secured the start and tried for time on a hundred yard dash. He soon dropped behind and Mott of State took the lead with Goodall closing on him. During the last fifty yds.
Goodall gained surely and the finish was almost neck and neck. Mott took first for State and Goodall second for Bucknell.

Meeker set a steady pace for seven laps in the two mile run, with Riener and Shorkey following and the State men all in the rear. In the last hundred yards, Miles of State spurred past Riener and Meeker, taking first place. Riener finished second about five yds. behind and Meeker third.

The high jump was no trouble at all for Pearse and he took first place for Bucknell at 5 ft. 4 in. Martin, of State stopped at 5 ft. 3 in., after taking his third successive three trials to get over the previous heights. Their took third.

State's men took the 880 yd. dash

Concluded on second page.

State-Bucknell.

The game between State and Bucknell resulted in a victory for State by the narrow margin of one run. The weather was cold and disagreeable, but notwithstanding the fact a large crowd of "rooters" turned out to cheer for State. Bucknell enthusiasts could have learned a good object lesson from the game on Saturday. The whole undergraduate body of State got together on the bleachers and yelled for their team during the entire game. The rivalry between the two teams was sufficient to put the players on their mettle and as a consequence the game was spirited and exciting.
The batting of the team was very good.
Bucknell has nine hits to her credit and the total would have been greater had not State's out-field fielded so sharply. Mathewson pitched a good, steady game and fielded his position very creditably. Burns pitched a star game, and hit the ball when his counted very materially.

In the opening inning Johnson drove a hot liner to third and got his base on Garner's fumble. Hayes hit to Mathewson and was thrown out at first.
Blair made a drive into centre scoring Johnson on Weidensaul's error. Burns made a hit. Miller struck out. Morgan hit to Bryan and was thrown out at first, retiring the side.
In Bucknell's half of the first Conover made a two-base hit. Garner struck out. Weidensaul popped a fly to Hep-ler. Bryan struck out and the side was gone.

In the sixth Mathewson pulled himself out of a tight hole. With three men on base and one gone he struck the next man to the bat out, and making a good stop of Hepler's drive he threw him out at first.

At the end of the eighth the score stood 4 to 2 in State's favor. In the ninth Grim the first man up popped up a foul fly and was caught by Hayes.
Davis drove a hot liner to Miller, securing his base on the fumble. Conover struck out. Garner made a hit between second and first scoring Davis. Weidensaul drove a hot runner and was thrown out. Score.

President Harris Entertains the Seniors.

The brilliantly lighted rooms of the home of the President were the scene of gay festivity last Tuesday night when the College Institute and Music Seniors were royally entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Harris.

Besides the Seniors, Misses Stanton,
Knox, Aiken, Hall, and Dr. Aviranet were present. The guests were received by Dr. and Mrs. Harris and Miss Mary Harris, who recently returned from the University of Chicago.
Mr. Bente, who is teaching at the Munsey Normal this term, was able to be present and was most cordially welcomed by all.

During the evening Miss Knox sang some very pretty, little solos while the Music Seniors furnished some excellent music also. One of the most enjoyable parts of the evening was the opportunity given for the young ladies of the Institute to enlarge the number of their acquaintances among the Senior boys. The College Girls played the part of philanthropists by preserving their class brothers to their acquaintance. Judging from the pleasant groups which were soon formed, there is a particularly congenial feeling between the boys and girls of the various classes of '99.

After about an hour spent in conversation the guests were requested to adjourn to the dining room. This apartment looked particularly delightful with its small tables, all prettily decorated with flowers. Every one was soon comfortably seated and were charmingly served by Dr. Harris' two small sons, George and Spencer.
After refreshments all returned to the parlors and the hours slipped gaily away in conversation, jokes, and song.

Twelve o'clock striking from the town clock was the first warning that all good things come to an end at last. Good nights were said, and one more Senior Reception became a thing of the past.

In closing, we would extend to Dr.
and Mrs. Harris the most heartfelt thanks of the different classes and express our conviction that as there have never been such Senior Classes, so there has never before been such a Senior Reception.

Athletic Association Festival.

Nothing preventing, the annual festival given under the auspices of the Athletic Association will be held in Armory Hall, Saturday evening, June 3rd.

The ladies from town have most generously consented to lend their assistance in whatever direction possible.
It is earnestly hoped that the students will do all in their power to make this festival a grand success.

The debt hanging upon the Association is being gradually decreased and it is hoped that seventy-five or one hundred dollars more of a decrease can be made through the aid of the Festival.

Marts and Davis '02 and Jones of the Academy, accompanied the Track Team to State College Friday.

Junior Exhibition.

The Annual Exhibition in Oratory, by members of the Junior Class, was held in Bucknell Hall, Friday evening last. In a very pleasing and entertaining manner the orations were delivered, showing careful and thoughtful preparation. Promptly at eight o'clock Dr. Harris, Dr. Pettine, Prof.
Phillips and the speakers were escorted to the platform by the ushers from the class of '01, to a march played by Misses S. Crandall and Christ. Upon reaching the platform prayer was made by Dr. Harris after which Mr.
R. G. Stanton rendered the tenor solo,
"Queen of the Earth," in a pleasing manner.

The first orator, Mr. I. A. DeWitt spoke in a very earnest manner of "Stephen Johnson Field as a Public Servant," showing very clearly how Field devoted his entire life that right and justice should reign. Mr. C. H.
Miller following with "United America" showed how our country, which was once divided, now exists as a whole, there being no longer a North and South as there was no East or West. Miss Sara M. Black then spoke on, "Lowell's Lincoln," in a very entertaining manner.

At this part of the program Mr. G.
Blood rendered the "Polish Dance," for violin. The program continuing Miss Gertrude Reed spoke on, "John Brown's Mission" telling how he clearly saw his duty in the pursuit of which he gave his life. Mr. D. E.
Hottenstein then ably spoke on "The True Patriot," saying that it was not alone the man who took up arms in defense of his country, who is the true patriot, but the man who was the ideal citizen.

Miss Laura Chillon here rendered in very artistic style the vocal solo,
"Laville's Groves." "Our Mother Tongue," was the subject of the oration of Miss Emile Pooley in which the speaker showed how we were drifting away, and pleaded that we adhere more earnestly to good, plain old fashioned English. Miss Sarah Lee in her oration entitled "Voiceless Preachers" told how the "Ant" and "Bee" work on in silence, preaching to the world the great lessons of activity and persistency. The program was concluded by the oration of Miss Eliza J. Martin, her subject being: "The Development of the Poet."

For the benefit of the attentive student we desire to call attention to what may be thoughtlessness or possibly selfishness. How many of us have noticed the late student, that is the one who always enters class a few minutes after the recitation begins? It is true some few are so employed that it is impossible to be on time but it is not the tardiness we desire to criticize so much as the manner of entrance. While a recitation was being made or during an explanation by a professor, there have been noticed several students, who, making no attempt whatever to modify their by no means light tread, tramp into a class room, throw down several books, an overcoat or a hat, slam down a desk and then look up at the professor with a self-satisfied air as much as to say that the recitation might go on. These students enter as though they were perfectly in order and not as if they owed the teacher an apology. Five minutes after the bell rings is the time set for the beginning of recitations and it is usually later when the class is called to order. After this the time belongs to the professor and those who want to learn. If you cannot get to class on time do not try to interrupt the recitation and disturb the whole class until you can get settled. Don't be selfish. There are those who desire to fill in the entire period and if you don't you should not inflict others. The next time you enter class late just notice how you conduct yourself.

State-Bucknell Dual Meet.

very handily, Knox and Miles leading the way to the tape. Shorkley finished third putting up a game race.

Cober and Scholl had a discussion concerning the hammer to be used in the hammer throw. After deciding to use State's hammer, Cober threw the 16th, ball off the end and Bucknell's hammer was then thrown. Scholl won first by a good margin, sending it 100 ft. 3 1/2 in. Cober brought in a second for Bucknell by breaking his record and throwing it 101 ft. 9 1/2 in.

The 220 yd. dash was one of the most exciting races. Pearce and Norman fought for the victory, here but Bucknell came out ahead and Norman took second for State. The race was won in the last twenty yards.

State's Broad Jumpers had no trouble with taking eight points. Martin made a very pretty jump of 20 ft. 3 in. from a good take off. He won a team cap by jumping over 20 ft. Pollock took a second with 19 ft. 7 1/2 in.

The advantage of racing on home grounds must be taken into consideration. Eighteen men took part for State and twelve for Bucknell.

The two mile run took place about twenty minutes after the one mile and was won by a State man in his first race of the day. Our weakness in field athletics is plainly apparent and this accounts for our not making a better total. On the track we are perhaps a little stronger than State.

The officials were Referee, Dr. Tallaferrro; Starter, Prof. Leete; Judges: Prof. Jackson, Mr. C. T. Buchholz, and Mr. E. L. Peck; Timers: Prof. Garver, Mr. P. B. Breneman and Mr. A. D. Carvier; Clerks: Mr. Sponsler and Mr. W. P. Bayerle; Scorers: J. N. Sherer and O. S. Martz; Measureers: Prof. Hilseng, Dr. F. J. Pond and H. B. Wassell.

for the Academy has been awarded to Richmond and Dobbin, of Philadelphia. They will be put in position as soon as possible.

A number of the students assisted
Mr. Peacock in "The Gallian," at Winfield Saturday evening. Miss Gertrude Stevens was accompanist and her work at the instrument was highly appreciated, particularly her accompaniment to Miss Pine's solo—"A Dream of Paradise" with Mr. Sheller's obligato. Messrs. Koen, Hall and Johnson were the other soloists. The chorus numbered forty voices, twelve of whom were from the college and town.

The following poem was received by Castell, '99, from his correspondent in Paris:

Timide rosée
Perle parfumée
Qui nous vient des cieux
Pose sur la fleur
Ta candide œsœur
Un baiser melleux:
Un dernier baiser
Avant de quitter
Ta volupté douce:
Car déjà le jour
Fait faire l'amour
Sur la fraîche mousse
Et les rayons d'or, Timides encor,
Vont bientôt, gracieuse,
Bien loin l'emporter Eueus infors!
Vers Dieu, bienheureuse

Demosthenian Club Banquet.

The first annual banquet of the Demosthenian Club was given at Hotel Hang, Milton, last Saturday evening.

At 9:30 the doors of the dining room were thrown open and the Demosthenians were soon seated around "the festive board."

Shortly before eleven o'clock the literary part of the banquet began.
The toasts were as follows:

Toastmaster, EZRA LEHMAN
The Demosthenians

Our Origin and Aims, A. K. DEHLER
Our Opponents, C. H. MILLER
College Life, R. H. KRESS
Our Retiring Members, J. A. DEWITT
Things in General, C. F. SHIPMAN
Our Motto, M. A. CARRINGER
The State Game, GEORGE A. GRIM
Our Future, D. H. ROBINS

As each speaker was introduced the toastmaster set forth his claim to recognition.

If this claim was not made good,
the fault might justly be laid to the auditors who interrupted each orator by asking irrelevant questions. However, all the speakers managed to finish their speech.

At last when the clock pointed toward twelve the banquet came to an end and all left to catch the midnight train, after having spent a very pleasant evening.

Miss Edith Phillips took tea at the Academy on Sunday evening.
Misses Bell, Watkins and White took dinner with Dr. Hulley on Saturday evening.
Miss Stanton and Miss Wheeler were the guests of Dr. Hulley on Wednesday evening.
Last Saturday afternoon the girls living in West Wing together with Misses Watkins, White, Wheeler and Dick were the recipients of cards with deep mourning borders bearing the following words:

"99,
The Departing Souls
30 West Wing
9 o'clock May 30,
Costume, mourning.

At the appointed hour the guests, robed in deep mourning, assembled in the room specified, which was arranged to represent a reception room and decorated with books, pictures, musical instruments and handsome lamps. They were cordially received by Miss Sprague and after a short time were conducted to the room of Miss Vaughan where refreshments of ice cream, cake, and candy were served by Misses Vaughan and Sharpless. Cushions made comfortable seats while the drapings of deep black gave the appropriate air of gloom. A table in one corner of the room was draped in deepest black and on it were placed the photographs of the West Wing girls, the three '99 girls being made prominent by a group of themselves and heavier drapings of black. Near this table Miss Sprague, the toast mistress of the evening, also robed in black, took her seat. After the refreshments were served the following toasts were given:

West Wing Innates, Miss Goddard.
Our Honored Guests, Miss Sharpless.
The Board of Health, Miss Phillips.
Toasts—The Seniors, Miss N. Goddard.
Our Waste Basket, Miss Woodard.
Our Mau, Miss Poolley.
West Wing Socially, Miss Vaughan.
Miss Sprague made an excellent toast mistress, introducing the speakers with appropriate and witty remarks. The toasts were all well given, containing numerous allusions to West Wing jokes. After singing "Blest be the tie that binds" the girls went to their rooms with hearty thanks to the three Departing Souls, Misses Vaughan, Sprague, and Sharpless, for their novel and pleasing entertainment.

The Fourth Form was very pleasantly entertained Thursday evening last by Mrs. Harris. This proved to be a very enjoyable affair and will not be forgotten soon by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Northfield Mass Meeting.
Owing to the inclement weather the open air mass meeting scheduled for Thursday evening was held in Bucknell Hall at 6:45. Mr. Rawlinson presided and referred briefly to the purpose of Northfield as being the building up of character. Prof. Phillips presented the conference from the point of view of its educational value showing how the place, the leaders and the character of delegates, all rendered it especially valuable. Dr. Harris spoke on the value of a conference for Bible study. He showed that our knowledge of the Bible is considerably augmented by comparison of observations and exchange of thoughts. Mr. Harvey showed that owing to the transient nature of the Y. M. C. A. membership we need yearly representation in order to secure a progressive work. Mr. Hague and Mr. Dutton, '98, sang a duet. Music was furnished by the Bucknell band.

E. H. Dutton, '98, leaves Wednesday morning for Grand Rapids, Mich., to attend the International Y. M. C. A. Convention. Dutton represents Rochester University and has charge of one of the departments of City work.
Webster Calvin, '02, has been compelled to leave school on account of his eyes.

The Glee and Mandolin Club's Concert.

Tuesday evening the Glee and Mandolin Club gave a concert at Picture Rocks. The boys left Lewisburg at 5:30 and arrived in this pretty little town in time to look around at twilight. The concert was held in the Baptist Church and the program rendered seemed to be exceedingly well received by the audience.

The concert at Sunbury, Wednesday last was held in the Court House at that place under the auspices of local company of National Guards of Penna. Lesher '97, and Purdy, '98, had the concert in charge and the success is due to them. The large court room was well filled and the boys received liberal applause for the effort.

The annual concert by the Glee and Mandolin Clubs held in Bucknell Hall, Thursday evening, was undoubtedly a success. This is the first time the clubs have appeared in Lewisburg during the present season, and consequently an unusually large audience turned out. Although the third concert last week, the clubs were in good form and the music rendered was a decided improvement over that of any previous concerts. The boys seemed at home and as a result the usual strain was lacking. In most of the numbers the harmony was good and especially so in the more familiar songs of the Glee Club. The leaders of the clubs are to be congratulated upon the proficiency of the organization.

The opening number by the Glee Club took especially well and was warmly applauded. The encore "The Girl that Sat Down on my Hat" was equally well received. Mr. Hall's reading served to keep the audience from wearying of too much music. His selections were good although somewhat interrupted by the falling of the curtain. The vocal solos of Hague and Keen and the flute solos of Weymouth were heartily encored. The boys very obligingly responded to the encores and as a result the program was quite extended.

The clubs were made up as follows:

GLEE CLUB.
J. A. Hague, '00, Leader.

B. U. S. Villa Nova 15.

Bucknell was easily defeated by the strong Villa Nova team, Friday on the latter's campus. The game as the score shows, was rather one sided and to one not acquainted with the place it looks as though the two teams were striving to see which could make the most errors. But such was not the case. The grounds were the worst we have played upon this season, and many of the errors credited up to the team can be excused.

The diamond was cut up by wagon tracks and around first and third base the grass was so high that the ball was lost twice during the game, allowing the home team three runs each time. A railroad track cuts across the outfield, thus putting another obstacle in our way.

The batting of the team was quite good, having almost as many hits scored up for us against us. Our hits though were scattered, only one or two coming in on opportune time. The home team scored eight of their runs in the inning when the ball was lost twice. Barring this inning the team showed up very favorably against as strong an opponent as Villa Nova.

In the first inning Mathewson was forced to retire on account of a sore arm; Pritchard taking his place. Both succeeded in keeping the home team from bunting their hits, one being about as effective as the other, although Pritchard has more strike outs to his credit.

The team has received much unjust criticism, on account of the error column by people who knew nothing of the difficulties with which they had to contend, but taking all things in consideration the team showed up very well.

Pencook, '01, and Mr. Fithian of the Academy contributed to the musical program in the Baptist church, Milton, Sunday evening.

Bucknell 5, F. & M. 1.

Irritated by their defeat of the day before at Villa Nova, the Bucknell base ball team walked away with Franklin and Marshall, at Lancaster, to the tune of 5 to 1. F. & M. expected to win, but after the sixth inning the result was never in doubt; and Bucknell won at Lancaster for the first time in her history.

Pritchard pitched a fine game and was well supported. Although four errors are charged up against Bucknell, three of them were not costly, coming when the bases were unoccupied, and two men out.

In the first inning Bucknell tallied one on Conover's hit and two errors by F. and M. In their half of the first F. and M. was blanked, but in the second they tied the score on two hits and an overthrow to first base by Bryan. This ended the scoring for F. and M. and they secured only two more hits during the rest of the game.

In the third inning Garner made a pretty catch of a low, hard drive from Miller's bat. In the fifth Shirk drove out a single towards right field, and tried to stretch it into a two-bagger, but he was neatly caught at second by a faultless throw from Grim.

Bucknell took a lead of one run in the sixth inning and added two more in the seventh. Just to keep the interest up, Griffith put one over the left field fence for a home run.

For F. and M. Cook and Sitzer did the best work in the field, while at the bat Shirk had three out of the four hits. The umpiring of Mr. Garwood was satisfactory to both sides, and was much appreciated by the Bucknell boys, after the "roasting" which they received at the hands of the umpire at Villa Nova.

Appending is a bird's eye view of the game:

Field Day

Field Day will be held Saturday June 3rd, beginning at 2:00 o'clock. The entries must be handed to the manager, E. L. Peck, not later than Thursday, 6:00 p. m. and no contestant can enter more than two events. The captains of the different classes should see that their men are properly entered. This is a very good opportunity to get a line on our material for the dual meet with State next year so as many as possible should enter.

The I. C. A. A. A. rules will govern the contest and the meet shall consist of the following events and shall be run off in the I. C. A. A. A. order, which is as follows.

TRACK EVENTS.
100 yds. dash (heats)
120 yds. hurdle (heats)
1 mile run
440 yds. hurdle (final)
100 yds. dash (final)
220 yds. hurdle (heats)

The Beta Delta Pi Sorority, of the Institute, under the chaperonage of Mrs. Wm. C. Gretzinger, '87, and Miss Kate McLaughlin, '93, enjoyed a pleasant hack ride to Milton and return on Saturday afternoon. The party left in Horan's big hack, which was prettily decorated with the Sorority's colors, pink and green. They left at two o'clock, with "Jim" Stoughton handling the whip and reins, and returned at five o'clock. They made the streets of Lewisburg and Milton ring with the sorority's cry. The following young ladies were in the party: Misses Lucy Grier, Elizabeth Kremer, Emma McCright, Margaret Stein, Annie O'Neil, Mary Halfpenny, Helen Forrest and Aida Myers. Misses Nellie Dunkle and Mary Kelly, active members of the sorority, were unable to go on the trip.

The Festival.

The Finance Committee of the University athletic association will hold a grand festival in the Armory on Saturday evening, June 3rd. The tickets are being sold at fifteen cents each, and every one contains a coupon good for one dish of ice cream and cake. The association is still encumbered with a debt of four hundred dollars which should be cleared off before the end of the school year.

The annual festival of the Athletic Association will be held next Saturday evening in the armory. The students and their friends should give the affair liberal patronage. The association debt has been reduced from $750. to $400. and in order that the foot ball management may not be embarrassed next year, the entire debt should be wiped out by Commencement time.

We have been permitted to review an advance copy of L'Agenda. It is a very creditable piece of student literature, and the Century Class may well be proud of its Annual.

To Mr. Carringer, the editor-in-chief, and to Mr. Kress, the business manager, much praise is due for their laudable efforts in putting out a book that reflects credit upon the institution. To the entire board the thanks of the undergraduates are hereby extended for publishing a strictly clean, unadulterated L'Agenda. There are no faculty "roasts." Here and there one finds a little good natured fun.

Each year L'Agenda is growing to be more and more a students' record book. In fact, it is the student's catalogue. In it the students record annually those events within the year of its publication that make the Annual historically valuable in the future. In this respect this year's Annual is an improvement on former editions. It is dedicated to one of Bucknell's most distinguished alumni, the Hon. Simon P. Wolverton, of the class of 1860. A handsome steel engraving of Mr. Wolverton graces the book as a frontispiece. Each year L'Agenda is dedicated to some one person, either living or dead, who has had a large share in the development of the University. It is fitting that the annual this year should be dedicated to Mr. Wolverton. As a trustee he has been a faithful friend of the University, a regular attendant at the meeting of the board, where his wisdom and experience have been valuable to that body.

One of the most valuable things in this book, historically, is the part given to "Bucknell men in the War with Spain." It shows that Bucknell had representatives in this war who ranked from a Lieutenant-Colonel down to a private. A page is given to Co. A, 12th Regiment, P. V. I. A first glance at the roster of Bucknellians in this company, gives one the impression that it is a student company. An analysis shows that the University was represented in Co. A as follows: Captain; first lieutenant; first sergeant; three sergeants; five corporals; musician; sergeant-major, and fifteen enlisted men, making a total of twenty-eight.

All in all, L'Agenda this year is a well printed, well edited and well balanced book. It will take its place alongside of the other eight editions of L'Agenda and mark another step of advancement in student publications.

Class of '99 Re-union.

Rev. Chas. A. Walker, of the class of 1889, is arranging for the decennial re-union of that class. Although there were but fourteen men in the class, some of them have thus early in life achieved distinction: "Reddy" Abraham is a New York lawyer; "Joe" Ashton, "Tommy" Booth, "Lelny" Leinbach, "Jakey" Walker and "Ray" West, are well known Baptist preachers; "Gretz" wanted to be a lawyer but is still here at Bucknell; "Ollie" Flan is out west in the gold fields; "Hardy" Hargrave is a lawyer and a member of the State legislature—he also served with the 10th Regt. P. V. I., in the Philippines; "Tommy" Quintin is a lawyer in Scranton; "Heisty" Gule is a lawyer in Seattle, and speaker of the Washington State legislature. Jesse Shipman is a civil engineer; "Joey" Wolfe is assistant principal of the Vermont Academy; and "Wasey" Zeller is attorney for the Wildwood Beach Improvement Company.

Challenge from England.

On Saturday Captain Fisher, of the Yale track team, and Captain Roche, of the Harvard team, received word that a challenge for a track athletic meet with the English universities, Oxford and Cambridge, was on its way to the United States. The challenge specifies that the meet should be held at London about the middle of July. By the provisions of the challenge two teams are to be formed, one representing Yale and Harvard, the other Oxford and Cambridge, and but nine events will be contested. Any definite statement as to the possible result of this challenge is, of course, impossible until the permission of the two university faculties is given. It is said, however, that both Yale and Harvard are anxious to see the plan go through.—Ex.

It may not be very generally known,
but all drinking water used at the University is filtered. Several years ago the institution at considerable expense introduced large Pasteur filters in the College, Academy and Institute. Recently a Crystal Fountain filter was put in, in addition to the others. The water is cooled by an arrangement which does not permit the ice coming in contact with it, thus avoiding any possible contamination from molecular life held in suspension in the ice.

Inter-Class Field Meet.—1900 Victorious.

Before one of the largest audiences that has assembled on the campus this season the four classes of Bucknell University contested for the Mirror
cup. The pole vault and broad jump records were broken by Thels, Pearce and Sherwood. Riemer established a record of 4:58 for the mile run on the campus track, lowering Meeker's time of last year by one second. The Century class won the meet with 52 points to their credit, followed by 1902 with 38 points; 1901, 22, and '99 with 20.

The men were bunched at the finish of the 100 yard dash which was won by Grim, time 11 seconds; second, Weymouth 11 1-5 seconds; third, Stanton; fourth, Wassell. Wassell tripped at the beginning but recovered sufficiently to win fourth place.

The 120 yard hurdle was made interesting by the number of tumbles. Several of the boys ran this race for the first time. The first heat was taken easily by Sherwood. Schilling and Post fought for second, the former winning by a neck in the last ten yards.

In the second heat Conover led the way. Davis straddled the fourth hurdle and tumbled. Recovering he spurred and passed Trax just as the latter straddled a hurdle and rolled.

The second place was won by Davis with about five yards lead. In the finals Conover won in 16 4-5 seconds;
Sherwood, second, 17; Davis, third,
Schilling, fourth.

Riemer ran a fast race in the mile run, finishing over half a lap ahead of the rest, time 4:58. Shorkley took second; Snyder, third, and Robbins, fourth.

In the 440 yard dash Goodall set a stiff pace from the start, closely followed by Morris and Wassell. Goodall took first in 55 3-5 seconds; Wassell second, 57 1-5. Morris running easy took third and Anthony fourth.

The first and second places in the 220 yard hurdle belonged to Conover and Bunnell in 27 2-5 and 31 2-5. The race was between Davis and Schilling for third place, Davis taking it in the finish although pushed hard by Schilling.

The closest race of day was the 880 yard dash in which the first four men were neck and neck. Morris and Goodall fought for first throughout the last 220 yards, the latter winning out in 2:24 2-5 and Morris second in 2:25;
Riemer, third 2:26; and Shorkley,
fourth.

In the 220 yard dash the men all ran hard from the start. Pearce and Grim were close at the finish, 23 1-5 and 23 3-5 seconds respectively. Stanton and Pritchard hustled for third and fourth, Stanton taking it. The first two men won the race in the last fifty yards.

The shot put was captured by Cober, 31 ft., with Rowe just one inch behind. Elliott took third and Gray
fourth.

Thels broke the pole vault record of 9 feet by going over 9 feet 3 inches at second try. Leshar took second at 9 feet, with Bunnell third and Shields
fourth.

In the high jump Thels took first at 5 feet 6 inches.

State-Bucknell.

The State-Bucknell game on Thursday terminated in the sixth on account of Burns's disgraceful dilatory tactics. State has a good ball team, but to the lay mind it would seem as though Burns and Johnson could be greatly improved upon as gentlemen-ly players. Both of them are good examples of the genus, tough. Burns's record as a base-ball player is an unenviable one, and he didn't improve it any by his actions on Thursday.

A good crowd turned out to see the game and it seemed especially unfortunate that the rowdiness of these two players should rob the spectators of an opportunity to see the game.

Bucknell's playing wasn't exactly glit edged, although some of the individual work was good. Pritchard pitched and although he was batted freely, some of the State men would have been robbed of hits had Bucknell fielded the ball better. Garner made a catch in the first that bordered on the phenomenal while Bryan and Griffith handled the ball in a creditable way. State's batting was hard and timely and their fielding was clean and sharp.

The game opened with a hit by Johnson. Hayes caught his cue and did likewise. Blair followed but was put out on second; Burns filed to Conover, Johnson scoring the first run.
Miller popped a fly to Pritchard and Bucknell came in. They went out very soon though being retired in one, two, three order. In the second State didn't score, neither did Bucknell.

In the third inning got his base on Griffith's error. Johnson made a hit Hayes made a single, Blair hit a grounder to Griffith and was put out.
Burns made a hit and the inning finally wound up when Hewitt was forced out at second. State had succeeded in getting five runs this inning. Bucknell was blanked in the third and fourth, but in the fifth the fun began.
With one gone and two on base, Grim struck out, but Hayes dropped the ball and made a wild throw to first,
Davis and Pritchard scoring.

Stanton lifted one over Burns's head for a hit, and then Conover, becoming imbued with a desire to bang the sphere, drove one into the deep right just inside the foul flag, Stanton and Grim crossed the plate. State Messrs.
Burns and Johnson immediately set up a howl claiming that the ball was a foul. After much mouthing Burns and Johnson finally consented to continue the game. Garner hit the ball to Miller and was retired. State failed to score in the sixth, and when Bucknell came into bats Mr. Burns started towards the box to pitch. At this juncture things looked very much in favor of Jupiter Placens, and Burns began his dilatory tactics. He refused to pitch until the umpire would walk down and hand him a ball although Blair was standing at first with a ball in his hand. Burns's actions at this stage of the game were disgracefully babyish, but he was seemingly impervious to reason. State

Lewisburg Cycle Club vs. Bucknell.

Lewisburg Cycle Club was taken into camp on Decoration Day by the one-sided score of 21 to 1. Although the score was one-sided the game was not without its interesting features, for the Cycle Club includes in its make-up some base ball celebrities. Wilkinson in centre field made some sensational catches, Dr. Pearce at second pulled a hot one down and looked as pleased as though he were getting a quarter for the job. McQuiston and Halfpenny made a formidable battery, but unfortunately the Bucknell batters were fearless, and seemed to take a delectable delight in driving them out whenever Halfpenny got them near the plate.

Bucknell played a good game.
Griffith, especially, fielded his position in excellent style. Garner's work in the box was very effective, the cyclers connecting for but three hits.

In the first inning McQuiston drove a liner to second and was thrown out.
Dieffenber made a hit and was put out at second. Meyers hit a grounder to Griffith and was retired at first.

Bucknell's half of the first was a busy period for the Cycle Club. Conover drew a base on balls. Garner, Weidensaul and Bryan were hit by Halfpenny's winding curves. Griffith got his base on Wertz's error. Davis lifted one out into the green, considerably beyond third. Mathewson made a hit and Pritchard followed his example. Stanton singled and Bucknell began over. Conover bunted to Half-penny and was disposed of at first.

Garner drove a hot one to Dr. Pearce which was skilfully handled. Weidensaul's fly was fielded by "Wilkie" in a way that was decidedly sensational.
This retired the side but Bucknell had succeeded in scoring nine runs.

The Cycle Club scored their first and only run in the third inning but Bucknell kept right at it and when the game ended they had twenty-one runs to their credit. Score is appended.

The Class play entitled "Bucknell
Up to Date" will be given in the Opera House by the members of the Class on Tuesday morning, June 20, at 8 o'clock.

Bible Classes Next Year.

The Bible Study Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of the College presents herewith the plans for Bible Study Classes as outlined for next year. The work will be given in four classes and the following courses pursued:

The Seniors will take up the first half of Blakeslee's Inductive Courses in the "Teachings of Jesus."

The Juniors,—"Studies in Old Testament Characters" prepared by Prof. Wilbert White, Ph.D.

The Sophomores,—"Studies in Acts and Epistles" prepared by Prof. E. I. Bosworth, of Oberlin College.

The Freshmen,—"Studies in the Life of Christ" prepared by H. B. Shuman, Secretary of the Bible Study Department of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association.

These courses are all new, excepting the one to be pursued by the Seniors and are designed and arranged for individual, systematic and daily Bible Study. Classes will meet on Monday nights as heretofore and it is hoped that many of the students next year will see their need of this work and enter the classes.

KAPPA CHAPTER.

State College has secured the services of Sam Doyle, Univ. of Pa., as coach for '00. Recently a mass meeting was held at State, attended by alumni and under-graduates, for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm. After their victory over Princeton in baseball the entire student body met the train at Lemont and hauled the bus containing the team back to school.

5 feet 3 inches and Weymouth second, 5 feet 2 inches. Pearce at third carelessly dropped out at 5 feet, making his third trial immediately after the 220 yard dash. Shields was fourth.

Cober threw the hammer 92 feet winning first. Elliott, Rowe and Switzer took the next three places in order named.

Sherwood broke the broad jump record by going 20 feet 14 inches. Leshner won second on his last trial by making 19 feet 8 inches. Prichard took third at 18-10 and Robbins fourth.

Pearse broke Sherwood's record by jumping 21 feet 1 inch. This stands as the school record.

The Relay Race was the last event on the program and was between the Juniors and the Sophomores, the Freshmen flunking out. The first quarter was between Reading, '01, and Penrose, '00. The latter spurred away at the finish giving Wassell, '00, about twenty yards lead on the next lap.

Leshner, '01, started to catch Wassell and although gaining a little in the beginning did not hold it until the finish. Wassell turned his lead over to Sherwood, '00, and Snyder, '01, took up the race for the Sophomores. Here again the Juniors gained and Sherwood took the last lap. Riemer, '01, ran a hard race, doing his best to catch Shortley. He gained slowly but the handicap was too much and there was about fifteen yards between the two at the finish. Time: 4:03.

LOCALS.

G. Luther Freutenberger spent Sunday at his home in Tomauqua.

Mr. Pepper, of Ashland, visited his brother Vincent at the Academy, last week.

Rowe, '01, has left school to take a position at Beechwood Inn, Jenkintown, Pa.

Rex Wagner, and Murray, State College, '99, visited at the Z A E house Saturday.

Mr. Wilson, brother of Miss Clara Wilson, Institute, '99, is visiting friends in town.

Prof E. M. Hein will lecture at Eaglesmere Chautauqua this summer on the Public Administration of education.

Sam Wittenmeyer, Cad. '97, stopped over in Lewisburg Saturday, on his way to attend the Cornell Commencement.

Work will be started this week on the fire escapes to be erected on the College, Academy and Institute buildings. There will be nine fire escapes in all.

The Glee and Mandolin Club has been requested to repeat the Bucknell Hall concert in the Presbyterian church, Lewisburg, June 13th, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Samuel R. Wood, '96, to Miss Elizabeth F. Tyler, of North Chester, Pa., June 18th. Mr. Wood graduates from Crozer this year and is one of the Commencement speakers.

Invitations have been received in Lewisburg announcing the coming marriage of Prof. W. W. Kiehnner, Class of '97, principal of the Williamsport High School, to Miss Helen Vail Dunham, of New York City. The happy event is to take place June 14th at the home of the bride in New York City.

W. E. Thompson was called to his home in Pittston, Thursday morning, by the death of his brother Robert, who was killed by receiving a charge of electricity, due to crossed wires. The young man was studying electrical engineering and expected to attend a Technical school next year. The ORANGE AND BLUE extends its sympathies to Thompson in his trouble.

A Very Pleasant Affair.

Miss Aida Myers, Institute '96, entertained her numerous friends in the Armory Hall, Friday evening, June 2nd, in the most pleasant and successful dance of the season. The Hall was beautifully decorated with palms, greens and flags. The music was furnished by the Chappell's orchestra, only the latest and best productions being played. Among the guests were many of Miss Myers' B. A. H. Sorority sisters from foreign chapters. Of the college those who attended were the Σ X Fraternity, B. W. Griffith, A. R. Garner, E. L. Peck, M. B. Mulford, E. C. Amerman, Yencer Weidensaul and Harry Beck.

From the Academy were John Goodman, Siffer Walls, William Marsh, Harold Perrine and G. B. Miller, Jr. Of the local chapter of her Sorority the town members were present.

Academy Notes.
Joe Hazen took dinner at the Academy on Sunday.

Commencement drawing near, things are beginning to wear a bright aspect around the Academy, much credit being due to the arduous labors and unfailing efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Epps.
The boys at this time, before leaving, wish to express appreciation of their kindness in considering their comfort.
The boys who return next year to the Academy, hope to see them back here again.

Mrs. Edwards tendered a very pleasant reception to the Fourth Formers and friends on Thursday evening. The young people met in the Academy parlor at the appointed hour and at once proceeded to enjoy themselves. After partaking of a daintily prepared repast, the guests wended their way home, happy on account of the evening's pleasure, but sad on account of it being the last in the Academy.

Academy vs. Milton at Milton.

On the diamond better fitted for a boat race than a base-ball game the strong Academy team met its first defeat of the season at the hands of Milton Y. M. C. A. team. With the exception of the first inning our boys put up a strong game, playing with smay, even after the game seemed lost, that would do credit to the "Varsity" nine. Schilling, Milligan and Little deserve special mention, the latter by his fine twirling pulled himself out of tight places in the second and seventh innings. Hertz in left field did good work for Milton, robbing Stevens of a hit, which would have been, with ordinary fielding, a home run.

VOL. III.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1899.

NO. 35

Geo. M. Spratt, D. D.

Dr. Spratt died suddenly at his home in Philadelphia, Friday afternoon June 9th. Funeral services were held in the Fifth Baptist Church, Monday afternoon the 12th. His remains were brought to Lewisburg for interment, and services conducted by Pastor Judd and President Harris will be held this morning at 9:30 in the Baptist church.

George Main Spratt was born in Quebec, Canada, April 7, 1813. His father, George S. Spratt, M. D., had left England as medical missionary to the East Indies; but had settled as pastor of an "Independent" church, in Quebec, instead. Removing to Philadelphia, he was ordained a Baptist minister, and preached in Bridgeton, N. J., and in Pennsylvania for many years.

George M. was converted at 9, baptized at 15 in the Third Church, Philadelphia. In 1839 he entered Hamilton Institute N. Y., whether he had walked from Shamokin, Pa. The hardships of those student-days bore fruit in many years of devotion to the aid of young men of like ambition and of limited means.

Ordained as a missionary in Central Pennsylvania, he organized three churches, built three meeting-houses, and baptised many converts. He was pastor at Towamint, Pa., Elmira, and Fairport, N. Y.

His life-work was given to the education of the ministry. When he became secretary in 1851, the society was aiding twelve students, and collecting one thousand dollars annually. Its recent average is ninety students, and twelve thousand dollars. Then there were only three college graduates in the Baptist ministry in the state outside of Philadelphia; now 130 graduates in the same region, most of them educated by his society.

He was first married to Miss Abigail Reed of Northumberland county. For many years he resided in Lewisburg where his family was educated. Geo.
R. Spratt, M. D., Conestoga, was graduated in the University, class of 1890. Orlando W. Spratt, L. L. B., of Philadelphia in 1891. Harriet E.
Spratt, Institute, 1855, was teacher, 1855-1895, and principal 1896-1878 of the Ladies' Institute. She died 1878.

Alelaide was married to Mr. Christian Myers, of Philadelphia. She died 1884.
Their daughter Clara, Institute 1884, is now Mrs. Rev. Frank M. Goddard,
"B. U." '84, of New York City.

In 1899 the University at Lewisburg conferred upon Secretary Spratt the honorary degree of D. D.

As a trustee of the university since 1882 Dr. Spratt has rendered conspicuous service; first in raising the $50,000 that secured Mr. Bucknell's generous contributions to our endowment fund; and again in saving the campus from the proposed survey of the S. S. & L. R. R. If we owe the plan by which this disaster was averted to the genius of the late Hon. C. S.
Wolfe, we owe the consummation of the plan to Dr. Spratt, who interested friends, secured the purchase of adjoining properties, and the adoption of the present line of the railroad.

Dr. Spratt was methodical and systematic in all his affairs. He was an excellent business man, prompt in engagement, clear sighted in property interests. Schooled in the enforced economies of early life, he knew the value of money; yet was most generous in using it for large philanthropy.

He preserved a wonderful youthfulness of spirit, as well as unimpaired powers of mind and sense to the advanced age of 86. No one would associate such years with his active mind;
his quick ear, his hopeful and buoyant conversation. He long had been careful of his diet, and never permitted himself to be hurried. His association with the young seemed to have given him the spirit of eternal youth; rather he had drunk at the genuine fountain of youth—the divine optimism of Jesus, that counsel him to live in the future realization of his dreams, his hopes, his toils.

Reception to Pastor Judd.

In view of the fifteenth anniversary of the Rev. Mr. Judd's pastorate at the society known as the Perennials, the ladies of the Baptist church, tendered him a reception Tuesday evening, June 6th in the lecture room of the church. A large number of his friends responded to the invitations sent out including members of the other denominations as well as Baptists. The lecture room was prettily decorated and very crowded. At the pulpit a bank of greens and flowers was surmounted by the figures "1884-1899."
In front of this stood the receiving committee consisting of Pastor and Mrs. Judd, Mrs. J. A. Owens and Mrs. Loomis.

The young ladies served refreshments very suitable to the exceedingly warm evening and a short musical program was given. This consisted of several selections by the University Mandolin Club, a vocal solo by Mr. M. K. Fowler and a violin solo by Mr. J. B. Martin. The members in attendance and the enthusiasm manifested attest the appreciation in which Mr. Judd is held for his faithful and kindly work as pastor of the church.

The '99 Hand Book.

The hand book committee recognizes the universal satisfaction given by last year's hand book and have followed the same plan to a great extent. This year's issue will contain eighteen pages of printed matter, thirty-two of memorandum and about fifteen of advertising matter. It will be bound in solid leather, which, in addition to the facts and size will make a valuable pocket companion.

Important.

Several dollars are still outstanding due to the Athletic Association for tickets credited etc., which must be in by the close of the week. The Finance Committee wishes to apply this money to the debt. Please do not wait to be asked for your small sum. It is hoped that all who owe will have the amount ready when approached.

Bucknell 17—Milton 0.

The Bucknell-Milton game didn't even make a good practice game for the home team. Milton was easy, very easy but probably this can be accounted for to a large extent by the fact that their crack pitcher had his arm broken.

Spectators were few and far between and those that were there didn't work themselves up to any considerable degree of enthusiasm over the game.
Bucknell played good ball. Pritchard pitched a great game striking out thirteen of Milton's men, and his support was all that could be desired.
Bucknell batted the ball all over the field for a total of twenty hits, using up two of Milton's twirlers. For Milton Tenfel and Heckert played the best game, the former's work at short being as good as has been seen on the home grounds this season.

In the opening inning Bucknell didn't score because of a failure on the batter's part to help the runner to second.

In the second inning Griffith, the first man up, put one down to the path for a home run, and before the inning was over Davis succeeded in working his way around the bases for another run.

The third inning two more runs came in. Weidensaul knocked out a two bagger and Conover and Davis succeeded in getting singles. In the fourth Bucknell began a fusillade that only ended after Bucknell had batted out seven runs. The fifth yielded three more, but in the sixth they drew a blank. The last three runs were scored in the seventh.

In the death of the Rev. George Main Spratt, D. D., Trustee of Bucknell University for 17 years, Corresponding Secretary of the Pennsylvania Baptist Education Society for 40 years, the faculty of "Bucknell University" recognize the loss of a generous promoter of higher Christian education, and extend their sympathy to the family deprived of his presence.

As Secretary of the Education Society his intimate relations to students for the Christian ministry have endeared his memory to hundreds of men helped by his counsel and sympathy, no less than by the aid of which he was the kind almoner.

To the instructor he was ever a most valuable confidant, stimulating students to earnest effort by his own splendid example; and helping them to overcome every obstacle, by his invigorating confidence in their success.

As a preacher and writer he was concise, direct, suggestive and convincing. His cause was always near his heart; and his effort was to communicate his own enthusiasm to his hearers or his readers. His annual reports, nearly fifty in number, are affluent in argument; in notices, in appeals to the highest impulses of Christian people. They reveal a high ideal for the Christian ministry, in culture, in earnestness, in equipment and in consecration. They constitute the autobiography of a great soul, struggling with sacrificial spirit for the well being of his fellow-men, and the glory of his God and Savior.

Dr. Spratt was a masterful man of affairs, of native energy, of surest fact, and of tenacious purpose. He inspired confidence by his personal reliability, his frank and open truthfulness, and his broad sympathies. To the men of business he imparted faith in investments in men, in culture and in character.

As a trustee of the University he has won our esteem and gratitude for his progressive spirit, his signal services in promoting our resources, his interest in the extension of education to every sphere of usefulness, and to every class and condition in the community. Collegiate Christian Education is more highly esteemed in the world for his long and earnest championship. That it continued to meet his expectations during so long a period of progressive change, attests not only its inherent value, but also the growth and expansion of his own mind that knew no weakness or infirmity.

Our institution is enriched by the memory of one more heroic soul who loved it, and lived for it, and died with gentle thought and prayer for it.

Minute adopted by the Faculty of Bucknell University June 12th, 1899.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. departed from the usual custom by holding the weekly meeting on the campus at 6:45 o'clock. Mr. Dutton, '98, presided and gave a brief account of the International Y. M. C. A. Convention held at Grand Rapids, Michigan. Some of the leading Christian men of the country, representing many departments of life, were present and took active part in convention. Among these was Capt. Phillips, of the Battleship Texas, who is a member of the Army and Navy Department of the International Committee of Y. M. C. A.

At the close of Mr. Dutton's address Messrs. Purdy, Meserve and Rawlinson, members of the Senior Class, who are also Student Volunteers gave reasons why they expect to become missionaries. Mr. Anderson, '98, closed with a few remarks along the same line. The meeting Tuesday evening being the last of the year will be given up to the Seniors.

Twilight Concert Saturday.

The University band will give a twilight concert next Saturday evening at 6 o'clock on the campus. They will also play several selections at Third and Market Sts., before the concert. The following is the program subject to change:

Statement of the Senior Committee on Music.

On Tuesday evening, June 20th, during the intervals between the sections of the Ninth Regt. Band, the Mantle ceremony will take place on the campus under the direction of the graduating class.

As a fitting conclusion to these exercises, the class will sing—"Orange and Blue" by Dr. Aviragnet and Miss Bartol. An accompaniment will be played by the band. It is the plan of the class to have every son and daughter, every undergraduate and alumnus, of "Old Bucknell" unite with the Graduating Class in singing the chorus on that occasion.

The presidents of the various classes in Bucknell University are requested hereby to call mass meetings of their respective classes to practice this chorus, and to confer with the chairman of this committee without delay to arrange a time and place for holding one grand mass meeting for practice.

Dr. Aviragnet will take entire charge of these practices. This occasion will afford an excellent opportunity for every Bucknell student to pay a pretty tribute to "Old Bucknell."

For further particulars see some members of the committee:
MISS BERTHA WATKINS,
MISS GERTRUDE STEPHENS,
CHAS. P. MESERVE,
HOWARD MESERVE,
EDWIN L. NESBIT, Chairman.

Orange and Blue.

Hail to the colors that usher the morning!
Orange and Blue in the gates of the day.
Sing to the colors, the sunset adorning:
Orange and Blue lend the matchless array.

Clio.—Hold up the colors of Bucknell on high:
Orange and Blue till they dazzle the eye.
Shout for old Bucknell. Merry old Bucknell!

Ring out her sky-rocket cry.
Hail to the colors the rainbow bends o'er us:
Orange and Blue on its arches of light.
Sing to the stars as they ride on before us:

Orange and Blue in the glimmering night.
Sing to the colors that dance in the waters:
Orange and Blue where the bright ripples play.
Sing to fair Bucknell, her sons and her daughters:
Orange and Blue in the thick of the fray.

Sing to the maidens who live in her story:
Brimming blue eyes in our visions we see.
Sing to the gridlin' mad battle for glory:
Orange and Blue in the wild victory.

Friends of Poddie will be very sorry to learn that Professors Harvey L. Fassett and Frederick B. Hunt will not return next year. They have been known for years as two of the most valuable members of the faculty, and their departure to other fields of usefulness will be regretted by pupils and teachers alike. During the years of their work at Poddie they have made untold records as able instructors and have gained the respect of all with whom they have come in contact, and the school will distinctly feel the loss of two such efficient teachers.

Outside of the school they have made many friends in the town who will wish them every success.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY,

VOL. IV.

LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1899.

NO. 1.

President Harris' Address.

The opening address of the term was given in Bucknell Hall Monday morning immediately after chapel by Dr.
Harris. As has been the case since the first chapel Friday morning, the seating capacity was taxed to its utmost. The subject of the address was "Character," and we give below some of the many valuable thoughts pointed out to us by our learned teacher and esteemed president.

The purpose of education is character. The pictures and statues in the halls and institutions of learning should be the pictures and statues of scholars and poets and literateurs, but I think as the object of education, especially the college education, is character, developing men of action, that men of action should have their place, and a very large place, among those whom the students daily learn to admire, and admiring to imitate.

Character is completely fashioned will. Character is will, is an expression for the fact that a man can act according to an idea, according to an idea of law. All other things, as Kant has explained, act according to law, but man can act according to his idea of law. It is a word used to express the fact that man can choose an object;
a man can choose to be a physician, a lawyer or an agriculturist and can start towards that end, and that he can also determine for himself any minor choices: the term will is merely an expression for that fact and the complete fashioning of this will is character.

Man in relation to his will may be considered either individually or in relation to others. In relation to society and in relation to God. Considered individually, man inherits a temperament, a certain disposition.
He may be sanguine; he may be phlegmatic; slow to reason; impulsive from within and slow to react upon them; or he may be of a choleric temperament, not so ready to receive impulses from without but quick and strong in his reactions. Whatever temperament he inherits, that becomes a part of his character to be developed and improved and not to be submitted to. He must not for that reason neglect also to be socialized.

The will must not only be civilized but must also be moralized. There is a difference between this and morality.
Morality has reference to principle, to to right, to duty. Its key word is duty. What I owe. What I ought to do, and that is the supreme work.
And because a person is moralized he must not for that reason neglect also to be socialized.

The will is also in relation to the divine and no will is perfectly founded unless it is also founded in relation to the Supreme Being. Conscience and right and duty form the logical transition because every man is religious-religious because he is created of God in that way. Men naturally pray because they are born in that way. Men of action, men of will are as a general thing especially religious.
They have a belief in a higher power,
in a Destiny, as Napoleon called it;
others will call it Fate, Providence, God, but great reformers, great actors, men who cast their eyes out into the future for hundreds and thousands of years must have faith that the world is grounded in righteousness, that however things may seem, and they do seem at times very strange, the world is founded in righteousness and right and over wrong.

proportion choose the difficult subjects quite generally here. We have to accustom ourselves to things we don't like. A large part of our education is in doing things we do not like and keeping on strenuously until we do like them.

In the development of energy of will a man must act for himself. It is a mistake for several students to study together. There is always one of them a little quicker than the others and the loss is with the others.

There is an inner energy as well as this outer energy. The inner energy is in the form of attention, a matter which especially concerns students. Mathematics is the discipline for attention.
It requires careful attention and study.
Light reading is not that which injures; it is the reading lightly. You must learn to pursue your train of thought without making any external matter an object of yourself.

The power of concentration must be developed. A man must be able to pursue his own intellectual course without making these an object to himself.

Will considered from the social standpoint; that is man is not to live a solitary life in the world but is to live in the world of men and so his interaction will not be with things which he can modify. We must deal with men and if he goes at them with a sledge hammer he will find another sledge hammer going in the opposite direction.

Man must be civilized or socialized and he must also be moralized in his will. Civilization and socializing is to train the man so that he will submit his natural egotism or egoism and natural selfishness to the rights and feelings of other people and to the social usages which have grown up among the people with whom he associates.

At a cabinet meeting of the Y. M.
C. A. on Saturday afternoon it was decided to reorganize the association on a more business like basis of membership. Hereafter, just as in the city associations, membership continues only so long as the dues are paid and may be renewed by the payment of the term due some time during the term in which they join. This plan has been suggested by the International Committee and is being very widely adopted throughout the college associations. The regular dues of our association are twenty-five cents per term or one dollar paid in advance includes the dues for one year and a year's subscription to "The Intercollegian," the organ of the college
Y. M. C. A., the subscription price of which is fifty cents per year. This paper is invaluable to one who wishes to keep in touch with this college movement. Mr. Switzer is chairman of the membership committee and will receive the names of those desiring to join. Every student is eligible to membership.

During the summer extensive repairs were made to the second and third floors of the main building of the Institute. The transformation of these two stories was hailed with delight by the students, both old and new.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The new Y. M. C. A. hand book for 1900, can be secured from Shields, Harvey or Ulmer for 5c a copy.

The new Y. M. C. A. Hall has taken definite shape at the southern end of the new dormitory building, first floor.

On Tuesday evening the first regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be led by E. D. Soper, College Secretary
State Y. M. C. A. It will be a Bible Study Rally.

A students' rally was held in Bucknell Hall on Sunday afternoon led by Mr. Cyril H. Huas of the class of '99, of Susquehanna University. The attendance was very good and a large proportion of new men were present.

The annual college Y. M. C. A. Reception was held in the Literary Society Halls on Saturday evening. It opened with an informal reception to the students followed by a program of music and speeches. The Mandolin and Guitar Quintet, Messrs. Schilling, Sherwood and Pearce, 1900, Meschter,
'01, and Harvey, '92, played several pieces. Morris, 1900, presided over the meeting and after a few words of welcome called upon Mr. Vincent B. Fiske for a short talk. The boys were introduced to the Faculty by Sherman, 1900, in a witty and entertaining manner. Harvey, 1900, President of the Association, explained what the object of the meetings was and how they were to be improved upon this year so far as possible.

Refreshments were served in an exceedingly informal manner and class yells aided in their disposal. Each new student present was individually introduced to the boys by Mr. Morris.
Acquaintance was aided greatly by the cards bearing the name and class of the student pinned upon his coat lapel.

THE FOOT BALL OPENING.

Bucknell 22-Wyoming 0.

The first game on Bucknell's schedule for the season of 1899 was played Saturday afternoon on the campus, Wyoming seminary being the opposing team. Promptly at 2:30 p. m. the game started. Messrs. Hoskins and Jennings acting as the officials. The first half was greatly marred by constant fumbling on both sides, resulting, however, more disastrously for Wyoming than for Bucknell; on two of Wyoming's fumbles, near their own goal, the ball was secured by our backs and carried over the line-Weymouth and Sherwood being the fortunate men. The aggressive work would have been better had it not been for the unfortunate fumbling which lost Bucknell the ball almost as soon as it was gained. Outside of the two touchdowns gained on Wyoming's fumbles, the first half closed without either side scoring. Stanton made a beautiful block of a punt, by breaking through just as Taggart was kicking the ball. The ball bounding back after striking him was secured by Gillis, close to Wyoming's goal line.

Mathewson did not succeed in kicking a goal from either touchdown in this half, as they were at a rather difficult angle. First half closed 10-0 in favor of Bucknell.

During the second half several substitutions were made. Armour took Taylor's place at tackle, Freuden-berger relieved Sherwood at end and Weymouth was replaced by Teufel.
Which better team work was displayed during this half, and decidedly less fumbling. The men got together better, making constant gains, resulting in two well earned touchdowns, from which Bunell kicked two nice goals. This half was decidedly more interesting, Mathewson's running with the ball, as well as his kicking, being especially noteworthy features.
Williams, of Wyoming also did fine work in breaking Bucknell's line and play.

The game indicated what the boys can do with a little more practice, and the prospects all seem to be for a successful year.
